WHAT IS IT

A compound Fluid Extract of Roots, Leaves and Barks, among which is especially mentioned that well-known root of rare purifying power—Burdock—whose specific action is exerted in a marked manner upon the Blood and the Kidneys, combined with other valuable vegetable products of nature's laboratory, the woods and fields, whose medicinal virtues are skillfully compounded by the most exhaustive scientific process.

It dispels all foul humors from the system, and is the most successful medicine known that acts at once at the same time upon the Bowels, the Liver, the Skin and the Kidneys, while it imparts strength and vigor during its purifying process.
