Come take up your Hats, and away let us haste,
To the Butterfly's Ball, and the Grasshopper's feast.

THE BUTTERFLY'S BALL,
— and the —
GRASSHOPPER'S FEAST.

*Printed for J. Harris, corner of
St. Paul's Church Yard,
Jan^y 1st 1807.*

The Trumpeter Gad-Fly has summon'd the crew,
And the Revels are now only waiting for you.

On the smooth-shaven Grass by the side of a Wood,
Beneath a broad Oak which for ages had stood,
See the Children of earth and the tenants of Air,
To an evening's amusement together repair.

And there came the Beetle, so blind and so black,
Who carried the Emmet, his friend on his back.

And there came the Goat, and the Dragon-Fly too,
And all their relations, Green, Orange, and Blue.

And there came the Moth, with her plumage of down,
And the Hornet, with Jacket of Yellow and Brown.

Who with him the Wasp, his companion did bring,
But they promis'd that evening, to lay by their sting

Then the sly little Dormouse peep'd out of his hole .
And led to the feast, his blind cousin the Mole .

And the Snail, with her horns peeping out of her shell,
Came, fatigu'd with the distance the length of an ell.

A mushroom the table, and on it was spread,

A water-dock leaf, which their table cloth made.

The viands were various to each of their taste .

And the Bee brought the honey to sweeten the feast

With steps most majestic the Snail did advance,
And he promis'd the gazers a minuet to dance;
But they all laugh'd so loud that he drew in his head,
And went in his own little chamber to bed.

Then, as ev'ning gave way, to the shadows of night,
Their watchman, the Glow-worm, came out with his light.

So home let us hasten, while yet we can see ;
For no watchman is waiting for you or for me .
