SERVICE FROM A NEW BOOKMOBILE . . .

In 1989 a new Bookmobile replaced the old vehicle which had been in service for more than twenty years. The bright white and blue vehicle carries a stock of 3,100 items, is accessible to the handicapped, and travels to sixteen stops throughout the City.

The Bookmobile provides consistent and easy access to public library services for residents who are unable to visit library branches because of age, physical limitation, distance or isolation. Bookmobile stops include plaza locations, day care centres, seniors' residences and community centres.

The vehicle is a travelling advertisement of library services through its personalized license plates "USE EPL".

CIRCULATION 1980 - 1989

Aspiring Authors Assisted . . .

Canadian author and poet Mary di Michele was contracted by the Library to serve as a writer-in-residence from September to December 1989. The programme was primarily funded by the Ontario Ministry of Culture and Communications.

Ms. di Michele conducted programmes, workshops, author readings and personal interviews to help develop the skills and confidence of local, aspiring writers. This venture was very successful, reaching a wide audience of City residents and helping at least one resident to get work published.

Looking to the Future . . .

As a result of a major planning exercise, public library service in Etobicoke will focus on two major roles:

- To be recognized as the principal information agent in the City of Etobicoke
- To be recognized as a source of support for the individual's use of leisure time

In 1989 a survey of key people in Etobicoke's service sector confirmed that the Library could efficiently and effectively carry out these roles.

The survey was part of an ongoing process to ensure that the Library can continue to respond to the unique needs of Etobicoke's various communities. Together with the goals of the library system, it will be used to develop improved services, collections and programmes.

Reaching Out . . .

The first stage of an ongoing campaign to register every child in Etobicoke for a library card was entered in 1989. During visits to library branches, Grade One students were given library cards, a tour of the facilities and services and a chance to ask questions about the benefits of using the library.

Since use of the public library at an early age will encourage a lifelong enjoyment of reading, the campaign will continue in 1990 as part of International Literacy Year celebrations.

Business Services Expanded . . .

Public library services to Etobicoke's business community were enhanced through increased information assistance, programmes and materials. Several new data bases were added to the computerized information service, providing easy access to current financial and business related data from national and local sources.

In expanding its resources, the Library is attempting to assist the business community to operate in a changing and complex environment.
