1833.

TO THE RIGHT HONOURABLE THE LORDS OF HIS MAJESTY'S MOST HONOURABLE PRIVY COUNCIL FOR TRADE, &c.

MY LORDS,

WHEN I had first the honour to be intrusted by your Lordships with the important duty of organizing and conducting an Office for obtaining and arranging Statistical Returns, in order to exhibit, in a systematic form, Statements bearing upon the condition and various interests of the British Empire, your Lordships were pleased to direct that my first attention should be bestowed upon making such a selection from the Sessional Volumes of the House of Commons as would furnish a suitable groundwork for future labours, and supply comparative data for the Statements of future years.

In proceeding to comply with those directions, I have carefully examined the contents of the 304 bulky folio volumes in which the Sessional Papers of the twelve years from 1820 to 1831 are contained, and have besides had recourse to other authentic and official sources for acquiring information upon matters which those volumes do not embrace, but which appear to be necessary towards the completeness of such a work as your Lordships desired to have compiled. The two principal objects which I have kept in view while performing this task have been to secure the greatest attainable accuracy, and to comprise in the selection every important point of Statistical information within reach.

It cannot be requisite to point out the advantages that must result to the Government and Legislature of every country from the possession of accurate information upon all those points of national interest which are comprehended under the name of Statistics.

That the Members of both Houses of Parliament are fully aware of these advantages is evident from the extent of the Returns called for during every Session. Those printed during twelve years, from 1820 to 1831 inclusive, and from which a considerable portion of the following pages has been compiled, occupy, as already mentioned, 304 bulky folio volumes; while the Sessional Papers for the past year (1832) extend to 48 volumes. Many documents of the greatest importance are contained therein, some of which exemplify the growth and extent of our Commerce and Manufactures, and afford information concerning the number, classes, and condition of our population, while they are accompanied by other Statements of scarcely inferior value, so that the study of them could hardly fail to prove instructive upon most subjects connected with the business of Government and Legislation. Unfortunately, however, their bulk, and the miscellaneous mode of their arrangement, are such as must deter from their examination most of those persons who are otherwise engaged in the performance of active duties, but who could therefore best profit from the study; and documents, which have been collected at a considerable expense of money and labour, are thus, in a great degree, unproductive of the benefits which they might be found capable of affording.

In order to place the contents of the following compilation in a form calculated to impart the greatest amount of useful information with the smallest degree of labour, a tabular arrangement has been adopted, and the Statements are brought together in such a manner as to admit of comparison being readily made between similar matters occurring in the different years embraced by the compilation.

It is conceived that this purpose of comparison is sufficiently answered, as regards the greatest part of the Statements, by carrying them back to the beginning of the year 1820. Where any particular reason has presented itself for so doing, an earlier period has been adopted; but if the whole had been taken up from an anterior date, the labour would have been more than proportionally increased, through the greater degree of complication wherein the Public Accounts of previous years are involved; and the volume would have been made so bulky as to have subjected it to one of the serious objections urged against the Returns in their original form.

The examination to which the Sessional Papers have been submitted for the purpose of compiling this Abstract, has shown that the information they possess is, in several cases, far from being complete. This defect has, doubtless, arisen from the unsystematic manner in which many of the Returns have been required, occasioning them to be framed so as to suit the passing occasion, or to illustrate the particular views of individuals. Returns of the same nature have, for instance, been made sometimes to comprehend the whole of the United Kingdom, and at other times to restrict the information to Great Britain. Occasionally, too, a link is wanting, without which it is impossible to arrive at any satisfactory conclusion upon the subject with which it is connected. An attempt has been made to remedy these defects, as far as possible, in the following pages.

If a comparison should be made between these Tables and the volumes which have formed the groundwork of the compilation, many discrepancies will be observed. To account for this circumstance, it may be mentioned that the most important among the Statements have been referred to the different departments whence they emanated; and having thus the advantage of examination after time has been allowed for adjusting differences and verifying calculations, the Tables now presented are more likely to prove correct than Statements drawn out at the very moment, perhaps, when the matters have occurred.

Voluminous as the Parliamentary Sessional Volumes are, there are many subjects of considerable importance to the well-being of the Country, as to which their information is scanty and unsatisfactory. The condition of our Colonial Possessions has been made the subject of only occasional inquiry, so that the knowledge to be gleaned respecting them is partial and insulated, affording no data for instituting comparisons between different periods of time.

Such information of a Statistical nature as Government possesses with respect to our Colonies has been examined, and, as far as possible, has been made available to the general object. It is to be regretted that this information has, for the most part, been received in a form which unfits it for being so applied; but the attention of His Majesty's Government having been given to this subject, arrangements have been made for procuring authentic intelligence upon all points connected with the commerce and internal condition of each Colony, and the knowledge thus acquired will in future be at the disposal of this department.

This volume may be considered as the first-fruit of an attempt to arrange and systematize the Returns obtainable from the various branches of his Majesty's Government, with the view of presenting them in a practically useful form to Parliament. It is proposed to follow up its presentation by immediately printing another volume, containing those occurrences in detail, for the year 1832, which are here given in a more concentrated form for the twelve preceding years.

A similar volume to this last mentioned will be prepared annually, with the hope of simplifying the labours of Parliament, by supplying, at the earliest possible moment after its meeting, connected Statements with regard to all those points of a Statistical nature which have usually claimed its attention, and which, as they will be given for the purpose of imparting general information, will be freed, in a great degree, from the obscurity which must accompany documents framed for the purpose of answering particular objects.

Every diligence will be used to ensure the early production of these annual volumes, but it will be evident that some time must elapse after the close of every year before detailed and accurate Statements can be collected from the various quarters of the empire. This disadvantage must necessarily operate more forcibly at the commencement of the plan, than it will after time shall have been afforded for perfecting the necessary arrangements.

No pains will be spared to render these attempts deserving of confidence on the part of the Legislature. Imperfections they will doubtless exhibit, but the necessary vigilance will be used to remedy these from time to time by such means as experience may suggest, or as may be pointed out by members of the bodies for whose more immediate use the compilations will be made.

I have the honour to be,

My Lords,

Your Lordships' most obedient and very humble Servant,

G. R. PORTER.

PRODUCE OF STAMPS. DUTY, 1820—1831.

The apparent difference between the sum of the individual amounts in this Account and the total produce of each year's collection, arises from the omission of all fractional parts of a pound.

The above Statement is taken, as regards the years 1820 to 1823 inclusive, from the Fourteenth Report of the Commissioners of Revenue Inquiry. For subsequent years, recourse has been had to the Finance Accounts annually laid before Parliament.

The Bounty given to the 5th April, 1832, was four shillings per Cwt. for Fish cured dried, and two shillings and sixpence per Barrel for Fish cured in pickle when taken by the crews of Vessels not claiming the Tonnage Bounty. Of these deductions the greater part is for winding, which is generally done in the family. The principal articles of manufacture, and the earnings of men of ordinary skill, working 12 hours per day, have formed the basis of this statement. A considerable portion of the weaving of plain goods is performed by women and children, and their earnings will be according to their strength and skill. By "Fancy Goods" is meant, figured patterns, where the mounting the loom is a considerable expense to the workman.

No separate account is kept of the number of Calves sold, but only of those brought into the market, the average of which for the last ten years is 21,526, exclusive of those denominated Sucklers, and which are generally sold with the Cows.
 The number of Horses brought to the market for sale is estimated to be from 12,000 to 13,500 annually, but no account is kept of the number sold, it not being obligatory to register the sale.
 No account is kept of the total number of Pigs sold in the market, but only of those chargeable with the toll, viz. those sold by non-freemen, brought from places where no exemption from the payment of the toll is claimed.
 The annual average number for the last ten years on which Toll has been received is 23,980, and is presumed to be about 2-5ths of the whole number brought for sale.

a No general Account of the Trade between Ireland and Great Britain can be rendered for the period subsequent to 1825, the commercial intercourse between the two countries having, from the termination of that year, been assimilated by law to a coasting traffic. The particulars of Imports and Exports, exhibited in the foregoing statement for 1829, are consequently, with two exceptions, confined to the direct trade with Foreign Parts; the exceptions being, in the list of Exports, the article of Corn, which is exempted from the general tenour of the Coasting Regulations; and in the list of Imports, the article of Coals, which is subject to a Coasting Duty.

An ACCOUNT of the NUMBER and TONNAGE of VESSELS Entered Inwards and Cleared Outwards in the Ports of Ireland for the Year 1801, and for every Fourth Year of the subsequent period, until 1829, inclusive, and for the Years 1830 and 1831; distinguishing the Trade with Great Britain from the Trade with Foreign Parts.

Note.—The view which this Statement affords of the Average Consumption of the Periods, terminating on 5th January, 1830, and 5th January, 1832, is to a certain extent defective, inasmuch as the Coasting Regulations, by which the Cross Channel Trade has been governed since the year 1825, prevent the keeping of any record of Goods imported Duty Free from Great Britain, either in the case of British Productions, or of Foreign Merchandise, upon which Duty has already been paid in a British Port. Of the Articles included in the present Account, those in respect to which the comparison is most affected by this circumstance, are Refined Sugar, Flax Seed, Cotton Wool, Cotton Yarn, Woollen Yarn, Raw and Thrown Silk, and Unwrought Iron.

The Consumption of Tea in Ireland cannot be ascertained for any Annual Period later than the year ended 5th January, 1828, a regulation having been established in the course of the following year, which requires that Tea, destined for Consumption in Ireland, shall be charged with Duty in Great Britain previously to its delivery from the Warehouses.

The Consumption of Coals cannot be shown for any year subsequent to 1830, it having ceased to be ascertainable on the discontinuance of the Coasting Duty.

STATEMENT of the RATES of DUTY chargeable on the following ARTICLES CONSUMED in IRELAND, during the Triennial Periods, terminating on the 25th of March, 1790 and 1800, and the 5th of January, 1810, 1820, 1826, and 1830, and the Biennial Period, terminating on the 5th of January, 1832, respectively, viz. Wine, Spirits, Foreign and Home Made, Tobacco, Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Flax Seed, Cotton Yarn, Cotton Wool, Woollen and Worsted Yarn, Silk, Raw and Thrown, Iron Unwrought, Timber, Deals, and Coals.

* In the year 1828 there was a great scarcity of Potatoes in Leinster, and also in the South of the Kingdom. In Connaught there was a great abundance, from whence there was brought by the Royal Canal to and towards Dublin 22,291 Tons 16 Cwts., which seasonable relief could not have been afforded but through the medium of this Navigation, and for which the Company only charged 2s. 6d. per Ton. The principal Commodities Conveyed to Dublin by the Royal Canal are Grain, Meal, Flour, Butter, Potatoes, Eggs, Turf, Timber, Bricks and Stone. Merchandize of every description is forwarded from Dublin.
