Proprietors of the Celebrated

CARRATRACA MINERAL SPRINGS, PLANTAGENET, ONT.

CARRATRACA!

THE well-known WATERS from the CARRATRACA SPRINGS of Plantagenet, Ontario, stand unrivalled in a sanitary point of view, producing effects which are peculiarly their own, and which are not approached by any of the various known waters, either in Canada or the United States. Being the most pleasing beverage possible to be had at all seasons; as a valuable remedial agent in cases of Rheumatism, Gout, Strumous and Glandular Complaints, Epilepsy, Leprae, and various diseases of the Skin, &c., &c., their merits are acknowledged wherever used. Being the most richly mineralized of all the Canadian or American Mineral Waters, their use is attended with certain success in every case of Acidity, Dyspepsia, Gravel, Diabetes, Diseases of the Liver, &c., and in nearly every description of Disease of the Kidneys they are invaluable. In fact, there is hardly any condition of the body that positive benefit will not result from their use; and there is nothing more certain than that, under no circumstances, can any harm result from their use even by the most delicate.

These waters have been locally known for OVER HALF A CENTURY, and now being on sale throughout the Dominion, and in many of the principal cities of the United States, the attention of all persons is respectfully called to them, and a trial solicited.

The Works of this Company are completely and fully equipped with Machinery and Tools, for building Railway Locomotives and Cars on the most approved principles, and with facility and despatch.

We have two designs for BROAD GAUGE ENGINES, both of which we confidently recommend to Railway Companies, as the best adapted machines for the peculiarities of road and climate of the Railways of the Dominion. They are both substantially the same Engine, but one has outside and the other inside connexions, to suit the various tastes of Mechanical Engineers on this point.

We have also lately designed and prepared Working Drawings and Specifications for a NARROW GAUGE ENGINE (3 ft. 6 in. gauge), which has been prepared with a view to cheapness, without sacrificing efficiency.

We also build Locomotives and Cars to any Drawings and Specifications that may be furnished us.

We have already built Locomotives for all the principal Railways in the Dominion, as will be seen from the following list, viz.:

Grand Trunk, Great Western, Nova Scotia, Northern, St. Lawrence and Ottawa, Port Hope and Lindsay, Cobourg and Peterborough.

LOVELL'S SERIES OF DIRECTORIES.

Dominion, Provincial, County, City, and Town Directories.

THE want of accurate, reliable and intelligible Local Directories has been commonly felt and generally expressed by all classes in Canada, and only in a less degree by the inhabitants of the neighboring Provinces. Indeed the complaint has become so common, and the requests to remove it so urgent, that the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY has determined to make the experiment, and discover for himself what encouragement may be expected for such books as the commercial public have very generally concurred in asking for. Should the first experiment turn out satisfactorily, it is the Publisher's intention to follow it systematically, and at stated periods, with new and enlarged editions of the same works. He begs further to say that whether such Directories be general in their character, like the Dominion Directory, or local, like the Provincial Directories, or Municipal, like the County, City or Town Directories, they will in either and all cases be prepared with the greatest care, constructed on the simplest plan, printed in a uniform manner and bound according to a uniform pattern,

As the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY is thoroughly acquainted with the modes in which information for such uses should be obtained, and as he has accumulated an immense stock of the requisite materials, and gathered about him a reliable body of men, who by constant employment as agents or artizans, have made themselves practically acquainted with every branch of this department of industry, he is able to offer guarantees of ability to satisfy the commonly expressed want by printing and publishing accurate, reliable and intelligible Directories.

The Publisher has no hesitation in guaranteeing as thorough correctness as it is possible to attain, and respectfully points to the accompanying Directory as an example of the character of the work and of the workmanship he will study to maintain in the projected series. Intimation from merchants and gentlemen in localities where the want of a Directory is recognized, would be accepted as a special favor, and acted upon wherever practicable.

HUBBUCK'S PATENT WHITE ZINC PAINT.

By a process, which is patented, the pure White Zinc Paint is cheaper than White Lead. It is the most durable and beautiful paint known, and does not stain or discolor with the London atmosphere.

Those direful maladies, Paralysis and Painters' Colic, which destroy health and entail suffering and misery on posterity, will be entirely avoided. Apartments may now be immediately occupied without danger. It is entirely free from any poisonous or pernicious property.

ADULTERATIONS.—Several Paint Grinders have been selling Zinc Paint adulterated with Sulphate of Barytes, some even to the extent of thirty per cent. No workman can produce good work with such material. Those who have once used Hubbuck's patent Zinc Paint will never willingly use any other Paint for their best work.

To prevent the prejudice which the inferior article must produce, each cask of pure White Zinc Paint is stamped—

"HUBBUCK, LONDON, PATENT."

Inferior Zinc Paint so marked, having been sold in Foreign Markets, the Patentees offer a reward of FIFTY POUNDS for information which shall lead to the conviction in an English or Colonial Court of those who have pirated their mark. It is to be observed that both exporters and dealers are liable for its sale.

THOMAS HUBBUCK & SON,
WHITE LEAD, OIL, AND VARNISH WORK, 24 LIME STREET, LONDON, ENGLAND.

"For public schools, and all rooms occupied by children, there will now be no excuse for using poisonous paints. Parents have remarked that their children, on returning from the country to newly painted houses, have suffered in health. The reason is evident; the breath extracts the poison from White Lead even after the paint is dry, and the lungs draw in the deadly vapour.

"Among other tests to which it has been subjected, has been that of painting the hold of a sugar vessel, which, after a voyage to St. Kitt's and back, was found, after washing, to be as white as the first day the paint was applied."—John Bull, September 14, 1850.

HUBBUCK'S ANTI-CORROSIVE PAINTS,

The most valuable protection to Iron Roofs, Bridges, Piers, Ships and Buildings, exposed to stormy weather and scorching sun; they soon become extremely hard, do not blister, and are very durable. They are made of Stone, Slate, Copper, White, Blue, Green, or any other Color that is desired.

HUBBUCK'S PALE BOILED OIL

Has less color than Raw Linseed Oil, is a quick, hard and certain drier, and the only Boiled Oil, suitable for White and Light Paints.

PAINTS AND OILS PROPERLY PACKED FOR EXPORTATION.

EDWARD GRAY'S
Patent
HORSE SHOES.

EDWARD GRAY, PATENTEE AND SOLE MANUFACTURER

OF

Grooved Steel and Steel Faced Bars,
To be made into Horse Shoes.

This is a most important invention, and one that has long been wanted, as it will enable Horses to obtain a FIRM FOOTHOLD, and prevent them slipping or falling, which is of daily occurrence in London and other large cities and towns. Shoes made from this material will not require sharpening in winter, and will be found of universal advantage on the Road or in the Field: they are two-thirds lighter, will last longer, and look much better than any other shoes.

Another great advantage is, they do not shake and heat the Horses' legs and feet like other shoes, the teeth, acting as a spring, prevent concussion. Horses shod with these Shoes will last years longer than if shod with any other. They can be altered, fitted, and put on by any ordinary farrier.

The Patentee is now ready to supply the Material, or Shoes made of any size or thickness to suit all kinds of horses. All orders sent as below, shall have prompt attention.

Merchants, Ironmongers, and the trade supplied.

Extract from last work [1869] on Horse Shoes and Horse Shoeing, by GEORGE FLEMING, F.R.G.S., F.A.S.L., Member of Council of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons, Veterinary Surgeon Royal Engineers, &c.

"For very many years inventors have endeavoured to remedy the defects of calkins in various ways. In this century many plans have been adopted, the iron or steel employed being, in a number of instances, rolled by machinery, and generally channelled into grooves or concavities. The most successful of these attempts to fabricate shoes to prevent slipping appears to be that adopted by Mr. EDWARD GRAY, of Sheffield."

Lovell's Series of Directories.

*Dominion, Provincial, County, City,

THE want of accurate, reliable and intelligible Local Directories has been commonly felt and generally expressed by all classes in Canada, and only in a less degree by the inhabitants of the neighboring Provinces. Indeed the complaint has become so common, and the requests to remove it so urgent, that the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY has determined to make the experiment, and discover for himself what encouragement may be expected for such books as the commercial public have very generally concurred in asking for. Should the first experiment turn out satisfactorily, it is the Publisher's intention to follow it systematically, and at stated periods, with new and enlarged editions of the same works. He begs further to say that whether such Directories be general in their character, like the Dominion Directory; or local, like the Provincial Directories; or Municipal, like the County, City or Town Directories, they will in either and all cases be prepared with the greatest care, constructed on the simplest plan, printed in a uniform manner and bound according to a uniform pattern.

As the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY is thoroughly acquainted with the modes in which information for such uses should be obtained, and as he has accumulated an immense stock of the requisite materials, and gathered about him a reliable body of men, who by constant employment as agents or artizans, have made themselves practically acquainted with every branch of this department of industry, he is able to offer guarantees of his ability to satisfy the commonly expressed want by printing and publishing accurate, reliable and intelligible Directories.

The Publisher has no hesitation in guaranteeing as thorough correctness as it is possible to attain, and respectfully points to the accompanying Directory as an example of the character of the work and of the workmanship he will study to maintain in the projected series. Intimation from merchants and gentlemen in localities where the want of a Directory is recognised, would be accepted as a special favor, and acted upon wherever practicable.

STOP CYLINDER PRINTING MACHINE FOR FINE WORK.

DESCRIPTION.

THIS machine is of a new pattern, and designed for the finest kinds of Book, Wood-cut and Color printing. The distribution is either by an inking table or vibrating cylinder as may be desired, and the number of form rollers, from two to ten according to size. The bed is driven by a crank, without bed-springs, and without the slightest jar. The impression cylinder is stationary during the return of the bed, and the fingers close on the sheet before the register points are withdrawn; the cylinder then revolves, and, as it gears directly into the bed, perfect register is obtained. The fingers never require shifting, whatever the size of the form, and no tapes are used. When so ordered, the bed is arranged to be run either once or twice, thus passing the form under the inking rollers either two or four times to each impression as may be required.

TO PRINTERS, BINDERS AND PUBLISHERS.

The subscribers manufacture ROTARY PRINTING PRESSES, with from two to ten impression cylinders. Also, PERFECTING PRESSES of various descriptions, with two or more impressions cylinders, to be used with type or stereotype, and with one to six feeders or with rolls of paper. SINGLE AND DOUBLE CYLINDER PRESSES. BED AND PLATEN POWER PRESS, for book work. NEW STOP CYLINDER PRESS, with table distribution, and from four to ten-form rollers, for the finest illustrated newspapers and the best book and wood-cut work. SMALL JOB, CARD, RAILROAD TICKET AND COUPON PRESSES, SINGLE LARGE HAND CYLINDER PRESS AND SINGLE HAND CYLINDER RAILWAY PRESS, FOR NEWSPAPERS of moderate circulations, printing by hand power eight hundred impressions per hour. Also, furnish every article required in printing offices, (including type). PATENT LITHOGRAPHIC POWER PRESSES. HYDRAULIC AND SCREW PRESSES. BOOKBINDERS' MACHINERY; also MACHINERY FOR ELECTROTYPERS AND STEREOTYPERS. CAST STEEL SAWS WITH IMPROVED INSERTED TEETH. The above are all manufactured on our own premises, under our personal supervision, of the best material and workmanship. Illustrated catalogues sent on application.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,

FOR

Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a Hair Dressing, nothing can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Steel Gates, Soho Friction Set Works for Circular Saw Mills, &c.,

(PATENTED MAY 17, 1870.)

This is an invention intended to so move the Log towards the Saw as to secure a uniform thickness of Lumber, and this it does with greater accuracy than any other known arrangement.

It is very simple, and so constructed that it cannot wear nor break, and is the the only perfect Set Motion ever invented.

Canting Machines, Double Edgers, Butting Saws, Swing Saws, Stave Cutters, Gumming Machines, and every kind of Saw Mill Supplies.

SWARTWOUT'S OSCILLATING GANG.

We would respectfully call the attention of all engaged in the manufacture of Lumber to this valuable improvement in Vertical Saw Hangings. By its peculiar construction the Saw, on its downward motion, strikes at the bottom of the log first and continues an even pressing cut until the pitman reaches the forward centre, when the lower end recedes and the top is carried forward by inclined Slides, thus producing an even Rotary Cut. This Gang will carry a heavier feed with less power than any Mill working upon straight lines, and will increase the capacity at least 25 per cent.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF A. D. COLE'S SAMSON TURBINE WATER WHEEL

(PATENTED JULY 12, 1870.)

The Best Wheel manufactured on the Continent; will do more work, give more power and better satisfaction, with less water and expense, than any other Wheel, having beaten the Leffel Turbine 35 per cent. on the premises of Tuttle, Date & Rodden, St. Catharines, Sept. 1, 1870, in a side by side trial, using only 550 inches of water while the Leffel used 743 inches. In consequence the Leffel wheel was ordered out and one of our Samson Turbines substituted.

The "Canada" Brick Machine.

Patented 1868.

Special Prize and Silver Medal at Quebec Provincial Exhibition,

HELD AT MONTREAL, P. Q., SEPTEMBER, 1868.

Special Prize and Diploma at Ontario Provincial Exhibition, HELD AT TORONTO, ONT., OCTOBER, 1870.

The great practical experience of the Manufacturers of the "Canada" Brick Machine justifies them in asserting that it is the most perfect and suitable machine yet introduced into use.

This machine will mould 15,000 bricks per day, with the attendance of one man to put in the clay, one man or smart boy to attend to the moulds, three strong boys to wheel off the bricks and hack them up, and a small boy to sand the pallets.

To make SLOP BRICKS, less attendance than the above will be required.

By an alteration in the relative speed of the pinions and crown wheel, it will mould 30,000 BRICKS PER DAY.

The bricks can be moulded stiff enough to hack up four rows high the same day.

This machine is inexpensive and simple, and is adapted for either steam or horse-power.

If a stone or other obstruction prevents the moulds from moving forward, the machine will not get out of order, but regulates itself.

Provision is made for giving the pressure required for soft or for stiff clay.

The corners are always well filled, and the bricks turned out will all be fit for front work.

NINE of these Machines worked by steam, and TWO by horse-power, can be seen in actual operation at the Steam Brick and Drain Tile Manufacturing Establishment of the undersigned, head of Fullum Street, Montreal.

The CANADA AUTOMATIC BRICK-MAKING MACHINE is manufactured and for sale by the Patentees.

The Patent Right for Towns, Counties, or Districts, will be sold on application to Life Association of Scotland,

(FOUNDED 1838,)

Head Office for Canada, Montreal, 99 St. James Street.

INVESTED FUNDS,

UPWARDS OF ONE MILLION TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS, STERLING.

Assurers have the choice of two separate Classes of Assurance.

IN CLASS A. THE BONUSSES are paid in Money to the Policy-holder himself, commencing AT AN EARLY STAGE OF THE POLICY.

An allocation of Profit in Cash is made every year in this class to all Policies of not less than five years' standing at the preceding Annual Balance, and each Policy-holder's share is applied in payment of his next Annual Premium. The Outlay required for the Policies has thus, for many years, been only from 62½ cts. to 75 cts. per $1 of the Premiums according to standing, and commencing with those due at the end of the sixth year.

CASH PROFITS of more than £375,000 sterling have been distributed in this manner to the Policy-holders during their own lives.

IN CLASS B. THE BONUSSES are unusually LARGE ADDITIONS TO THE SUM ASSURED, and may be exchanged for a MOST IMPORTANT PROVISION IN OLD AGE TO THE Policy-holder himself.

AT THE DIVISION FOR 5th December, 1865, the LARGE BONUS ADDITION of £4 per cent, on the sum Assured, was declared for every premium paid on each participating policy, and payable along with the Sum Assured, provided the Life attain the average expectation of persons at his age of entry. It is evident that at this rate of Bonus the SUM ASSURED will be more than DOUBLED in a comparatively short period.

But the Policy-holder has the option of exchanging these large Bonus Additions, when he reaches an average period of life, for an equivalent in a Valuable Provision for his own after life-time by a Cash Payment or Annuity.

For Example, a Policy-holder for £1000, at the age of 25, on his attaining the average period of persons of that age, will, at the rate of Bonus, have had an addition to his Assurance of £1,500, making the Sum Assured £2,500 instead of £1,000.

Or he may then exchange this large Bonus Addition for ONE CASH PAYMENT of about £1,000 to himself.

Or he may exchange the Bonus Addition for an ANNUITY of about £102 payable during his life.

Such exchange will in no respect affect the Sum assured, which, as well as the right to future BonusSES, will remain intact for the Heirs or other purposes of the Policy-holder.

Under no other system can anything like the same amount of benefits be obtained, whether as regards increase of Sum Assured, or an equivalent in Cash Payment, or Life Annuity.

An ASSURER during the current year in Class B. will receive, at next division, ONE-FIFTH MORE BONUS than later Entrants—The difference being—probably so much as £40 on a £1,000 Policy.

LOVELL'S SERIES OF DIRECTORIES.Dominion, Provincial, County, City, and Town Directories.*

THE want of accurate, reliable and intelligible Local Directories has been commonly felt and generally expressed by all classes in Canada, and only in a less degree by the inhabitants of the neighboring Provinces. Indeed the complaint has become so common, and the requests to remove it so urgent, that the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY has determined to make the experiment, and discover for himself what encouragement may be expected for such books as the commercial public have very generally concurred in asking for. Should the first experiment turn out satisfactorily, it is the Publisher's intention to follow it systematically, and at stated periods, with new and enlarged editions of the same works. He begs further to say that whether such Directories be general in their character, like the Dominion Directory; or local, like the Provincial Directories; or Municipal, like the County, City or Town Directories, they will in either and all cases be prepared with the greatest care, constructed on the simplest plan, printed in a uniform manner and bound according to a uniform pattern.

As the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY is thoroughly acquainted with the modes in which information for such uses should be obtained, and as he has accumulated an immense stock of the requisite materials, and gathered about him a reliable body of men, who by constant employment as agents or artisans, have made themselves practically acquainted with every branch of this department of industry, he is able to offer guarantees of his ability to satisfy the commonly expressed want by printing and publishing accurate, reliable and intelligible Directories.

The Publisher has no hesitation in guaranteeing as thorough correctness as it is possible to attain, and respectfully points to the accompanying Directory as an example of the character of the work and of the workmanship he will study to maintain in the projected series. Intimation from merchants and gentlemen in localities where the want of a Directory is recognized, would be accepted as a special favor, and acted upon wherever practicable.

LOVELL'S GAZETTEER

OF

British North America,

TO CONTAIN

DESCRIPTIONS OF EVERY CITY, TOWN, VILLAGE, &c.

IN THE

DOMINION OF CANADA, NEWFOUNDLAND AND PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

The Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY avails himself of this opportunity to announce that he has in preparation A GAZETTEER OF THE ST. LAWRENCE AND ATLANTIC PROVINCES OF BRITISH NORTH AMERICA. This important work is intended to supply the amplest information respecting the Cities, Towns and Villages therein. It will be to the people of Canada, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island, a Manual replete with accurate information touching the great country in which they live, and to the people of other lands it will expose the advantages, commercial, manufacturing and agricultural, and the undeveloped wealth of this portion of the Empire. The GAZETTEER will be carefully compiled, and the most accurate and authentic information inserted.

Special prominence will be given to the Cities, Towns and places of historical interest and commercial importance, while villages and hamlets will be briefly and lucidly described.

The Lakes, Rivers, Bays, Capes, Inlets, &c., will receive as full and accurate descriptions as can possibly be obtained.

The Provinces will be inserted as follows: Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island. The Provinces of British Columbia and Manitoba will also receive due attention.

The Publisher feels confident that this GAZETTEER will be found worthy of an intelligent and liberal patronage, because it will be indispensable to Public, Professional and Business men, and instrumental in inducing a large migration to these shores.

The work will contain an Appendix giving the Immigrant useful information respecting the Country, the Districts where he may settle, &c.

The GAZETTEER will be printed on fine paper, small 8vo. size, in double columns, with fine type, and bound in cloth. It will be kept within the smallest compass consistent with its object, which is to supply all the information necessary, at a price placing it within the reach of every one.

Information suitable for the pages of the above work will be thankfully acknowledged.

P R E F A C E .

FREQUENT representations of the want of a reliable and correct DIRECTORY of New Brunswick, having been expressed to the Publisher, he decided, during his late canvass for the CANADIAN DOMINION DIRECTORY, to issue one for that Province, and now takes pleasure in placing it before the public. In so doing, he would remark that, though the work did not meet with that pecuniary encouragement which he had anticipated, he has received such kind and valuable assistance in the collection of information from gentlemen in every section of the Province, that he is strongly impressed with the belief had a fuller knowledge of his intentions and the nature of his work been earlier made known, the support would have been as hearty and liberal as in the Western Provinces of the Dominion.

The reader will observe that the work is much more comprehensive than the title indicates, being not simply a DIRECTORY, where the names of almost every male inhabitant in the Province is to be found, but in some measure a GAZETTEER describing the situation of every city, town, village and inhabited place having a name that could possibly be ascertained, its most remarkable feature, principal productions manufactures, population, means of communication, &c.

As exhibiting the growth and progress of the country, the richness of its resources, the extent of its commerce and varied branches of industry, its means of travel, its lines of railways, completed, in course of construction, and projected, the inducements to the settler, and, in fact as giving the fullest and most complete information respecting one of the leading Provinces in the Dominion, the Directory will be especially valuable and will be found an indispensable companion to the public, professional and business man.

The aim of the Publisher has been to give to the people of New Brunswick a DIRECTORY and GEOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY which should be a credit to their Province, as well as to his establishment, and this he believes he has faithfully performed in the work he now has the honor of placing in their hands.

He would take this opportunity of stating that it is his intention to publish from time to time, as occasion may require, his PROVINCE OF NEW BRUNSWICK DIRECTORY, that it will be got up in the same style as the one now produced, and that no means will be left untried to make it in every part reliable and complete.

THE PUBLISHER.

LOVELL'S GAZETTEER

British North America.

The Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY avails himself of this opportunity to announce that he has in preparation A GAZETTEER OF THE ST. LAWRENCE AND ATLANTIC PROVINCES OF BRITISH NORTH AMERICA. This important work is intended to supply the amplest information respecting the Cities, Towns and Villages therein. It will be to the people of Canada, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island, a Manual replete with accurate information touching the great country in which they live, and to the people of other lands it will expose the advantages, commercial, manufacturing and agricultural, and the undeveloped wealth of this portion of the Empire.

The GAZETTEER will be carefully compiled, and the most accurate and authentic information inserted.

Special prominence will be given to the Cities, Towns and places of historical interest and commercial importance, while villages and hamlets will be briefly and lucidly described.

The Lakes, Rivers, Bays, Capes, Inlets, &c., will receive as full and accurate descriptions as can possibly be obtained.

The Provinces will be inserted as follows: Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island. The Provinces of British Columbia and Manitoba will also receive due attention.

The Publisher feels confident that this GAZETTEER will be found worthy of an intelligent and liberal patronage, because it will be indispensable to Public, Professional and Business men, and instrumental in inducing a large migration to these shores.

The work will contain an Appendix giving the Immigrant useful information respecting the Country, the Districts where he may settle, &c.

The GAZETTEER will be printed on fine paper, small 8vo. size, in double columns, with fine type, and bound in cloth. It will be kept within the smallest compass consistent with its object, which is to supply all the information necessary, at a price placing it within the reach of every one.

Information suitable for the pages of the above work will be thankfully acknowledged.

HISTORICAL SKETCHES

OF THE

VARIOUS PROVINCES

COMPOSING THE

DOMINION OF CANADA,

ALSO, THE

PROVINCES OF NEWFOUNDLAND AND PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

SKETCH OF THE HISTORY OF CANADA.

ONTARIO AND QUEBEC.

As the division of Canada into two provinces did not take place till 1791, and as the two sections were united again in 1840, and became separate members of the Confederation only in 1867, much unnecessary repetition will be avoided by including in one sketch the principal events in the history of the whole province as it existed previously to Confederation.

I. CANADA UNDER FRENCH RULE.

The history of Canada is naturally divided into two great epochs: the period of French rule and that of British rule. Of the former period, the most prominent events are the incessant wars of the colonists with the native inhabitants, and with the neighbouring colonies of Britain. The second period is remarkable as a century of wonderful expansion and prosperity, especially in Western Canada. The most prominent events are: the introduction of a representative system of Government, the division of the province, the war with the United States, the political struggles arising out of hostility of race, the rebellion, followed by the reunion of the provinces, the institution of "Responsible Government," and the concession to the Legislative Assembly of entire control over revenue and expenditure; and, lastly, confederation with the other provinces.

EARLY VOYAGES AND DISCOVERIES.

It was on the 3rd of August, 1492, that Columbus, with his little fleet of three vessels, sailed on his memorable voyage of discovery from Palos, a port on the coast of Spain. On the 9th of the following month he passed Ferro, the last of the Canary Isles, and launched out into unknown seas. After the lapse of more than another month, during which the spirit of the commander was sorely tried by the murmurs and menaces of his mutinous and superstitious crews, Columbus left his ship on the 11th of October, and planted the flag of Spain on an island to which he gave the name of San Salvador. Several months were spent in exploration, and then the great adventurer set sail on the 4th of January, 1493, and arrived safely at Palos.

The materials for the historical sketches of the provinces have been derived from Carneau's History of Canada (Bell's translation); Hodgins' School History of Canada and the British Provinces; Conroy's History of New Brunswick; Page's History of Newfoundland; Sutherland's History of Prince Edward Island; and other sources.

The discoveries of Columbus excited a spirit of enterprise and adventure throughout Europe, and subsequent explorers had not any longer to encounter the great difficulties that so long baffled his efforts to procure means to prosecute his voyage. Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island were discovered by the Cabots. Other discoveries followed in quick succession; but it was not till 1534 that the discovery of Canada (Ontario and Quebec) was made by Jacques Cartier, a navigator in the service of Francis I, King of France. The kings of Spain and Portugal protested against the proposed expedition under Cartier as an encroachment on their territorial rights. "What!" Francis is reported to have exclaimed, "do they expect to share all America between them. I should like to see the clause in our father Adam's will that makes them sole heirs to so vast a heritage."

Cartier, with two small vessels, sailed from the port of St. Malo, on the coast of Brittany, on the 20th of April, 1534. Arriving off the coast of Newfoundland after a favorable voyage, he passed through the Straits of Belle Isle into the Gulf of the St. Lawrence, and sailed southward to the Baie des Chaleurs. It was early in July when he reached the Bay, and the heat of the weather caused him to give it that name. Finally, on the 24th of July, he landed on the peninsula of Gaspé, and took possession of the country in the name of the French king. A few days later he set sail for France, taking with him two of the natives. The report of his discoveries excited so much interest at home that the following year he was sent out with three vessels, well manned and equipped. This season he sailed up the gulf. Having anchored in a little bay at the mouth of the river St. John on St. Lawrence day, he named the bay after that saint, and the name was afterward extended to the gulf and river. Ascending the St. Lawrence, he arrived at the Island of Orleans, where he was received in a friendly manner by Donnacona, the Algonquin chief. He then proceeded to a native settlement, called Stadacona, near the mouth of the St. Charles. Here he moored his vessels, boldly resolving to winter in the country. Having heard accounts from the natives respecting a large settlement further up, he was induced, in the month of September, to ascend the St. Lawrence as far as Hochelaga (Montreal) where he was welcomed with the most friendly manifestations by the Huron Indians.* The beautiful mountain lying to the west was named by him Mount Royal. The winter was now approaching, and Cartier returned to Stadacona, (close by Quebec,) where he intrenched himself near his ships.

The expedition suffered greatly during the long winter that ensued. The cold was intense. Most of the sailors were attacked by scurvy, and before the snow disappeared one fourth part of the crews had perished by disease. In spring, Cartier made haste to return to France. On his departure he was guilty of a base act of treachery to the friendly natives, in seizing their chief, Donnacona, and four Indians, and carrying them off to France where they all soon died.

The origin of the name Canada, it may be mentioned here, is somewhat obscure. Some would derive it from the Spanish or Portuguese, by putting together the words Ca, here, and nada, nothing, supposed to have been uttered by the first explorers when they found no precious metals. Others, with better reason, conjecture that Jacques Cartier, having heard the natives apply the Indian word Kannatha (or village) to their settlements, mistook it for the name of the whole country.

Harassed by wars with Spain, and distracted by religious dissensions at home, the French were unable to give that attention to the newly discovered territories which their importance deserved. Five years elapsed after Cartier's return before another expedition was organized. This was placed under the command of a distinguished soldier, the Sieur de Roberval, who received a commission as viceroy of the colony to be founded. Cartier sailed in advance of Roberval, in command of a flotilla of five vessels. After a stormy passage he arrived in the gulf, and again ascended the St. Lawrence to Stadacona or Quebec. Here the French colonists who had been brought out, landed, and began to prepare ground for cultivation. Cartier continued his voyage to Hochelaga, and endeavoured to pass the Lachine rapids, but without success. The summer passed away without any intelligence being received respecting the movements of Roberval, who was to have followed him out: so Cartier resolved to spend the winter in the country. The Indians, mindful of his treachery to their chief, were far from friendly, and he deemed it prudent to erect two small forts at Cape Rouge for the protection of his winter quarters. In the spring, the natives showing signs of increasing hostility, Cartier sailed for France, where he died a few years later. He had, however, before his death, been enabled by the king for his distinguished services, and his heirs received a license to trade in Canada. We read of his nephews being engaged subsequently in the peltry traffic.

Roberval, whose departure had been delayed for a year, met Cartier near Newfoundland (or, as some say, near Quebec), and vainly endeavoured to prevent his return. Roberval then continued his voyage to Cape Rouge, where he remained for some time. Little is known respecting his movements during the year that he spent in Canada. He is said to have explored the river Saguenay, and other parts. During the winter fifty of his colonists perished. In 1543, he returned to France at the request of the king, who required his services in the war with Spain which was about to recommence. This was the last expedition for six years.

In 1549, Roberval, having been permitted to organize another expedition, set out for Canada, but he was lost in the passage across the Atlantic, with all his followers. This disaster led to the abandonment of French settlements in Canada. For many years there was no opportunity to renew them, France being engaged in wars with Spain and Austria, and harassed by civil and religious dissensions. During this period England made no attempt to acquire territory in Canada, contenting herself with a nominal claim on Newfoundland for fishing purposes.

Passing over Ribaut's ill-fated Huguenot expedition to Florida, with which we are not concerned in the present sketch, we come to the next attempt to found a colony in Canada. In 1598, the Marquis de la Roche was appointed lieutenant general, or viceroy, of New France, with very extensive powers. De la Roche landed most of his colonists, who were chiefly convicts, on Isle de Sable. His ship being afterward driven off the coast by a storm, he was forced to return to France. There he was arrested and kept prisoner in Brittany by an enemy of the King, and no aid was sent to the unhappy convicts on Sable Island till five years had elapsed, when only twelve were found living.

PERMANENT SETTLEMENTS IN NEW FRANCE.

We come now to the voyages of Champlain, a distinguished naval officer, whose name is honourably connected with Canadian exploration and settlement. His first voyage was made in 1603, under the auspices of a company of French merchants trading in furs. The little fleet consisted of three small vessels of 12 to 15 tons each. Champlain ascended the St. Lawrence to Hochelaga, but was prevented by the Lachine rapids from passing upward. He, however, diligently collected all the information that he could obtain from the natives respecting the country above the rapids, and sketched a map for the king. Henry IV. was well pleased with the account of the expedition, and appointed de Monts, a Huguenot, lieutenant general of Acadie, with extensive trading privileges. In the ensuing years, settlements were formed at Port Royal (Annapolis) and other places in Acadie.

In 1608 Champlain sailed a third time from France on a voyage to the St. Lawrence. On the 3rd of July he reached the point of land, now the Lower Town of Quebec, where he erected a fort, and cabins for the accommodation of his men. Thus were laid the foundations of the famous city of Quebec. The name is Indian, Kebec, a strait. This was the first permanent settlement in Canada.

For some years Champlain continued the congenial work of exploration. His enemies, indeed, made it a matter of reproach that he was more fond of exploring the country than of improving the facilities for trade and increasing the profits of the fur company. About this time the wars between the Iroquois and other Indian tribes appear to have been waged with great ferocity. The weaker tribes, the Hurons and Algonquins, sought the powerful aid of their neighbors, the French, and Champlain unfortunately granted the request. Thus commenced the terrible wars with Indians which fill so dark a page in the early annals of the colony. The first blood was shed in 1609, when Champlain took part with the Hurons in an attack on some Iroquois cantons. The terror inspired by the loud report of European fire arms, and the havoc caused by each discharge, routed the Iroquois on this and other occasions. But few years elapsed before they fought on more equal terms, and manifested a courage unsurpassed by that of any other race.

In 1611, Champlain established a trading post at Montreal, and named the adjacent island Ste. Helene, after his wife. The death of Henry IV. deprived de Monts of his influence at court, and great rivalry in the fur trade ensued. In 1613, Champlain, who had endeavoured to reconcile the conflicting pretensions of the trading companies, having at length secured the patronage of the Prince de Condé, as successor to the privileges enjoyed by de Monts, again sailed for Canada. He spent some time this year in exploring the Ottawa. Two years later he took out four Recollet fathers (a branch of the Franciscans), and a first effort was made to introduce Christianity among the Indians. Monastic establishments began to appear in the land. They were the most prominent buildings at the various settlements. At this time (1615), Champlain renewed his explorations of the upper Ottawa. Passing up the Mattawin river to Lake Nipissing, thence down the French river, he came to the Georgian Bay and Lake Huron. He spent some time in exploring those western parts, and visited several of the lodges of the Hurons. At length he reached Cahiague, (now Orillia) one of the chief lodges of the Hurons, near Lake Simcoe. Champlain's relations with this tribe were very friendly, and he was induced to join them in a great expedition against their bitter enemies, the warlike Iroquois. The assault on the enemy was made suddenly and unexpectedly, but the Iroquois speedily rallied, and repulsed their assailants with great courage and determination. Champlain himself was wounded, and with his Indian allies was forced to retreat. Thus Champlain, who was the first, or among the first, to assist Indian against Indian, already began to experience the disastrous consequences of his policy. The thirty years during which he was engaged in exploration are marked by incessant Indian conflicts. Treaties of peace were not long regarded. In 1622, for instance, a solemn treaty of peace was entered into between the Hurons and the Iroquois, but a few years later we read of fresh hostilities.

About 1620, the Prince de Condé ceded the vice-royalty of Canada to Admiral Montmorency, who confirmed the appointment and powers of Champlain as deputy head and resident governor of the colony. About this time Champlain laid the foundations of a government house, known as the castle of St. Louis, at Quebec. He also promulgated several ordinances for the maintenance of order in the colony. Very little was done in the way of tilling the soil, the attention of the colonists being engrossed by the more lucrative occupation of trading in furs. The number of permanent residents at Quebec, including the monks, did not exceed fifty. However, the colony was re-inforced in 1625 by a band of Jesuit missionaries, who labored with the Recollet fathers for the conversion of the Indians.

THE HUNDRED PARTNERS

Disputes respecting trading privileges were constantly occurring. The trading associations were bitter rivals. Finally, in 1627, a new company, called the Company of One Hundred Partners, or Associates, with extensive trading privileges, was organized under the patronage of Cardinal Richelieu. The powers of this new association were very extensive. The Hundred Partners were in fact the rulers of the colony, with power to make laws within their limits, with attributes of sovereignty and justiceship, &c. In return for their privileges the Company undertook to send 4,000 persons to Canada during the fifteen years their charter was to be in force, and to aid these colonists in settling on lands to be appropriated to their use.

Shortly after this, war was declared between France and England. Tadousac, a trading station, was captured (1628) by Sir David Kertk, a French Huguenot refugee, who had entered the English service, and messengers were sent to Champlain to demand the surrender of Quebec. The request was peremptorily refused. To disguise the starving condition of the colonists, Champlain is said to have sumptuously entertained the messengers of Kertk. The English commander withdrew his fleet without making any attack on the place, but while cruising in the gulf, the ships and stores sent out from France by the new company fell into his hands. The following year (1629) he resumed hostilities. The inhabitants of Quebec had been half starved during the winter from want of the supplies which had been intercepted; no help came from France, and when in July, 1629, Kertk appeared in sight, the garrison capitulated. This was the first capture of Quebec. At the date of its surrender peace had been concluded between England and France at home. Champlain was carried to England, where he was set at liberty and permitted to return to France.

Three years afterward, (1632) Canada, together with Nova Scotia and Cape Breton, was ceded to France by the Treaty of St Germain en Laye. The following year Champlain was re-appointed governor, and carried out with him abundance of stores. He sought to strengthen and build up the shattered colony, but his labors were soon stayed by death. He expired on Christmas day, 1635, after thirty years' service in connection with Canadian exploration and settlement.

The new governor sent out from France was Montmagny, who pursued the policy adopted by Champlain. The Hurons and Iroquois were at this time again engaged in a sanguinary war. Some consternation was caused (1638) by shocks of earthquake which were felt throughout the country. Similar shocks were experienced in 1663, and have frequently occurred in our own time.

In 1640, the island of Montreal was ceded by M. de Lauzon (who had acquired it from the Hundred Partners,) to an association of 35 persons, by whom de Maisonneuve was instructed to found a settlement. The new town or colony was established near the Indian village of Hochelaga, and named Ville Marie, on the 18th of May, 1642. The few buildings erected were surrounded by wooden palisades for the protection of the place against Indian incursions. Such was the small beginning of Montreal city.

INDIAN WARS.

The war between the French and Hurons on one side and the Iroquois on the other, was now waged with great ferocity. The Iroquois formed a design to wipe their enemies from the face of the land. The French posts were to be simultaneously attacked. The plot failed, but for some years the Indian braves waged a war of extermination. The French were able to afford very slight assistance to their Huron allies. Their own existence was, in fact, in almost daily peril, for it must be remembered that the whole European population of Canada at this time did not exceed three hundred souls. Soldiers had to be sent from France to protect the enfeebled settlement. Ville Marie was put in a condition for defence by d'Aillebout; Fort Richelieu was erected at the mouth of the Richelieu, and other measures were adopted to check the incursions of the enemy.

In 1645, a truce was entered into with some of the Iroquois bands. The Company of the Hundred Partners had suffered enormous losses during these Indian wars, and were glad to renounce their rights for an annual rent payable in beaver skins. The inhabitants of Montreal, Quebec, and Three Rivers, accordingly obtained from the company, on the above condition, the privilege of trading on their own account. The sanguinary conflict with the Indians soon broke out afresh. The unhappy Hurons were hunted to death without mercy throughout the length and breadth of the land. The French were wholly unable to afford their allies any protection. Several of the Jesuit missionaries, who were laboring amongst the Indians, died under cruel tortures inflicted by the Iroquois. The Huron tribes were almost annihilated. A few survivors sought refuge within the palisades of Quebec and other French forts, and were finally transferred to Lorette, where some of their descendants may still be found.

So great was the terror inspired by the bitter hostility of the Iroquois, that when the New England colonies (1648-1651) put forward a project of colonial union with Canada, the French governor refused to negotiate, unless the New Englanders consented to aid the French in humbling the power of their Indian foes. Now the Iroquois, while harassing the French to death, had been fast friends of the English, and such a stipulation would have been highly ungrateful on the part of the latter. So the negotiations were broken off. The incident only served to increase the fury of the Iroquois. For some years trade was paralyzed, and the French were in serious danger of being driven from the country. "The war with the Iroquois," says a chronicle of 1653, "has dried up all sources of prosperity. The beavers are allowed to build their dams in peace, none being able or willing to molest them." It must be borne in mind that by this time the Iroquois had obtained fire-arms, and learned to use them with fatal effect. At length, in 1653, reinforcements being received from France, the governor was enabled to act vigorously on the offensive. European discipline prevailed. The Iroquois lost heart when they saw the number of their foes suddenly doubled by arrivals from the unknown land beyond the seas. They were brought to sue for peace, and a treaty was concluded the following year (1654).

During this time several changes had taken place in the government. It had been decided to change the governors of French dependencies every three years. Montmagny was succeeded in 1647, by d'Ailleboud, and he, in turn, was superseded by de Lauzon in 1651.

In 1656, another alarm was caused by incursions of the Iroquois, and war again prevailed, with brief intervals of respite, for several years. D'Argenson came out (1658) as governor in the place of de Lauzon, and in 1661, d'Avau-gour, a very able governor, succeeded.

Up to this period, progress had been very slow, especially when contrasted with the rapid strides of modern times. The inhabitants of the settlement at Quebec did not number a thousand, and the whole population of Canada fell short of 2,500. The mode of colonization had been semi-religious. Jesuit and Recollet missionaries penetrated the country in all directions, and endeavoured to win the natives to the Christian faith. There was not a printing press in the colony till long afterward. A very small portion of the soil was brought under cultivation. The residents, occupied for the most part in trade, did not raise sufficient for their subsistence, and depended largely on supplies from the mother country. The principal buildings seem to have been the monastic establishments. Ecclesiastics exercised magisterial authority in the parishes. An incident related by Garneau, which led to dissension between the governor and ecclesiastical authorities, throws some light upon the state of affairs at this time. Selling liquor to Indians was prohibited under the severest penalties. The governor, d'Avau-gour, had caused three men to be shot at one time for this crime. A widow being subsequently taken to prison for the same offence, one Père Lallemand, not only interceded for her but justified her act. The governor angrily exclaimed that if the law was to be enforced in this irregular and partial manner, he would cease to enforce it at all. On their side, the priests refused absolution to those who engaged in the liquor traffic with Indians, and the bishop publicly excommunicated the offenders. These dissensions continued till, unfortunately for the colony, the governor was recalled. On quitting the reins of government, d'Avau-gour drew up a document strongly recommending that France should, without loss of time, strengthen her footing in Canada. He advised that three thousand picked soldiers, accustomed to agricultural pursuits, should be located in the country, and assisted from Imperial sources till they had firmly established themselves.

SOVEREIGN AUTHORITY RESUMED.

In 1663, the Company of One Hundred Partners, which had not fulfilled the obligations imposed on it, was formally dissolved by Louis XIV., and a sovereign council, composed of the principal officers of civil government residing in the colony, M. Laval, the first bishop, who had come out in 1659, and other distinguished persons, was established at Quebec. This council acted also as a court of appeal from the district courts. In each of the three districts, Quebec, Three Rivers and Montreal, there was a judge appointed by the king, who had full power to decide all matters, both civil and criminal, that arose within the district. Besides the regular courts, judicial authority was vested in the intendant. This power was exercised generally in matters of small amount. The owners of seigniories were also authorized under certain restrictions to administer justice within their seigniories.

The new governor, appointed by the influence of Bishop Laval and the Jesuits, after d'Avau-gour's recall, was de Mésy. He was the first royal governor under the new constitution. He landed at Quebec in the summer of 1663, but a year had hardly elapsed before fresh disputes arose between him and Bishop Laval, in consequence of the interference of the latter in temporal affairs. The recall of the governor was therefore at once resolved on by his adversaries, and it was not long before they brought it about. The governor died before the command to return reached him, but he declared with his latest breath that in all he did he had ever in view the prosperity of the colony. Whilst these events were taking place in the colony, the trading interests of Canada were conceded to the West India Company by a royal edict in May, 1664. In legal matters, the "Custom of Paris" was at this time introduced to the exclusion of all other French coutumes. The Marquis de Tracy was chosen to fill the office of lieutenant-general. Talon, another man of ability, was sent out as intendant, and de Courcelles, an administrator of great tact and prudence, was appointed to succeed de Mésy as governor. The new rulers were cautioned by Colbert, the French minister, to avoid disputes with the Jesuits, and advised to seek to build up the colony. These were days of sunshine to the struggling inhabitants. For a space only too brief, things wore an air of prosperity. The men in authority displayed great zeal and energy in advancing the interests of the colonists. Settlers were brought out from France; cattle and agricultural implements were imported. The audacity of the Indians was checked by a decisive expedition commanded by de Tracy. The Iroquois sued for peace, and in 1667 a treaty was concluded with them which lasted eighteen years.

The reports sent home by Talon advised that the colony should be taken out of the hands of the West India Company. This recommendation was acted upon, and freedom of trade with the natives and the mother country was conceded to the inhabitants. Talon strove to encourage agriculture. Horses were first introduced into the colony in 1665. The Carignan regiment, which had come out with de Tracy, was permitted to remain, and the soldiers were encouraged to settle in the country. Talon, being in ill health, was forced to solicit his recall in 1668, but the following year he was persuaded to resume office, and sailed from France with 700 emigrants.

In 1672, Count de Frontenac, who was destined to occupy a distinguished place in the history of Canada, came out as governor in the place of de Courcelles. Talon now retired from his office of intendant. At this date the population had increased to nearly six thousand souls.

Frontenac was a high spirited soldier of very fair abilities. Shrewd and discerning in his views, he was also quick and impetuous in action. The position of Quebec excited his admiration on landing. "It could not have been better placed," he said "if it had been expressly selected as the capital of a great empire." The new governor was also favorably impressed by the dignity and eloquence of the Indian chiefs. In 1673, having been present at a conference with Iroquois chiefs at Cataragui, he remarked, in a letter to the Minister of State: "You would assuredly have been surprised, my lord, had you listened to the eloquent oratory, and remarked the subtle spirit with which all the deputies harangued and reasoned. Did I not fear to incur your ridicule, I would venture to intimate that the noble presence of these deputies, in conference with me, recalled to my mind somewhat, a meeting of the senate of Venice."

In his efforts to improve the condition of the colony, Frontenac was unfortunate enough to encounter the opposition and enmity of the Jesuits. Grave dissensions soon commenced between the governor and other dignitaries. Frontenac having imprisoned Perrot, the governor of Montreal, for treasonable conduct, the side of the accused was openly espoused by Fénelon, the parish priest of Montreal. The ecclesiastics denied that any jurisdiction could be exercised over them by the sovereign council, and contended that they could be summoned to appear only before their bishop. The intendant, Duchesneau, sided with the ecclesiastics. Fresh trouble was also created by the liquor traffic. We cannot follow here the course of these unfortunate disputes. The king severely censured his servants, and attempted in vain to check their quarrels; but they proceeded to such a height that both Frontenac and Duchesneau were recalled in 1682.

INDIAN WARS RENEWED.

The new governor, de la Barre, came out at a critical time. Another Indian war was imminent. The New England colonists offered the Indians better prices for their skins, and exchanged goods on far easier terms than the French traders, fettered by trade restrictions, could afford. Much ill feeling prevailed on this account among the natives. The conjuncture required a prudent and conciliatory course. De la Barre lacked ability and experience, and proved unequal to the occasion. After some months of indecision, an expedition set out and advanced as far as Lake Ontario. Here envoys from the Iroquois met the governor, and de la Barre concluded a disgraceful treaty, by which he abandoned some of his Indian allies to the mercy of the Iroquois. The treaty was disallowed by the king, who immediately recalled the governor, and sent out the Marquis de Denonville to replace him. The new governor was brave and determined, but entered with slight experience on duties of great difficulty. His instructions were to repel the encroachments of the Iroquois and compel them to keep the peace with their neighbours. The hatred of these powerful tribes to the French had grown with the lapse of years, and was embittered by a long course of hostility. At this time, moreover, the Iroquois were incensed by a discreditable act of treachery on the part of the governor. Having decoyed some Indian braves to Cataragui, under pretence of a conference, he caused them to be seized, and sent home to work in the galleys.

Having obtained reinforcements from France, the governor led an expedition against the Iroquois, which was successful in the field; but as soon as the steps of the marquis were turned homeward, the foe re-appeared with unabated spirit. The fort at Niagara was suddenly attacked by them and completely destroyed. An ineffectual attempt was made to negotiate a treaty through the intervention of Col. Dongan, the governor of New York. The critical state of affairs was vividly depicted as follows by the governor in a despatch to Paris, Aug. 10th, 1688: "The savages are just so many animals of prey, scattered through a vast forest, whence they are ever ready to issue, to plunder and kill in the adjoining country. To go in pursuit of them after their ravages is a constant but almost bootless task. They have no settled habitation to which they can be traced with any certainty. They must be watched for everywhere and long waited for, with fire-arms ready primed; many of their lurking places could be reached only by blood-hounds, or by other savages as trackers. But those in our service are few, and the native allies we have are seldom trustworthy. They fear the enemy more than they love us; and they dread, on their own account, to drive the Iroquois to extremity. It has been resolved, in the present strait, to erect a fortress in every seigniory, as a place of shelter for helpless people and live stock, at times when the open country is overrun with savages. As matters now stand, the arable grounds lie far apart, and are so surrounded by bush, that every thicket serves as a covert for the foe; so that an army would be needed to protect the tillers of our cleared lands."

The following year (1689) war was declared by France against England for the purpose of aiding James II. A bold project, suggested by Chevalier de Callières, of attacking the English posts at New York and Albany, was under consideration by the French authorities, when a terrible disaster fell upon the colony. The Iroquois, who for some months had been unusually tranquil, without the slightest warning, in the month of August, appeared in force near Montreal, and in one night massacred the entire population of Lachine. Two hundred persons were slaughtered or burned alive on the spot, and others, more unfortunate, were carried off to be tortured to death. The invaders also assailed and captured the fort at Montreal, and kept possession of the island till the month of October. The French, stupefied with terror, made no effort to drive off their enemies, and everywhere throughout the land the Indians held the upper hand till the approach of winter, when they retired suddenly to their settlements.

In the meantime, Frontenac, who had been re-appointed governor, was on his way out to assume the direction of affairs. His coming was hailed with joy by the terrified inhabitants, who had endured so much misery through the incapacity of the last two governors. Fresh spirit was infused into the colonists. The incursions of the Iroquois were everywhere repelled with energy. The Canadian villages were enclosed by palisades, and protected by cannon. The project of attacking the New England settlements, which had received the sanction of Louis, was now prosecuted with some success. Unhappily these successes were sullied by terrible atrocities. Helpless inhabitants of the places that fell into the hands of the invaders were butchered without mercy.

The New Englanders, who seem to have been taken by surprise by the sudden attack of Frontenac, speedily concerted measures of defence and reprisal. In 1690, a squadron of 35 sail, with 2,000 militia men on board, left Boston under command of Sir William Phipps, afterward governor of Massachusetts. The fleet captured Port Royal, (Annapolis) and other places in Nova Scotia, and on the morning of the 16th October, Quebec was summoned to surrender at discretion. Frontenac returned a haughty refusal, and the batteries opened fire upon the English ships. The strength of the defences baffled all the efforts of the besieging force, and the fleet was compelled to retire. A land expedition under Winthrop, which was to have co-operated with Phipps in the attack on Canada, returned without accomplishing anything.

During the succeeding years hostilities were continued between the French and English colonists. Each side sought to enlist as many of the savage tribes as it could, and to render the aid of these allies effective, the Indians were instructed in the use of fire-arms. The Iroquois that fell into the hands of their enemies were often cruelly burned or tortured to death, in revenge for similar atrocities practised by their own tribes. Under Frontenac's energetic direction, the Canadians were enabled to get possession of the English posts in the Hudson Bay territory.

At length, in 1697, the treaty of Ryswick put an end, for a time, to the exhausting conflict between the colonies. By this treaty France agreed to restore all places in America that had been taken during the war. The restoration of peace was welcome intelligence at Quebec. The colonists, who had ceased to till their lands and had taken refuge within the palisades of the towns from the ferocity of the savages, now ventured back to their farms.

The following year, (1698) Count de Frontenac died, at the age of 77, deeply regretted by his countrymen in New France, whom he had rescued from almost total extermination. De Callières, who had long been governor of Montreal, succeeded him.

In 1700, the French concluded a long hoped for treaty of peace with the Iroquois confederation. The treaty was solemnly confirmed at Montreal on the 4th of August, 1701. Thirteen hundred natives, the representatives of many tribes, took part in the ceremonies.

In 1703, France and England being again at war, there was as usual a renewal of hostilities between their colonies. On this occasion the French were fortunate in having the formidable Iroquois neutral by virtue of the solemn treaty of 1701. In the spring of 1711, another expedition against Canada was organized by the New England colonies, aided by British troops. The object was to capture Quebec. But the fleet was dispersed in the gulf by a storm, and many of the vessels were lost. Peace was restored by the treaty of Utrecht in 1713.

FROM THE TREATY OF UTRECHT TO THE CONQUEST—1713-1700.

Vaudreuil, who had succeeded de Callières as governor in 1703, introduced some improvements in the municipal system, and caused a census to be taken. Montreal was walled in, and the fortifications of Quebec were enlarged and strengthened. The governor earnestly called the attention of the home authorities to the weak state of the colony as contrasted with the flourishing condition of the New England provinces. In 1714, he wrote home that Canada contained but 4,484 inhabitants capable of bearing arms for its defence, in addition to 620 colonial troops. The British colonies were represented as having 63,000 males fit for war; and it was not doubted that as soon as war commenced an attempt would be made by them to achieve the conquest of Canada. Vaudreuil was succeeded in 1726 by the Marquis de Beauharnois, whose long administration of twenty-one years was for the most part peaceful. The population increased from 22,000 in 1719 to nearly 50,000 in 1744. The value of the exports in 1749 exceeded £100,000 s.g. There were some petty conflicts with Indians, and there were some disputes between the governor and the intendant, Dupuis; but up to 1745 the colony enjoyed security from external assaults. In 1745 peace was again disturbed. The contest, however, was not so much on Canadian soil as in the maritime colonies. The strong fortress of Louisbourg was taken by the New Englanders, and an expedition projected against Canada. A French fleet, under the Duke d'Anville, sent to retake Louisbourg, was dispersed by terrible storms. The peace of Aix-la-Chapelle, in 1748, put an end to the conflict, and France and England mutually restored the territory acquired by either during the war.

But a warm dispute immediately commenced as to the boundaries of their respective possessions in the New World. The territory in dispute was very extensive, comprising the whole of the seaboard on the north side of the Bay of Fundy, and also the Valley of the Ohio, connecting the French possessions in Louisiana with Canada. A joint commission, French and British, was appointed to settle the dispute. A conference took place at Paris, but the commission lasted over five years without any definite result. Meanwhile the dispute in America was daily growing in violence. Each party sought to make good its pretensions by encroachments on the territory in dispute. In 1750, three English traders were arrested under the authority of the French governor in the disputed territory of the Ohio valley. Redress being withheld, reprisals were made. After some years consumed in futile negotiation, the war, generally known as the Seven Years' War, commenced. The colonial forces on both sides were reinforced from Europe. Gen. Braddock came out from England to command the militia and regulars. A strong British force, under his command, marched against Fort Duquesne, at the junction of the Ohio and Monongahela rivers; but, pressing on too eagerly, in July, 1755, the men fell into an ambuscade near the fort, and were cut to pieces. Gen. Braddock and most of the mounted officers were killed. The celebrated Gen. Washington, who was serving under Braddock at this time, wrote as follows of the disaster: "We have been beaten, shamefully beaten, by a handful of French, who only expected to obstruct our advance. Shortly before the action we thought our forces were equal to all the enemy in Canada; we have been most unexpectedly defeated, and now all is lost." On the other hand, it was not long before the French met with reverse. Baron Dieskau brought from France a large force in 1755. After some slight successes his army was defeated, and he himself wounded and taken prisoner in an attack on Col. Johnson's camp near Fort William, at the head of Lake George.

The struggle for supremacy in the New World now assumed serious proportions. War was formally declared by England and France (1756). At the urgent representation of the Canadian authorities large reinforcements were sent out. Gen. Montcalm and Gen. de Lévis came out to Canada early in the year 1756, with a considerable force, together with supplies of provisions and munitions of war. Sixteen hundred men had been sent out the previous year, and the colony furnished a thousand more. Nor was the British Government lacking in energy. Money was freely voted to arm and equip the provincial militia. Gen. Abercrombie came out from England with large reinforcements; and Lord Loudon was appointed commander-in-chief. After some minor incidents the campaign terminated unfavourably for the English. The important place called Fort Oswego, erected by the English on the south-eastern shore of Lake Ontario, surrendered to Montcalm, and fourteen hundred prisoners and a large quantity of stores fell into the hands of the French. This expedition had been planned by the Governor, Vaudreuil Cavagnal, Gen. Montcalm undertaking it apparently against his own judgment in obedience to the governor's orders.

The following summer passed without any important engagement. The inhabitants of Canada suffered during this period great privation from the scarcity of food. In France dissatisfaction began to be expressed at the great cost of maintaining and defending the colony. In 1758 Lord Loudon, the English commander-in-chief, who had failed to evince any military capacity, was superseded by General Abercrombie. Great efforts were made, and with complete success, to enable the English colonies to send into the field a large force of militia. The strong post of Louisbourg, in Cape Breton, fell into the hands of the British forces. In other quarters the campaign was a failure. Gen. Abercrombie led an expedition against Fort Ticonderoga (Carillon) where Montcalm was strongly intrenched. The attack on the fort, persevered in during several hours with great gallantry, was repulsed with heavy loss to the English. This misfortune was in some measure retrieved by a successful expedition against Fort Frontenac under Colonel Bradstreet. The fort was taken, together with a great quantity of stores, shipping, and several pieces of cannon. This achievement destroyed the power of the French on the great lakes.

The English were also successful in their operations in the Ohio valley. A force of regulars and militia marched against Fort Duquesne, and the commandant, despairing of being able to make a successful defence, destroyed the fort and retreated.

The following summer (1759) decided the contest. Gen. Amherst came out to replace Gen. Abercrombie. The French being now compelled to act on the defensive, endeavoured to strengthen their fortified posts. The number of males able to bear arms was estimated at 15,200, and of regular soldiers there were 5,300. Provisions were at famine prices. The farmers, having for the most part been engaged in campaigning, had been unable to cultivate their fields, whilst the scarcity of food was increased by the fraud and cupidity of certain officials intrusted with the purchase of stores, who enriched themselves at the public expense. Montcalm, who was at variance with the governor, earnestly solicited his own recall as the only reward he desired for his services. The king, reluctant to comply with this request in the critical position of Canadian affairs, recommended the general and governor to reconcile their differences, and accorded them promotion and honors.

The campaign of 1759 did not open till June, when the British forces took the field in three divisions. One under Gen. Prideaux was to attack Fort Niagara; the second, under Gen. Amherst, was to make another attempt to take Fort Ticonderoga at the outlet of Lake George; the third, under the celebrated General Wolfe, was to assail Quebec, where the other divisions of the army were to assemble after carrying out their parts of the general plan. The expedition against Fort Niagara was successful, but General Prideaux fell during the siege. The French retreated from Fort Ticonderoga and entrenched themselves at Isle aux Noix, where the British allowed them to remain unmolested during the winter.

The expedition against Quebec is that which is most memorable in the annals of Canada. The French had made every preparation in their power for the defence of the city. The buoys had been removed from the channel of the river. Fire ships were in readiness to be launched into the midst of the enemy's fleet, and booms were constructed across the river St. Charles. All the difficulties of the navigation having been overcome, the English fleet, carrying generals Wolfe, Monckton, Townshend and Murray, and a considerable army, arrived at the Island of Orleans on the 25th of June. The fresh ships sent against the fleet proved ineffectual. Gen. Monckton took up his position at Point Lévis, and commenced to bombard the city. Wolfe's encampment was on the left bank of the Montmorenci river. The French were intrenched in rear of Beauport. The month of July was spent by the besiegers in preparation. They carefully examined the defences, and endeavoured to find some vulnerable point. On the last day of the month Wolfe attacked Montcalm's camp, but was repulsed. It was now resolved to make the assault from above the city. Montcalm seems to have looked upon his position on this side as perfectly secure. "We need not suppose," he wrote to the governor, "that our enemies have wings to enable them in one night to cross the river, disembark, and ascend steep and rugged paths." Wolfe, however, quietly prepared for the desperate undertaking, disguising his intention from the enemy as far as possible. The landing was successfully effected during the night of the 12th of September, at the point now called Wolfe's cove. The sentinels were overpowered, and before daybreak six thousand men had silently scaled the steep bank and were drawn up on the Plains of Abraham. Montcalm hastily gathered his forces and advanced to give battle. The English awaited the onset, and when the advancing line was close at hand, fired a deadly volley which threw the French ranks into confusion. Wolfe followed up the temporary success by a charge, himself leading on the grenadiers. Soon, however, he received a mortal wound, and was carried to the rear. The French were giving way in confusion. Montcalm while endeavouring to rally his flying troops, also fell mortally wounded. As Wolfe's last moment was fast approaching, the cry "They run! they run!" fell upon his ear. "Who run?" eagerly inquired the dying hero. "The French," was the reply. "Then I die in peace," he murmured, and immediately expired. The gallant Montcalm also died the following day.

The Citadel held out a few days, but on the 18th of September, the garrison surrendered to Gen. Townshend. The loss of the English is stated at 700, and of the French at 1500.

The announcement that Quebec had fallen was received with great joy in England and in her American colonies. Both sides prepared earnestly for the coming campaign, the result of which was hardly doubtful. The French concentrated their diminished forces with the design of retaking Quebec, which had been garrisoned for the winter with an army of seven or eight thousand men. Gen. de Lévis, who had taken command on the death of Montcalm, pitched his camp, in April, 1760, in the rear of the city, with an army of eight or nine thousand men. Gen. Murray marched out to meet him, but after a sharp encounter was forced to retire within the fortifications. A few days later, having received the reinforcements which he had been anxiously expecting from England, he forthwith compelled de Lévis to raise the siege and retreat.

The French cause in Canada was now in a desperate extremity, and the mother country was unable to send adequate assistance. The Canadian militia commenced to give in their submission to General Murray, and the regulars deserted in great numbers. Isle aux Noix, where the French had entrenched themselves the previous summer, and Forts Oswegatchie and Lévis, were the next points of attack. These forts successively passed into the hands of the English, and then the victorious armies, from Quebec, Lake Champlain and Oswego, converged on Montreal. The united strength of the beleaguering army under Gen. Amherst was 17,000 men. Resistance was hopeless, and Vaudreuil proposed a capitulation, which was agreed to and signed on the 8th of September, 1760. Thus was brought to a close the era of French dominion in Canada.

II. CANADA UNDER ENGLISH RULE.

FROM THE CONQUEST TO THE QUEBEC ACT, 1760-1774.

The Canadian people were secured by the terms of the capitulation in the free exercise of their religion. Vaudreuil and De Lévis, with the troops and the principal civil and military officers, and many of the colonists, embarked for France, where some of the officials who had been guilty of peculation and abuse of trust, were brought to trial, condemned and punished.

Peace was concluded by the Treaty of Paris signed 10th February, 1763. By this Treaty, France ceded to England the whole of her possessions in North America with some insignificant exceptions.

The Indian allies of the French did not acquiesce without a struggle in the new order of things. A vast conspiracy was hatched in 1763 by Pontiac, a noted chief of the Ottawa tribe, who was not friendly to British power. The object of the plot was nothing less than the simultaneous capture of the chain of forts extending from Lake Michigan to the Niagara. The conspiracy failed of entire success, but nine British posts were assailed, and the garrisons massacred. The Indians sustained a defeat at Bushy Run near Fort Pitt, and the garrison was relieved. Pontiac was soon forced to abandon the siege of Detroit; the Indian forces began to melt away, and the hostile tribes were glad to obtain terms, and accept the proffered friendship and protection of the new lords of the soil.

At the time of the Conquest the population numbered only 75,000 souls, including 8,000 Indians. The pages of this Directory disclose how great has been the advance during the century. It is worthy of note that now, for the first time, was a printing press used in Canada. The first number of the first newspaper—the Quebec Gazette—appeared June 21st, 1764.

The country, which now received the name of the Province of Quebec, remained for some years under military rule. Gen. Murray, after the peace, was appointed the first Governor General; Gen. Gage was in command of the Montreal District, and Col. Burton of the Three Rivers District. The Executive Council was composed of the lieutenant governors of Montreal and Three Rivers, the chief justice, the inspector general of customs, and eight of the leading inhabitants of the colony.

In 1766, Gen. Carleton, afterwards Lord Dorchester, was appointed Governor General. Gen. Carleton, who had taken a prominent part in the capture of Quebec, continued to be connected with Canada for six and thirty years.

The French Canadians, who constituted the immense majority of the inhabitants, soon began to express dissatisfaction at the continuance of military rule. The administration of the civil law was defective. The barristers and judges not understanding French, the people were under the necessity of carrying on their lawsuits in the English language. Memorials were addressed to the Crown by the discontented majority. In 1770, the Governor went to England to give testimony respecting the affairs of the province. The result of the inquiry was the passing of the "Quebec Act" by the English Parliament in 1774, for reconstructing the government of the Province of Quebec. This measure provided for the free exercise of the Roman Catholic religion by the French Canadians, subject to the king's supremacy, and that the clergy of the church of Rome might "hold, receive and enjoy their accustomed dues and rights, with respect to such persons only as shall profess the said religion." It further provided that "in all matters of controversy relative to property and civil rights, resort shall be had to the laws of Canada, as the rule for the decision of the same." The Act confirmed the criminal law of England as the law to be administered in the province. It further provided for the establishment of a Legislative Council, to consist of residents appointed by the king, not exceeding 23, nor less than 17, in number. Thus, by express provisions of the Legislature of the mother country, the inhabitants of the conquered territory were secured in the enjoyment of their civil rights the free exercise of their religion, and the protection of their own civil laws and customs. This liberality to the French Canadians was displeasing to the British residents, and was denounced by the Congress of the other American colonies which met in Philadelphia in September; but it was highly acceptable to the Canadian clergy, as well as to the principal inhabitants of the colony.

FROM THE QUEBEC ACT TO THE DIVISION OF THE PROVINCE. 1774-1791.

The colonies which had so recently exerted themselves for the extension of British rule in North America were now on the point of offering armed resistance to the mother country. The same year in which the Quebec Act became law, Canada received an invitation to send representatives to Philadelphia to concert measures of union and defence. But if the French Canadians disliked the British, who had recently come amongst them, they hated and distrusted their fellow colonists in New England much more; and the Congress had indiscreetly increased this distrust by its denunciation of the Quebec Act. "Nor can we suppress our astonishment," it had been declared in a document addressed to the people of Great Britain, "that a British Parliament should ever consent to establish in that colony (Canada) a religion that often drenched your island in blood, and has disseminated impiety, bigotry, persecution, murder and rebellion, through every part of the world." Canada, therefore, with this document before it, shewed no disposition to take part in the Congress. The following year coercive measures were resorted to by the latter. Gen. Arnold led an army against Quebec, and Generals Montgomery and Schuyler against Montreal. There were few British troops in the province, and the invaders advanced without much difficulty over large tracts of the country. The forts of Ticonderoga and Crown Point, on Lake Champlain; and Isle aux Noix, St. Johns, Chambly and Sorel, fell into the hands of Montgomery. The Americans still hoped that the Canadians would make common cause with them. A conciliatory address to the people was issued and widely circulated. The sympathizers with the revolutionary cause were, in truth, not few, and the ranks of the invading army were daily swelled by deserters. The French Canadians refused to take up arms with the revo-

Intionists, but they likewise refused, for the most part, to bear arms against them. The British population was very small. Montreal could make no effectual resistance, and presently Quebec was the only place that held the enemy in check. The strength of its defences saved the city, and probably the colony. Carleton, with only sixteen hundred men, of whom six hundred were militia, was able to repel all attacks. General Montgomery fell in an unsuccessful assault upon Quebec made on the 31st of December.

In the spring of 1776, the English received reinforcements. The American army, weakened by disease, fell back to Three Rivers. Governor Carleton pursued and captured the enemy's stores and artillery. The retreat was continued to Sorel, which was also retaken by the English troops; and the expulsion of the invading forces was speedily completed. The colonies in revolt now made fresh efforts to detach the Canadians from their allegiance. Franklin and others were sent as special commissioners. The offers were now more liberal: the Roman Catholic religion was to be respected, and the people allowed to govern themselves. But, on the other hand, the French Canadians had already got entire freedom of worship, and the protection of their ancient laws. They had almost all they desired, and refused to put in jeopardy the privileges already secured to them. The American colonies, though successful in shaking off their connection with the mother country, were unable to bring Canada into the Union, and on the recognition of American Independence on the 3rd of September, 1783, Canada remained a colony of Great Britain.

A large number of persons throughout the new confederation, who had remained faithful to the royal cause, being now treated with great severity by the American government, emigrated, and settled in Canada and the other British colonies, but chiefly in the western parts of Canada, now the Province of Ontario. The number of the United Empire Loyalists, as they were termed, that settled in Canada, is estimated at ten thousand. Their property had been confiscated, but by the liberality of the British government large sums were applied to their relief, and each of them received as a free gift from 200 to 5,500 acres of land in Canada or some other colony. Many of them endured great hardships in thus leaving their homes to begin life anew, but by their energy and enterprise they gave much valuable aid in developing the resources of the country.

There was now a growing agitation in the Province of Quebec for a representative system of government. The French Canadians, it is true, had been admitted from the first into the Legislative Council, but they were not in a majority there, whereas in an elective chamber they must almost necessarily have a very large majority. One of the most prominent agitators for a representative form of government was Du Calvet, a French Protestant, who was accused of aiding the insurgents during the revolutionary war. He strenuously advocated an elective assembly, and also the representation of Canada by six members in the British Parliament.

In 1785, Lord Dorchester returned to Canada as Governor General, Sir Frederick Haldimand who had held the office since 1778, having solicited his own recall. Notwithstanding the popularity of Lord Dorchester, discontent generally prevailed. At length, after petitions and counter-petitions had been canvassed for years, and transmitted to Britain, in 1789, the draft of a new constitution was sent to Lord Dorchester by Lord Granville, the colonial minister. By this it was proposed to divide the Province of Quebec into two—the Province of Upper Canada and the Province of Lower Canada. Each section was to have a Legislative Council and Assembly. "This separation I hope," said Mr. Pitt, then Chancellor of the Exchequer, will put an end to the competition between the old French inhabitants and the new settlers from Britain and the British colonies." The Upper Province was to give a great majority to the one nationality, and the Lower Province to the other. All taxes were to be imposed and the money disbursed under the control of the Legislature of each section.

The division of the Province was contrary to the advice of Lord Dorchester, but the measure finally became law in 1791. The Act provided that the Legislative Council of Lower Canada should be composed of not fewer than fifteen, and that of Upper Canada of not fewer than seven persons. Members were to hold their seats for life. The number of members to be elected to the Legislative Assembly of Upper Canada was not to be less than sixteen, and of Lower Canada not less than fifty. The Council and Assembly were to be called together at least once in every year: the Assembly to be elected for four years.

During the 30 years that the colony had been under British rule, the population had doubled in number. In 1761, it was about 70,000 souls, now it was over 135,000, of whom 120,000 were French Canadians. The inhabitants of the new Province of Upper Canada numbered only 10,000, and were nearly all of British origin. Within 80 years, however, the preponderance of population has been reversed, the inhabitants of the Upper Province now outnumbering by hundreds of thousands those of the other section.

FROM THE DIVISION OF THE PROVINCE TO THE UNION.

The first elections in Lower Canada under the new form of government took place in June, 1793. Fifty members were returned. Fifteen persons had been nominated legislative councillors. The Legislature was opened on the 17th of December by Gen. Clarke, (in the absence of Lord Dorchester) and sat till May, 1793. A contest took place at the opening of the Legislature as to the election of a speaker, and as to the language in which business should be conducted. Mr. Panet, the French candidate, was elected by 28 to 18, and it was resolved that the minutes, &c., be recorded in both languages. The revenue of the Lower Province was this year only $25,000.

The Parliament of Upper Canada met at Newark (Niagara) on the 17th of September, 1792, and was opened by Lieut. Gov. Simcoe. The Council numbered 7, and the Assembly 16. The Legislature in its first session passed an act introducing the English law "as the rule of decision in all matters of controversy relative to property and civil rights." The second act introduced trial by jury. The eighth and last act gave the names of "Eastern, Midland, Home and Western" to the four districts into which the province had been divided by Lord Dorchester in 1788. These divisions were afterward abolished in 1840. The following session (1793) the Legislature of Upper Canada abolished slavery. The owners of slaves then in the Province were to keep their rights, but the children born of female slaves were to become free at 25 years of age. In 1803, it was decided by Chief Justice Osgoode that slavery was incompatible with the laws of Lower Canada. In 1796, the seat of government of Upper Canada was removed from Niagara to York (Toronto) by Gov. Simcoe.

Lord Dorchester, who had been a faithful friend of Canada for more than thirty years, was succeeded in 1796 by Gen. Prescott. The country was now enjoying repose and steadily advancing in wealth and importance.

The bitterness which had previously existed between the French Canadians and British inhabitants of Lower Canada was now considerably moderated. This will be evident from the remarks of M. Plessis, parish priest of Quebec, in his funeral oration over Bishop Briand. "Our conquerors," he said, "regarded at first with a jealous eye and lowering brow, inspired in us feelings only of detestation or aversion. We could not be persuaded that a race of men strangers to our soil, to our language, and to our worship, could ever be willing to render to Canada an equivalent for what it lost by changing its masters. Generous nation, that has made us aware, by so many proofs, how ill founded were our prepossessions. Pardon us then, for that our first (and now past) distrustfulness of a foreign race, whose virtues, not being then experienced by us, we had not the happiness to know." &c.

Sir R. S. Milnes succeeded Prescott as lieutenant-governor of Lower Canada in 1799, and remained in office till 1805. On his retirement, the Hon. Thomas Dunn acted as administrator until 1807. Le Canadien newspaper, entirely in French, was first issued in November, 1806.

The relations between England and the United States at this time were beginning to cause no little disquietude and uneasiness. Mr. Dunn called out the militia of Lower Canada, and the response was prompt and satisfactory, and gave an emphatic contradiction to the reports which had been diligently spread, that the Canadians were only waiting for the approach of the invading army to flock to its standard. At this critical time Sir James Craig, a military officer, came out as Governor General, and remained till 1811. Sir James did not become popular with the French Canadians. It was a time of great irritation and disquietude. The Governor issued a general order exhorting the people to be on their guard against treasonable designs, and directing all militia men to watch attentively the actions of aliens amongst them. Col. Panet and other officers were dismissed from the militia on the charge of exciting discord and animosity between the two classes of British subjects. The Assembly, in 1808, adopted a bill by twenty-two to two excluding judges from seats in Parliament. The Legislative Council rejected the measure, and the Governor approved their course. The following session the Assembly engaged in discussions on constitutional questions, and was dissolved by the Governor after a session of five weeks, on the ground that the House was neglecting the matters submitted for its consideration, and wasting the time in fruitless debates. The new Parliament met in 1810, and forthwith proceeded to declare that it was an infringement of parliamentary privileges for the governor to censure the acts of the Assembly. The House also sought to bring the government officials under its control by offering to assume the payment of their salaries. The Assembly further demanded that a budget should be presented to it showing in detail all the estimated expenditure for the succeeding year. The Council and Assembly were at variance on the question of excluding Judge de Bonne. The Assembly passed a resolution that a judge of the Court of King's Bench could not sit or vote in the House. The Governor declared that he felt bound to oppose this assumption, and prorogued the Legislature. Proceedings were instituted against the proprietors and editors of Le Canadien for disseminating treasonable publications, and several of the opposition leaders were arrested. The Governor's health began to fail. The distrust and opposition he encountered at every step from a portion of the French Canadians awakened his indignation. "Base and daring fabricators of falsehood!" he exclaimed in an address to the Canadians, March 21st, "What do you know of me or my intentions? Canadians, ask the heads of your Church, who have opportunities of knowing me. These are men of honor and knowledge, from whom you ought to seek information and advice. The leaders of faction, the demagogues of a party, associate not with me; they cannot know me. For what purpose should I oppress you? Is it to serve the king? Is it for myself, then, that I should oppress you? Is it from ambition? What can you give me? Is it for power? Alas! my good friends, with a life now ebbing slowly to its period under the pressure of disease contracted in the service of my country, I look only to pass what it may please God to suffer to remain of it, in the comfort of retirement among my friends. I remain among you only in obedience to the commands of my Sovereign."

In his letters to Lord Liverpool he drew a dark picture of the discord and enmity between French and British colonists, and suggested that it would be better, rather than leave matters as they were, to unite the two Provinces. In the session of 1810-11, the bill for excluding judges of the King's Bench from seats in the Assembly was again carried, and this time it received the Royal sanction. Shortly afterward Sir James Craig returned to England in consequence of ill health, and died the same year. Mr. Dunn assumed the administration of the government for a short time. Then Sir George Prevost, who had been lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia, was transferred to Canada. Under his conciliatory policy, much of the irritation and animosity between the two nationalities was removed.

The war which had long been apprehended between Great Britain and the United States commenced the following year. M. Plessis, the Roman Catholic Bishop, profited by this occasion to claim the restoration of the rights and status of the Church as they existed in Canada before the conquest. The Legislature of Lower Canada passed an act empowering the Governor General, in case of invasion, to embody the whole militia of the country, and also voted £15,000 per annum for five years toward defraying the expenses of defending the Province. The Legislature of Upper Canada also passed measures for the defence of the Province and for raising and training the militia. The population of Upper Canada had increased at this date to 80,000, and that of the Lower Province to 200,000.

Success attended the first steps taken against the enemy by the British forces in Canada. Fort Michilimackinac, situated on the island of the same name, in the strait between Lakes Huron and Michigan, was captured, and an American force, under Gen. Hull, which had crossed over from Detroit, was forced to retire. Gen. Brock, commander of the forces in Upper Canada, on the 11th of August advanced on Detroit. Hull, the American general, capitulated, and 2,500 prisoners, and thirty-three pieces of cannon, fell into the hands of the English general.

Another attempt was made to invade the Province in October. A crossing was effected above Queenston on the night of the 12th. The following morning Gen. Brock was engaged in opposing the crossing of the Americans near the village, when the body that had already crossed above took possession of Queenston Heights. The British general immediately led a force to regain possession of the Heights, but while gallantly advancing to the attack he was struck down by a ball. Gen. Sheaffe took command, and the attack was continued with so much determination that the enemy was dislodged with great loss. The English were every where completely victorious. A subsequent attack made in November, was also repelled. In Lower Canada the invading force, under Gen. Dearborn, retired without accomplishing anything. The campaign proved favorable to England, and the Canadian militia gained some renown.

Hostilities were resumed early the following year. The Indians, under the command of their gallant chief, Tecumseh, gave valuable aid to the British forces. One of the most notable events of the campaign was the battle of Chateauguay. An American army of 3500, under Gen. Hampton, was on the way from Lake Champlain to Montreal. A thousand Canadian militia under Colonel de Salaberry opposed their progress at the junction of the Outarde and Chateauguay rivers. A battle ensued in which the Americans were defeated and forced to retreat. Meanwhile the enemy, who had gained some successes in Upper Canada, was concentrating his forces to co-operate with Gen. Hampton in the attack on Montreal. While on the way down the St Lawrence, Gen. Wilkinson, the American commander, landed part of his troops under Gen. Covington to give battle to a small Canadian force under Col. Morrison, that had been sent to intercept the invaders. A battle was fought at Chrysler's Farm, county of Dundas, where the Americans, though three times as numerous as the force opposed to them, were completely routed, and their general killed. The defeat of Hampton at Chateauguay, and of Wilkinson at Chrysler's Farm, led the Americans to abandon their design on Montreal.

In March of the following year (1814), the Americans were defeated at Lacolle, and their depot at Oswego was destroyed. The English failed in an attack on Sackett's harbour, and were forced to retreat at Chippewa. A hard fought battle took place at Lundy's Lane near Niagara Falls, after which the enemy retreated during the night to Chippewa. The war was subsequently terminated by the Treaty of Ghent, 24th December, 1814.

About the time peace was restored the Legislature of Lower Canada met at Quebec. The political discussions which had ceased during the war now commenced afresh. M. L. J. Papineau was chosen Speaker in the place of M. Panet, who was nominated a member of the Legislative Council. The elder Papineau had long been one of the most prominent champions of French Canadian nationality, and his son, the new Speaker, was destined to become the greatest agitator of his time.

Sir George Prevost, who had been regarded by the French Canadians as their firm friend, went home at the close of the war to defend himself against some charges that had been made against his conduct of military affairs during the last campaign. He died shortly after his arrival in London. Sir Gordon Drummond administered the government for a short time, when he was succeeded in 1816 by Sir John C. Sherbrooke, ex-governor of Nova Scotia, who, like Sir George Prevost, endeavoured to gain the good will, or at least remove the animosity, of the French Canadian majority. M. Plessis, the Bishop, was invited to take a seat at the Council board, with the reservation that the right should not extend to his successors. A similar honor was conferred on M. Papineau. The principal topic of discussion now was the Estimates. The Legislative Assembly claimed the right of controlling the entire expenditure. In Upper Canada a similar discussion was proceeding.

Another subject that engrossed much attention was the Clergy Reserves. A large amount of territory had been reserved by the Imperial Act of 1791 for the support of the Protestant clergy. The lauds had been appropriated exclusively to the support of the Church of England in Canada. At first, they had yielded no revenue, the rents being insufficient to cover the expenses of management. They remained in the hands of government, and the only money paid to the Church of England up to 1821 was a sum of £427 in 1816. Other bodies of Protestants began to lay claim to a share of the fund, and addresses were passed by the Houses of Assembly recommending the distribution of the money among all denominations. The subject was not finally disposed of till 1855, when, after certain provision had been made for the widows and orphans of deceased clergymen, and for securing the incomes then enjoyed, the rest of the fund was applied to municipal purposes. The colony, notwithstanding these political discussions, was in a highly prosperous condition, and the great majority of the people, busy and contented, took little interest in the debates on constitutional questions.

In 1818, Sir J. C. Sherbrooke was permitted to retire from office, and the Duke of Richmond came out as Governor. His administration was brief, being bitten by a fox, he died of hydrophobia, August, 1819. The Earl of Dalhousie succeeded him. The struggle of the Assembly on the question of voting the supplies continued. Between the Legislative Council, of which the majority of members were British, and the Legislative Assembly, composed almost exclusively of French Canadians, there was continual strife and animosity. The Assembly objected, in particular, to vote the salaries of certain obnoxious officials.

A Bill for the union of the two Provinces was introduced into the Imperial Parliament in 1822, but thrown out on the second reading. When the French Canadians learned that this Bill had been introduced by the government, they loudly denounced the project. The people of Upper Canada were not in favour of it, and when the Lower Canadian Assembly met in January, 1823, it forthwith passed resolutions condemning the Bill, and Messrs. Papineau and Nelson were dispatched to London to protest against it. The project was therefore abandoned for a time.

Meanwhile, the dispute on the question of voting the supplies continued more fiercely than ever. In 1827 the Lower Canada Assembly again stopped the supplies, as they had done for several years previously. Lord Dalhousie prorogued the Chambers the next day. A new parliament was summoned, which elected M. Papineau to be Speaker. The Governor disapproved of the selection, and requested the House to propose some one else. The House, refusing to comply, was immediately prorogued. The House of Commons appointed a committee that reported at length on the state of Canadian affairs, but no definite action was taken. Sir James Kempt, from Nova Scotia, replaced Lord Dalhousie in Lower Canada, and Sir John Colborne came out to Upper Canada.

Matters were becoming more serious. In Upper Canada there was a strong republican element that looked with admiration at the rapid growth of the neighboring states. The fact that the leading positions in the government were held by a small number of officials and their family connections was another cause of much dissatisfaction. In Lower Canada there was the ancient hostility of race. Concessions which, if made in time, would have allayed the discontent, were withheld. In the Lower Canadian House of Assembly 92 resolutions condemning the government for their management of affairs, for the exclusion of the French Canadians from office, and setting forth other matters of complaint, were introduced and passed in the spring of 1834. The Imperial government in 1835 sent out a commission to inquire into the grievances complained of. The report of the commission was submitted to Parliament in 1837, but the majority of the House of Commons was opposed to most of the demands of the Lower Canadian opposition. The Imperial Act of 1791 had authorized the establishment of Church of England rectories in the parishes of Canada. Under the authority of this act, fifty-seven rectories were established in Upper Canada by Sir John Colborne in 1836. This act caused increased excitement. Steps were taken by the leaders of the malcontents to enrol the disaffected. In this their success was not great, for few of the common people were disposed to take up arms to enforce the demands made by their leaders. The clergy, and all the most prudent and moderate chiefs of the opposition, strongly opposed any resort to violence. Some of the more violent agitators, however, could not be restrained. The first outbreak occurred in Montreal on the 7th of November, 1837, when the "Sons of Liberty," an organization of young men of Montreal, assailed a body of volunteers in the street. In the course of the month, several encounters took place between the insurgents and the military at St. Denis, St. Charles, St. Eustache, and other points. At St. Denis, the British troops, being few in number, were repulsed; but at St. Charles, the rebels were routed with great slaughter by a detachment under Col. Wetherall. At St. Eustache also, the loss of the insurgents was very heavy. In Upper Canada, the insurgents, under the command of W. L. Mackenzie, were defeated near Toronto by a force of volunteers commanded by Sir F. B. Head. The Earl of Durham, the new Governor General, came out with special powers to inquire into the state of Canadian affairs. The constitution of Lower Canada had been suspended and a special council appointed. The Governor reported strongly in favour of the union of the provinces, but some acts of his administration being censured in the House of Lords, he was recalled. Before the rebellion was finally suppressed, several attempts were made to invade Canada from the American frontier by sympathizers on the other side, but these attempts were all speedily defeated. The subsequent risings were punished with greater severity than the first, a number of the leading rebels being executed under sentence of court martial, and many more transported. Some of the chief instigators of revolt, however, escaped. Mackenzie, Papineau, and others were, some years later, permitted to return to Canada, and obtained seats in the Legislative Assembly.

The insurrection being at an end, the project of uniting the two Canadas was urged on by the British ministry. The Right Hon. C. P. Thompson, an eminent merchant, (afterwards Lord Sydenham) came out as Governor General (1839). The assent of the Special Council of Lower Canada, and of the Legislature of Upper Canada, was obtained to the measure. A bill was drafted and sent to England by Lord Sydenham, and passed in 1840. The Union took effect by royal proclamation on the 10th of February, 1841.

FROM THE UNION TO CONFEDERATION—1841-1867.

Canada was now fully under "Responsible Government," the ministry having seats in the Legislature, and holding office so long only as they enjoyed the confidence of a majority of the members of the Lower House. The Local Legislatures were abolished. Upper and Lower Canada were represented by an equal number of members in the Legislative Assembly of Canada. To the House was conceded also entire control over the expenditure. The Legislative Councillors were to be appointed by the Crown for life.

The first United Parliament was opened at Kingston in June, 1841. In September of that year, Lord Sydenham, who had been a very able and popular Governor, died from the effects of a fall from his horse. Sir Charles Bagot then came out as Governor General, and held office till 1843. In 1844, the seat of government was removed from Kingston to Montreal. Lord Metcalfe administered the government from 1843 to 1845. Being then obliged to retire in consequence of ill health, he was succeeded by Lord Cathcart, who held office till 1847, when the Earl of Elgin was appointed Governor. The administration of this able statesman was prosperous and satisfactory. Some agitation occurred during his term of office respecting the "Rebellion Losses Bill," for indemnifying persons who had sustained loss during the insurrection of 1837-8. Violent opposition was made to this measure, which was considered by many to be too liberal as well as too indiscriminate. Lord Elgin, after assenting to the Bill, was hooted and pelted in the streets of Montreal, and the Parliament buildings were set on fire by the mob, and a large amount of property, including the library and valuable records, was destroyed. The seat of government was afterwards removed to Toronto.

The succeeding years were years of steady progress and prosperity. A few events only will be noted here, but historical details respecting various subjects will be found under other headings. In 1850, a free banking law was passed. In 1851, five cent postage was introduced. In 1853, the Legislative Assembly was increased from eighty-four to one hundred and thirty members, sixty-five from each section of the Province. In 1858, the decimal system of currency was adopted. Sir Edmund Head succeeded Lord Elgin in 1854 and continued in office till 1860. In 1855 the Clergy Reserves question was settled by the Legislature, and Seigniorial Tenure in Lower Canada was abolished. In 1856, the elective principle was applied to the Legislative Council, and it became an elective chamber. It was to be composed of the members appointed by the Crown before the 14th of July, 1856, and of forty-eight members elected for forty-eight electoral divisions, into which the Province was divided. In 1858, Ottawa was selected by the Queen as the permanent seat of government, and Parliament buildings were erected there. In 1859-60, the Statutes of the Province were consolidated into three volumes, one volume containing the Acts relating to all Canada, and the other two volumes embracing the Statutes relating to Upper and Lower Canada respectively. In 1860, the British Provinces were visited by the Prince of Wales. Whilst in Canada the Prince inaugurated the Victoria Bridge and laid the corner stone of the Parliamentary buildings at Ottawa. The seizure of Mason and Slidell on board the British steamer Trent towards the close of 1861, and the prospect of a war between England and the United States, caused intense excitement throughout Canada and prompted the organization and enrolment of numerous bodies of volunteer militia. These corps in later years have twice done good service (1866, 1870) in repelling incursions of Fenian marauders. In 1865-6, the Civil Code of Lower Canada, the compilation of which had been entrusted to three commissioners several years before was completed and promulgated. In 1864, great difficulty was experienced in carrying on the government. The majority of Lower Canadian members and the majority of Upper Canadian members were arrayed on opposite sides of the House, and the two parties were very evenly balanced. The number of members in the Legislative Assembly was the same for each section of the Province, and although the population of Upper Canada now greatly exceeded that of Lower Canada, the Lower Canadian members opposed the concession of any increase of representation to Upper Canada, because at the time of the Union, the representation had been thus settled notwithstanding the fact that at that time the population of Lower Canada was by far the largest. The demand for "Representation according to Population" was now every year becoming more urgent on the part of Upper Canada. A project for uniting the British North American Provinces under one Confederation had been before the country from time to time for eighty years, and more especially from the date of Lord Durham's administration. The desire to carry out this scheme induced some of the leaders of the Upper Canada opposition to form a coalition with the Lower Canadian majority. A government was thus formed, pledged to introduce the federal system. After conference with the other Provinces, Confederation was carried, to take effect 1st of July, 1867. The Act of Union will be found in this volume. The construction of an Intercolonial Railway was one of the stipulations of the Confederation Act, and this is now in course of construction.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

DESCRIPTION OF ONTARIO AND QUEBEC.

The Provinces of Ontario and Quebec extend in an easterly direction from near the Red River settlement to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and from Michigan to New Brunswick. They extend northward from the Canadian lakes and the St. Lawrence to the high ridge of land which separates the rivers of Canada from those of the territory hitherto known as the Hudson Bay territory, but now forming a part of the Dominion of Canada.

The provinces are bounded north by the Hudson Bay territory; east by the Gulf of St. Lawrence; south by the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, and New York, and Lakes Erie and Ontario; and west by Lakes St. Clair, Huron and Superior, and the north west Indian territories.

The area cannot be accurately stated, as the northern and western boundaries have not yet been surveyed. The nearest approximation is 331,230 square miles, of which 121,200 are included in the Province of Ontario, and 210,020 in the Province of Quebec.

The principal rivers are the St. Lawrence, which drains an area of 565,900 square miles; the Ottawa, 450 miles long, which forms a central boundary between the two sections of the province; the St. Maurice, nearly 400 miles in length; the Saguenay noted for its fine scenery; the Richelieu, the Niagara, and others. The Province of Ontario has for its southern and western boundaries five great lakes—Superior, Huron and Georgian Bay, St. Clair, Erie, and Ontario, of which the total length is 1,085 miles, and area 80,000 square miles. In some parts of the Province of Quebec, especially in the Eastern Townships, the scenery is extremely picturesque. In the Province of Ontario the surface is undulating rather than mountainous. A main water shed separates the waters of the St. Lawrence from those of the Ottawa.

The system of inland navigation is the most extensive and perfect in the world. The statistics given under separate heads will convey some idea of the extent of railway communication; of the agricultural and mineral wealth; the volume of trade, and the vast resources and general prosperity of the provinces.

SKETCH OF THE HISTORY OF NOVA SCOTIA.

I. From its discovery to 1784.

Nova Scotia, up to the year 1784, included the Province now called New Brunswick, and it also formerly included part of the present state of Maine, the whole being known under the name of Acadie. This was the term used in the original commission of the king of France, and is found in public documents as far back as 1604. The country was discovered by Sebastian Cabot in 1498, but may have been noticed by John Cabot in his voyage the previous year. A few years after the discovery by Cabot, French fishermen from Basque and Bretagne arrived at a promontory of an island to the southwest, and named it Cape Breton. This name was afterward applied to the whole island, which now forms part of Nova Scotia.

In 1518, Baron de Léry, an adventurous Frenchman, anxious that France should have a share in the newly discovered territories, proposed to found a settlement in Acadie. He accordingly set sail with a company of settlers, but owing to tempestuous weather and other adverse circumstances, the enterprise miscarried, and the expedition was abandoned. In 1599 Cape Breton was resorted to by persons from England. In 1598, the Marquis de la Roche made an attempt to colonize the country by convicts. Fearing to set his settlers free on the mainland, he first landed forty of them on Sable Island, a spot ill suited to support life. But when the Marquis attempted to return to the island from the mainland, his ship was driven by a storm to France. There he was immediately taken prisoner, in a civil war then raging, and it was not till five years had elapsed that the wretched survivors, twelve in number, were rescued from their miserable position.

No further attempt was made till about 1603 when Sieur Dupont Gravé, a merchant of St. Malo, lured by the prospect of gain, sought to obtain a monopoly of the fur traffic in Canada and Acadie. With the assistance of de Chaste, governor of Dieppe, a company of Rouen merchants was organized, and an expedition fitted out and placed under the command of Champlain. In 1603, Champlain sailed up the St. Lawrence as far as the Lachine rapids; and Henry IV of France was so well pleased with the result of the expedition, that he granted to M. de Monts, a Huguenot, who succeeded to de Chaste on the death of the latter, a monopoly of the fur traffic in all parts of North America lying between Cape Race, in Newfoundland, and the 50th degree of north latitude. The second expedition under de Monts sailed in March, 1604. Part of the expedition went on to Canada, but de Monts remained at Acadie. This was considered the finest country of La Nouvelle France. It possessed fine ports, a fertile soil, and a temperate and salubrious climate. The Micmac Indians, a branch of the Algonquin family, who then inhabited the country, received the French with kindness. De Monts landed first at Port Rossignol, now called Liverpool, and afterward coasted the peninsula as far as the Bay of Fundy. The expedition also stopped at Port Royal, now called Annapolis, where Baron de Poutrincourt, a companion of de Monts, formed a settlement. De Monts sailed on round the bay, and discovered the River St. John. He finally wintered on a rocky islet at the mouth of the St. Croix. Thirty-six of the party died of scurvy during the winter. In spring de Monts went further south. During his absence, Dupont Gravé arrived from France with supplies and forty additional colonists, and on the return of de Monts, the entire body set out for Port Royal, where they began to establish a settlement. In this work, the celebrated Lescarbot, a friend of Poutrincourt, is said to have afforded much valuable assistance. Under his guidance the colonists constructed a variety of apparatus and machines which were very useful to them in their new settlement. But unexpected misfortunes led to the abandonment of the colony. A marauding party of Dutchmen from the New Netherlands seized a whole year's stores of peltries; and, some months later, the merchants of St. Malo, jealous of the monopoly of the fur traffic enjoyed by the Rouen company, succeeded in getting de Monts' charter revoked. In 1607, Poutrincourt, Lescarbot and the other colonists abandoned the settlement at Port Royal, and returned to France.

Three years later, Poutrincourt, the governor, who had obtained a grant of Port Royal from de Monts, which had been confirmed by the king, returned with a number of skilled artisans and resumed his labors. But the Jesuits, after the assassination of Henry IV., having succeeded in effecting an entrance into the country, and having founded a settlement of their own at St. Sauveur, dissensions sprang up which eventually led to the abandonment of the colony a second time; and many of the Huguenot settlers withdrew from the country in disgust. The colonists of Virginia also interfered, claiming Acadie for Britain by right of discovery. Captain Argall, from Virginia, following up this pretension, appeared suddenly before St. Sauveur, the Jesuit settlement, founded by La Saussage, and carried the place by storm. The government of Virginia subsequently resolved to expel the French from every point south of the 45th parallel of north latitude, including the central region of Acadie; and Sir Samuel Argall, with three armed vessels, was commissioned to carry out the resolution. Port Royal was captured and destroyed in 1613, the colonists were dispersed, and Poutrincourt returned to France. This is stated to have been the first conflict between English and French in the new world.

The Virginians, however, soon left Acadie. In 1621, Sir William Alexander obtained from James I. of England a grant of the territory lying to the east of a line drawn from the St. Croix to the St. Lawrence. The land was called Nova Scotia in the patent. In 1622, Sir William sent a body of colonists to begin a settlement. Arriving late in the season, they were obliged to winter in Newfoundland. In 1623, they reached Cape Sable, but finding the French in possession of the places they intended to occupy, they returned to Britain.

In 1624, Charles I. granted a large extent of land in Nova Scotia to a number of persons who were created "baronets of Nova Scotia." The object was to promote the colonization of the country, each baronet receiving 16,000 acres of land, and being bound to send out six settlers. In 1623, Port Royal was taken by Sir David Kertk, a Huguenot officer in the English service. The following year, Sir William Alexander ceded part of his territory to Claude de la Tour, a French prisoner who had married an English lady. At this time the French still held possession of Cape Sable and other places in the south. De la Tour was sent to take possession of Acadie, but his son, who held one of the forts, refused to give it up. A few years later, by the Treaty of St. Germain en Laye, in 1632, Charles I. renounced the pretensions that had been put forward to Acadie by his subjects, and possession of the colony was confirmed to France. It was now divided into three provinces, of which the governors were de Razillai, young de la Tour, and Denys. Razillai was succeeded in 1635, by Charnizay. Disputes now commenced between de la Tour and Charnizay as to the bounds of their respective territories. Louis XIII. interfered, and in 1638, defined the boundaries anew; but de la Tour would not submit, and for several years a fierce struggle was carried on. Finally, in 1645, Charnizay, in the absence of de la Tour, assaulted the fort of his enemy. Madame de la Tour made a gallant defence, and obtained favorable terms of capitulation. But Charnizay, mortified at finding the band of defenders so small, treacherously hanged all but one. Madame de la Tour died soon afterward. Charnizay was then named chief governor of Acadie. On the death of Charnizay in 1650, de la Tour returned. In 1651, he married Charnizay's widow, and claimed Nova Scotia, as his right; but he was soon assailed by a creditor of Charnizay, named La Borgue, who destroyed the settlement of La Hève. Before the contest was decided an enemy from without interfered. Cromwell, who was now Protector of England, sent out an expedition in 1654, under Colonel Sedgwick who defeated both de la Tour and la Borgue, and made himself master of all the strong posts in the colony. De la Tour appealed to Cromwell for redress. His claim was allowed, and Cromwell granted to him and two English gentlemen the greater part of Acadie. The rights of de la Tour were afterwards purchased by the other proprietors; but in 1667, by the Treaty of Breda, Acadie was again transferred to France.

During these vicissitudes, little had been done by either English or French towards the development and improvement of the country. In 1685, the population was reported to be about nine hundred. The French establishments were so ill protected that a band of pirates, numbering only one hundred and ten, captured Pentagoet, the headquarters Gov. Chambly.

In 1690, when the Canadians and New Englanders were engaged in hostilities, Port Royal surrendered to Admiral Phipps from Massachusetts, and other Acadian posts were captured by Col. Church. The British remained masters of the greater part of Acadie till 1696, when it was once more restored to France by the Treaty of Ryswick. M. de Villebois, who was governor at this time, having died July, 1700, Brouillon succeeded.

War being declared against France at the beginning of Queen Anne's reign, the possession of Acadie was again disputed. The New Englanders organized another expedition for its conquest in 1707. On the sixth of June of that year, a squadron of two ships of war, and twenty-three transports carrying 2000 men, appeared before Port Royal. The fortifications being well manned and defended, the attack was repulsed; but in 1710, Port Royal was forced to surrender to another colonial expedition under Gen. Nicholson, and the loss of Acadie was involved in the surrender. The power of France being weakened by protracted war, she was compelled by the Treaty of Utrecht, in 1713, to cede to Britain not only Acadie, but also all her pretensions to Newfoundland and the Hudson Bay Territory. The Island of Cape Breton, however, was retained by the French, and after the loss of Nova Scotia they began to construct fortifications at Louisbourg, at a cost of more than one million sterling, as a protection to their Canadian possessions. The island became an important fishing station, and Louisbourg continued to be the capital for many years.

France having declared war against England in 1744, Gov. Shirley, of Massachusetts, formed the design of taking Louisbourg, though the fortress was supposed to be almost impregnable. New Hampshire, Connecticut, New York, and other colonies furnished troops, provisions and munitions of war. The expedition, which was placed under the command of General Pepperell, sailed from Boston, and arrived at Canseau on the 5th of April, 1745. Here it was joined by some English ships under Admiral Warren. A landing was effected in rear of the town early in May, and the siege commenced. Preparations had been made for an assault, when the French governor, Duchambreau, capitulated on the 16th of June. The garrison marched out with the honors of war. An immense booty, valued at a million sterling, fell into the hands of the victors. The Canadians, in great alarm at the conquest of this stronghold, sent to France for help, and a formidable expedition was sent out the following year under the command of the Duke D'Anville, to retake Louisbourg and Acadie. But the hostile fleet met with terrible disasters. The ships being dispersed and wrecked by violent storms, and the soldiers and crews thinned by disease, nothing could be accomplished. The duke died of vexation, and the vice-admiral, d'Estournelle, killed himself in despair. Only a remnant of the expedition returned to France. By the Treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle in 1748, Britain agreed to restore Cape Breton to France, but the cost of the New England expedition was refunded to the colonies by the mother country.

After the Treaty, disputes commenced as to the boundaries of the French and British possessions in America. A joint commission was appointed in 1749, but the disputes led to hostilities from time to time between the colonists of the respective countries. To prevent encroachments on the territory in dispute, the governor of Canada induced three thousand Acadian French to settle on the north shore of the Bay of Fundy, and on Isle St. Jean (Prince Edward Island).

The harassing alternation of proprietorship had hitherto prevented any attempts to develop the resources of Nova Scotia. At this time, however, an effort was made to colonize it by emigrants sent out at the expense of the British government. Free grants of land, together with tools, arms and provisions for a year, were offered to all soldiers who were willing to settle in the colony. About four thousand disbanded soldiers and their families, attracted by these liberal offers, arrived at Chebucto Harbor on the 21st of June, 1749, and the town of Halifax was founded on its shores. Cornwallis became the first governor of the colony, and appointed a council of six members. In 1753, about 1500 Germans joined the colony, and settled in the county of Lunenburg.

Meantime the boundary disputes continued. The British claimed the whole territory north to the St. Lawrence including the Peninsula of Gaspé. The Seven Years' War (1756—1763) which resulted in the cession of Canada to Britain, and thus put an end to the boundary question, soon after commenced. In 1755, the French fort Beauséjour, on the north shore of the Bay of Fundy, (part of the disputed territory,) was captured by an expedition from Boston under Col. Winslow, assisted by regular troops under Col. Monckton. An incident of much interest now occurred, for the explanation of which we must go back a few years. After the cession of Acadie to Britain by the Treaty of 1713, many of the Acadians remained in the country, but refused to take the oath of allegiance. They were allowed to follow their own mode of worship, and to have magistrates of their own selection. Being exempted from bearing arms against their countrymen, they received the name of neutral French. By intriguing with the Indians who had also resented the cession of the country to Britain and were hostile to the English settlers, these neutral French proved troublesome and dangerous neighbors. In the course of the boundary disputes they assisted and encouraged the hostile Indians, who were a source of great annoyance and uneasiness to the British. It was resolved, therefore, to remove the entire population and disperse them through the other colonies. This resolution was rigorously carried out; the greater part of the Acadians, about 7,000 in number, being hurried on board ship, their property destroyed or confiscated, and themselves scattered over the continent. Some of the exiles returned to Nova Scotia after the peace of 1763.

In 1758, a constitution was granted to Nova Scotia. From the year 1719, the administration of public affairs had been vested in a governor and council. On the 2nd of October, 1758, the first Parliament assembled at Halifax. The House of Assembly comprised 22 members elected by the people, and the combined Executive and Legislative Council, of twelve members, appointed by the Crown.

The capture of the important post of Louisbourg was one of the objects most ardently desired at the commencement of the war. An attempt to take it was made without success in 1756. In 1758, however, the stronghold was forced to surrender to a powerful expedition under Generals Wolfe and Amherst, and Admiral Boscawen. The fortifications were destroyed, and the inhabitants sent to France. Isle St. Jean also passed from French hands, and was annexed to the government of Nova Scotia.

The Treaty of 1763 restored peace, and the colony now made rapid progress. The island of Cape Breton was at this time annexed to Nova Scotia, and in 1765, was formed into a county. In 1770, St. John's Island, (Prince Edward Island) was separated from the government of Nova Scotia, and became a separate colony.

At the close of the American Revolutionary war, the population of Nova Scotia was greatly augmented by the influx of about twenty thousand loyalists from the revolted colonies, who settled in Nova Scotia and Cape Breton.

In 1784, all the part of Nova Scotia north of the Bay of Fundy was separated from the rest of the Province, and constituted a separate colony, called New Brunswick. The same year a separate government was given to Cape Breton, with Sydney as the chief town.

FROM THE SEPARATION FROM NEW BRUNSWICK TO CONFEDERATION.

The events of this period are of a pacific character, and relate to internal development and improvement. The great Pictou road was opened in 1792; the militia organized in 1806. The next important event was the re-union of Cape Breton with Nova Scotia in 1820, when it was allowed to send two members to the Legislature. In 1823, Roman Catholics were freed from all disabilities, and placed on the same footing as members of other denominations. In 1838, the combined Executive and Legislative Council was dissolved, and separate Councils substituted. In 1848, Responsible Government was fully introduced.

In 1861, the Legislature of Nova Scotia unanimously adopted a resolution favorable to Inter-colonial Union. The resolution reads as follows:

Whereas, The subject of a Union of the North American Provinces, or of the Maritime Provinces, from time to time has been mooted and discussed in all the colonies;

And Whereas, While many advantages may be secured by such an union, either of all these Provinces or a portion of them, many and serious obstacles are presented which can only be overcome by mutual consultation of the leading men of the colonies, and by free communication with the Imperial government.

Therefore Resolved, That His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor be respectfully requested to put himself in communication with His Grace the Colonial Secretary and His Excellency the Governor General of the N. A. colonies, in order to ascertain the policy of Her Majesty's government, and the opinions of the other colonies, with a view to the enlightened consideration of a question involving the highest interest, and upon which the public mind in all the Provinces ought to be set at rest.

This led to a conference at Charlottetown to consider the advantage of an union of the Maritime colonies. But Canada having proposed a more extensive scheme, the conference was adjourned to Quebec. Delegates from Nova Scotia took part. But after the Quebec conference, a strong opposition was made to the scheme proposed. In 1866, however, the House of Assembly, by a vote of 31 to 19 authorized the Lieutenant Governor to appoint delegates to arrange with the Imperial Government a scheme of union. Delegates were appointed, who, together with the delegates from Canada and New Brunswick, met in London in December, 1866. The Bill for the Confederation of the Provinces was introduced into the Imperial Legislature, and received the Royal assent on the 23th of March following. The minority continued to oppose the scheme, but the anti-confederate party is diminishing, and it may be hoped that all discontent will have vanished in the course of a few years.

DESCRIPTION OF NOVA SCOTIA.

The Province, including Cape Breton, is about 350 miles in length, and 100 in breadth. The country is beautifully variegated by ranges of lofty hills and broad valleys, both of which run longitudinally through the Province. Its Atlantic frontier, for twenty miles inland, is composed of a poor soil, though rich in gold and other valuable minerals. The Cobequid range of mountains, as it is called, runs through the interior of the Province. The summits of a few of the conical mounts of this range ascend 1100 feet, and the land may be cultivated nearly to the top. On each side of these mountains is an extensive range of rich arable lands, where agricultural operations are carried on extensively, and with profit.

The Province is 900 miles in circumference; and, with the exception of fifteen miles, where it joins New Brunswick, it faces the Atlantic, Bay of Fundy, Straits of Northumberland, and Gulf of St. Lawrence. Deep and spacious harbors indent its seaboard; and the interior is pierced in all directions by navigable rivers, the country being thus admirably adapted for commercial enterprise.

SKETCH OF THE HISTORY OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

The leading events in the history of New Brunswick up to the year 1784 will be found under the head of Nova Scotia, and need not be repeated here.

The first colonists were the settlers brought out by de Monts in 1604. In 1633 French settlements were made on the Bay of Chaleurs. This bay was so named by Jacques Cartier from the intense heat of the weather on the 9th July, 1534, when he entered the Bay in the course of his memorable voyage to the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

In 1672, the French established settlements on the river Miramichi, and at other places on the eastern coast. After the cession of the country to Britain in 1713, part of what is now New Brunswick, was claimed by the French as belonging to Canada, and the disputes arising from these conflicting pretensions led to collisions between the settlers. The colonists also suffered much from the Indians, who remained unfriendly to the English for many years. Finally, in 1761, the Indians consented to a peace, and the hatchet was buried.

The northern counties remained uninhabited till the middle of the eighteenth century. In the summer of 1764, the first British settler, Mr. Wm. Davidson, a gentleman from the north of Scotland, arrived in the county of Northumberland. At this time not a single house was erected, nor a single European resident within the limits of the county. The Micmac Indians were still the virtual lords of the soil.

In 1784 the present limits of New Brunswick were divided from Nova Scotia and erected into a separate Province by a special constitutional charter, the administration of the government being confided to Col. Carleton. In the autumn of 1785 the first general election of representatives took place; and in January 1786 the first Legislative Assembly was held at St. John. Two years after the governor's appointment the city of Fredericton was selected by him as the seat of government, and has since remained the metropolis. The place at that time was composed of a few irregularly built butts; and St. John, now an opulent and flourishing city, was not of much greater extent.

At the time of the separation from Nova Scotia the entire population was only 11,457.

In 1790, Davidson, the pioneer, died. A brisk trade was carried on about this time by Fraser & Thom in the exportation of fish, furs, peltries, and sawed lumber. When the United States had gained their independence, a considerable number of the exiled loyalists, about five thousand persons, emigrated to New Brunswick, where they were supplied with land, provisions, tools and clothing, by the British government. These "United Empire" loyalists may be looked upon as the founders of New Brunswick, and their descendants now form a considerable part of the population. It was about this time (1783) that the first newspaper was published in the Province.

The colony has steadily increased in wealth and importance during the present century. The timber trade was greatly stimulated by an act of the British Parliament in 1800 admitting colonial timber into England free of duty, while timber coming from the Baltic was taxed. The trade became a profitable branch of industry, and ship building was commenced. A tide of emigration flowed in, and rapidly augmented the population. St. John, St. Andrews and Miramichi were annually resorted to by a large number of trading vessels.

In 1803, Gov. Carleton was removed to England, after having governed the Province for nearly twenty years, during which period it had grown from a wilderness to an important colony.

After the departure of Carleton, the government was administered up to the year 1817, by presidents. At the close of the war in 1815, a considerable number of disbanded soldiers settled in New Brunswick. In 1824, the population had increased to 74,176.

The state of the Province in 1825 is thus described by Cooney: "Our trade was looking up; and brightening were our prospects. The bosom of our river sustained a large fleet loaded with the productions of many climes; its sloping banks enamelled with the beauties of expanding vegetation, and the edge of each flowery belt was fringed by the luxuriant foliage of the surrounding forest. Our wharfs and warehouses groaned under the weight of the wealth they contained; the market was well stocked with its staple commodity; ships clustered on our seaboard; commerce flourished in our towns; and plenty filled our hamlets."

But this year a remarkable conflagration occurred, which caused the loss of many lives, and the destruction of much property. The summer had been unusually warm and dry, and extensive fires had raged in different parts of the country. Throughout the northern part of New Brunswick hardly any rain had fallen, and from the 1st to the 5th October, the heat was extraordinary. The fire, which had been creeping through the forests, approached some of the settlements, and the heat became more intense. About 9 o'clock in the night of the 7th October, the fire burst through the forest in the rear of Newcastle, and that town, together with Douglas-town, and the northern side of the Miramichi, for a hundred miles, were enveloped in smoke and flame. The wooden houses, the stores containing spirits, powder, and other combustible articles, the stables and barns of the towns and settlements, speedily became a prey to the devouring fire, and presented a terrible scene of confusion and devastation. Newcastle, a flourishing town of 1000 inhabitants, was left a heap of smoking ruins, and hundreds of miles of country were laid waste. The area swept by the flames was about 6,000 square miles. In this conflagration 160 persons were burned, or drowned in the river, 595 buildings and 875 head of cattle were destroyed. The loss of property was estimated at £204,323, of which only £12,050 were covered by insurance. The Legislature of Lower Canada voted £2,500 for the relief of the sufferers, and contributions to the extent of £35,333 were received from Great Britain, the United States, and the neighboring colonies. The burnt towns and villages were soon rebuilt in a style of greater solidity and beauty. In 1837, another extensive fire occurred in the city of St John, when property to the value of one million dollars, (including 115 houses) was destroyed.

The provincial revenues were this year surrendered to the local government on condition of paying the salaries of certain officials amounting to $58,000 per annum.

The treaty between Great Britain and the United States, negotiated by Lord Ashburton in 1842, settled the disputed boundary between Maine and New Brunswick.

In 1845 commissioners were appointed by the British Government, to explore and survey a railway route from Halifax to Quebec, across the Province of New Brunswick. The commissioners in their report speak enthusiastically of the climate, soil and capabilities of the country.

In 1849 Responsible Government was introduced.

The colony has since continued to advance rapidly in wealth and importance. Trade was for a time greatly benefited by the Reciprocity Treaty between British America and the United States.

New Brunswick joined in the conference at Quebec on the subject of Confederation, but a ministry opposed to the scheme came into power shortly afterward. In 1866, however, the ministry resigned, and a new government, favorable to Confederation, was formed. A general election followed, and the friends of union were victorious at the polls. New Brunswick consequently became a member of the Federation.

DESCRIPTION OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

This Province is situated between 45° and 48° 7' N. lat.; and between 63° 50' and 69° W. long. Its length, from Nova Scotia, on the southeast, to the Province of Quebec on the northwest, is 190 miles; breadth, from the State of Maine, on the southwest, to the Straits of Northumberland on the northeast, 140 miles. It is situated nearly in the centre of the north temperate zone. The area of the Province is 27,710 square miles or 17,600,000 acres. The surface of the country is generally flat or undulating. There are some hills skirting the Bay of Fundy and the Rivers St. John and Restigouche, but they nowhere assume mountain summits. New Brunswick has an external water-line of 410 miles, exclusive of indentations. This coast line is indented by deep and spacious bays and harbors; and the face of the Province is traversed in all directions by navigable rivers. The Bay of Fundy, with its affluents, Chignecto and Cumberland bays, is 140 miles in length, by 45, its greatest breadth; and the Bay of Chaleurs, in the northwest, is 8 miles long by 20 broad. The principal rivers are the St. Croix, 60 miles in length; St. John, 450; Petitcadiaic, 100; Richibucto, 40; Miramichi, 200; Nipisignit, 90; and the Restigouche, 200 miles long. There are numerous lakes, varying in size from mere ponds to lakes containing 80 square miles. Of the area of the Province, about 14,000,000 acres are fit for profitable cultivation. These lands are accessible from all sides of the country. Of the granted lands, about 60,000 acres consist of rich alluvial lands, called marsh; some of which are said to have been producing large crops of excellent hay for upwards of one hundred years.

The tides of the Bay of Fundy rise from 20 feet at the city of St. John, to 60 feet at the head of Chignecto Bay, while the tides of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, separated but twelve miles from those of the Bay of Fundy, rise only from four to seven feet.

Roads and settlements are nearly continuous around the province, and cross it in numerous places. The River St. John in its downward course traverses the counties of Victoria, Carleton, York, Sunbury, Queen's, King's, and St. John. The counties of Westmoreland, Kent, Northumberland, Gloucester, and Restigouche, lie on the Straits of Northumberland, Gulf of St. Lawrence, and Bay of Chaleurs. Charlotte, St. John and Albert lie on the Bay of Fundy.

SKETCH OF THE HISTORY OF NEWFOUNDLAND.

The Island of Newfoundland, the oldest of the B. N. A. colonies, was discovered in 1497, by Sir John Cabot and his son Sebastian, in a voyage made that year under the patronage of Henry VII. of England. Sebastian Cabot also touched at Newfoundland the following year, when he explored the coast from Hudson Bay to Florida.

Cabot's discovery is well authenticated, and the island was thereafter claimed by Britain. But it is not improbable that long before this date, the coast of the island had been fallen in with by voyagers animated by the love of adventure, or carried out of their usual course by stress of weather. One account has come down to us of a voyage undertaken in the tenth century by Biarne, son of Heriulf Bardson, a follower of Eric the Red. Heriulf is said to have emigrated from Iceland to Greenland, and formed a settlement there. At this time his son Biarne was absent on a voyage to Norway. On his return home, Biarne resolved to join his father in Greenland. The account of his voyage is given in the London Geographical Journal for 1838. It would appear that Biarne, who was imperfectly acquainted with the course, while seeking for Greenland, toward the end of his voyage, fell in with various unknown lands, supposed to be Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, &c. Ten years afterward Biarne, while on a visit to Eric, Earl of Norway, mentioned the fact of his having seen these unknown lands. Curiosity was excited, and Leif, a son of Eric, having equipped a small vessel, sailed on a voyage of exploration in the year 1000. He also observed the lands described by Biarne, and pushed on southward as far, it is supposed, as the coast of Massachusetts, to which he gave the name of Vinland. In 1002 a brother of Leif, named Thorwald, undertook a voyage to the unknown west, arrived safely at Vinland, and remained in the country two whole years. But while coasting along with the intention of returning home, Thorwald lost his life in an encounter with some Esquimaux.

These early discoveries are apparently entitled to credit, but not being followed up by the establishment of settlements were soon forgotten, and are now of little interest except to the antiquary.

When Cabot visited the island, the natives called the codfish which abounds there, bacalléos, which is also the name of the cod in the Basque or Breton idiom. Hence it has been conjectured that Breton fishermen may have resorted to the banks of Newfoundland previous to Cabot's discovery.

Three years after Cabot's voyage, the coast of Newfoundland was visited by a Portuguese explorer named Cortereal, whose report respecting the abundance of fish to be found there induced his countrymen to establish fisheries. The French, English, and Spaniards followed the example of the Portuguese, and in 1517 there were fifty vessels engaged in the fishery.

In 1524 Verazzani, a Florentine navigator in the service of the French king, touched at Newfoundland, and surveyed a large part of the coast of the United States. Verazzani and his entire expedition perished during a subsequent voyage undertaken soon afterward, and his sad fate for some years damped the ardor of the French for exploration in the new world.

In 1534 Jacques Cartier passed the coast of Newfoundland on his memorable voyage to the Gulf of the St. Lawrence. At this time the fisheries were growing in importance. In 1549, the ports of London, Barnstaple, Bideford and Bristol were prosecuting an extensive trade. In 1578 there were nearly 400 vessels engaged in the enterprise, of which 150 were French.

In the reign of Queen Elizabeth Sir Humphrey Gilbert is said to have equipped a small squadron with which he sailed from England in 1579, but the loss of one of his ships and other disasters obliged him to return home. With the assistance of his step-brother, Sir Walter Raleigh, he soon fitted out another expedition with which he sailed for Newfoundland in 1583. On arriving at the harbour of St. John's in the month of August, Gilbert took formal possession of the country in the Queen's name, and issued some laws for regulating the fisheries. On the return voyage, Sir Humphrey's ship, a vessel of only ten tons, foundered in a storm near the Azores, and the gallant commander perished.

Among the subsequent attempts to colonize the island may be noticed that of a company of English gentlemen, including Lord Bacon and others, to whom James I., in 1610, by letters patent, gave all that part of the coast between Capes Bonavista and St. Mary. This association appointed as their agent a Bristol merchant, named Guy, who established a colony at Musquito Cove in Conception Bay. In 1615 Captain Whitbourne was sent out by the Admiralty to take steps for the removal of the great abuses which prevailed at the fisheries. Whitbourne introduced some of the English forms of administration of justice, and endeavoured to establish order in the settlements.

In 1622 James I., by letters patent, granted to Sir George Calvert, secretary of state, the peninsula formed by the Bays of Placentia and Trinity. Sir George (afterward Lord Baltimore) called this peninsula Avalon, and sent out as governor Capt. Wynn, who erected a large dwelling house and granary. Sir George himself subsequently visited the island, and resided there a short time.

In 1626 the fisheries had increased to such an extent that 150 vessels resorted to them from Devonshire alone. In 1633 another settlement was formed by Lord Falkland. About this time a code of regulations was promulgated by Charles I. with a view to preserve order and punish crime. The following year, the French, rather than relinquish the privilege of fishing on the coast, agreed to pay the British government a tribute of five per cent. on all fish caught by their fishermen.

Another settlement was established in 1654 by Sir David Kertk. "At this time," says Page, in his history of Newfoundland, "fifteen different settlements existed, containing about four hundred families." The jealousy of the merchants engaged in the fishery trade impeded the extension of permanent settlements. About 1670, an attempt was even made to break up the existing settlements.

In 1692 commenced a struggle between England and France for exclusive possession of the fisheries. Placentia, the principal French post on the island, was attacked and partially destroyed by a squadron of five ships under Admiral Williams. The French now resolved to become sole masters of the island. In 1696, a French fleet from Placentia, under Brouillon, aided by a military force under D'Iberville, attacked and destroyed the town of St. John's, and captured all the British settlements, with the exception of Bonavista and Carbonear, which were successfully defended. The Treaty of Ryswick in 1697, restored the rights of the respective powers as they existed at the commencement of the war.

In 1702 hostilities were again resumed. Sir John Leake, who was sent out with a squadron by Queen Anne, captured a number of French vessels; but the French obtaining reinforcements from Canada, succeeded in destroying most of the British establishments on the island. Carbonear was almost the only post that could be defended with success. The English retaliated by taking Port Royal, and making themselves masters of Acadie. For eight years the conflict was continued with fluctuating fortune. At length, by the Treaty of Utrecht, in 1713, it was provided that Newfoundland should be ceded to Britain, the French having the right reserved to them of catching and drying fish on that part of the coast lying to the north of Cape Bonavista, and stretching along the western shore as far as Point Riche, but having no right to erect fortifications, or to remain longer on the island than the process of curing the fish required.

In 1728 Newfoundland was erected into a distinct Province, and Capt. Henry Osborne appointed the first Governor. The office of Governor has since been filled almost invariably by British naval officers. The island was divided into districts; Surrogate courts were established, and various improvements in the administration of justice introduced. In 1737, a Court of Oyer and Terminer was established, consequent upon the increase of crime, and the expense of sending offenders to England for trial. In 1741, a Vice-admiralty Court was established. In 1761, the island again suffered from the attacks of the French. The following year, St. John's was surprised and captured by a French fleet. Aid was solicited from Lord Colville, then at Halifax. Admiral Colville promptly sailed for St. John's and having effected a landing at Torbay, speedily compelled the French to surrender the town. The French fleet escaped from the harbour under cover of a fog.

The Treaty of Paris, in 1763, restored peace, and confirmed the title of England to the island. The French simply retained the privilege granted them by the Treaty of Utrecht, of fishing along part of the seaboard.

About this time, Capt. James Cook, the celebrated navigator, was employed by the English government in making surveys of the coast. In 1763, the coast of Labrador was annexed to Newfoundland. The population of the Province at this time is stated to have been about thirteen thousand, of whom not more than half were permanent residents.

During the American Revolutionary war, Newfoundland suffered greatly from the non-intercourse Act passed by the first Congress, prohibiting the exportation of food to the island because the inhabitants remained faithful to the mother country. The people of Newfoundland had been dependent on New England for supplies to the extent of nearly £350,000 annually. These supplies were suddenly cut off, and French and American privateers at the same time preyed on the coast and harbours. When peace was restored in 1783, the Americans retained the right of fishing, but the processes of curing and drying the fish were to be carried on in the unsettled creeks and harbors of Nova Scotia, the Magdalen Islands, and Labrador.

The year 1775 is noted for a terrible storm. The sea suddenly rose twenty feet; hundreds of vessels were driven ashore and totally wrecked; and at least three hundred persons perished.

A Court of Common Pleas was established in 1789, and also the "Supreme Court of Newfoundland," Mr. Reeves, Chief Justice.

In 1796 England and France being at war, Newfoundland was once more harrassed by attacks of French vessels. The town of Bay of Bulls was captured and destroyed; but the enemy declined to attack St. John's, which had been made ready for vigorous resistance by the governor, Sir James Wallace.

In 1803 schools were introduced in several localities, and benevolent societies organized for the relief of the poor. In 1807 was established the first newspaper, called The Royal Gazette and Newfoundland Advertiser, John Ryan, proprietor. This journal has retained its original name and changed hands but once. In 1808, the first volunteer militia were enrolled at St. John's. The coast of Labrador was again included in the government of Newfoundland.

The island suffered during the war of 1812-1814 from high prices and scarcity of provisions. Flour sold at £6 to £7 per barrel; pork £8 to £10 per barrel, and other provisions at proportionate rates. The severity of these prices was, however, compensated by the increase in the value of articles exported. As soon, however, as peace was proclaimed, there commenced a season of great commercial depression. The value of fish fell suddenly from forty shillings to ten shillings per quintal, and the same with other exports.

Two years afterward, a destructive fire occurred at St. John's, causing a loss of $500,000. In the month of November, 1817, two other extensive fires occurred at St. John's, destroying two hundred houses, together with a large quantity of provisions imported for the winter supply. The destitution caused by these conflagrations was relieved by contributions from England and other quarters. One munificent donation came from the citizens of Boston, who despatched a ship laden with provisions for the relief of the sufferers.

At this time (1817) the population was 80,000. The produce of the country was estimated at £2,000,000 stg., and eight hundred vessels were employed in trade and the fisheries. More than three centuries had thus elapsed without any rapid progress, and without any attempt to open up the island for settlement. In fact, England discouraged colonization during the early period of its history. "That the inhabitants of Newfoundland colonized the country in defiance of the policy of the British Government is in some degree true," says Earl Granville, in a despatch dated 16th May, 1870. In 1826, however, an effort to improve the condition of the Province was made by the new Governor, Sir Thomas Cochrane, and with very marked success. Improvements were made in the judicial system; public roads were constructed; grants of land taken up, and cultivation extended. The population increased to 98,000 before 1845.

In 1832 a representative Assembly was granted to the colony, comprising fifteen members. The Legislative Council consisted of nine members.

The first geological survey of the island was undertaken in 1838 under the direction of J. B. Jukes. Since then copper, lead, and other ores have been found on different parts of the coast. The restrictions on grants of land which were imposed for the prevention of encroachment on French rights in the fisheries, have recently been so relaxed as to encourage, as far as practicable, the development of the mineral and other resources of the island.

In 1843, the House of Assembly was incorporated with the Council, and called the "Amalgamated Assembly of Newfoundland." It numbered twenty-five members.

The year 1846 was marked by two great disasters. In June the town of St. John's was almost wholly destroyed by fire. In September following, a furious hurricane swept over the island; many lives were lost, and a vast amount of property destroyed. Great distress prevailed for a time, and contributions, urgently needed, were again obtained from the mother country and the colonies.

In 1847 the amalgamated form of government was set aside, and the two Houses met separately. In 1854 the electoral districts were re-arranged, and the number of the Assembly increased; the Executive and Legislative Councils were separated, and Responsible Government fully established. The House of Assembly consisted of thirty members.

In 1852 and following years, steam and telegraphic communication between Conception Bay and St. John's was established, mechanics' institutes were founded, the town of St. John's was supplied with water, and other improvements were carried out.

In 1858 an ocean telegraph from Europe, having its terminus in Newfoundland, was laid and opened, but it ceased to operate after a few messages had been transmitted. Since that time, however, another cable has been successfully laid, and continues in operation.

When the scheme for confederating the Provinces was brought forward in 1864, Newfoundland sent two deputies, Hon. Messrs Carter and Shea, to the Conference which met at Quebec in October; but the Legislature subsequently deferred action in the matter. It is, expected, however, that the island will soon take steps to enter the Confederation.

THE INDIANS OF NEWFOUNDLAND.

The aboriginal inhabitants seem to have fared worse in Newfoundland than their countrymen elsewhere. When Europeans first visited the island, they found on the coast a considerable number of natives belonging to a tribe known as Red Indians, from the fact of their bodies being smeared with a species of red ochre. The intercourse with these Indians was friendly at first, but quarrels soon arose, and led to the almost utter extermination of the natives. "The settlers," writes Page, "generally men of fierce tempers and armed with powerful weapons, carried on the contest in a manner peculiarly ruthless, hunting and shooting the natives like deer. The latter have gradually disappeared from the island, and for many years not one has been seen." Several attempts were subsequently made to open up friendly intercourse with the Red Indians, but without success. In 1810, one of the first acts of governor Duckworth was to issue a proclamation for the protection of the Red Indians, and to offer a reward of £100 stg. to any person who should bring about a friendly understanding with them. In 1827, a search for them was prosecuted under the auspices of the Boothic Society. Abundant traces of their settlements were found, but all the huts and wigwams were deserted. Another tribe, the Micmacs, have continued to occupy different parts of the interior, and have become partially civilized.

DESCRIPTION OF NEWFOUNDLAND.

The island of Newfoundland is situated on the north east side of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, between 46° 37' and 51° 40' N. latitude, and 52° 41', and 59° 31', W. long. It is bounded on the north by the strait of Belle Isle, which is from ten to twenty miles wide. On the east and south it is surrounded by the Atlantic. The island is exceedingly irregular in form, being indented with deep bays, the principal of which are Trinity and White Bays on the eastern, and Placentia and Fortune Bays on the southern coast. The peninsula of Avalon, on which the greater part of the population is resident, is almost severed from the rest of the island by Trinity and Placentia Bays, there being an isthmus only some four miles in width between the heads of these bays. The greatest length of the island from north to south is 350 miles, and the average breadth about 130 miles. Estimated area about 40,200 square miles, equal to 25,728,000 acres.

The coast is for the most part steep and rugged; the sea cliffs are bold and lofty, with deep water at the base. The harbors on the east coast are easy of access.

The geological survey shows the aqueous or stratified rocks to consist of the following formations, which are arranged in descending order: Upper and lower coal formation, magnesian limestone, upper and lower slate formation gneiss and mica slate. There are also chlorite, quartz rock, primary limestone, granite, syenite, porphyry, trap, basalt, serpentine, hypersthene, and greenstone. An extensive lead mine exists at La Manche, Placentia Bay, and has been worked for several years with profit; veins of copper of great value have also been discovered and are being successfully worked.

In the interior the surface of the island is uneven and hilly. Some of the peaks rise to a height of 1000 feet and upwards. The lakes are numerous. The trees consist of fir, spruce, birch, pine, juniper, wych-hazel, mountain ash, alder, and aspen.

SKETCH OF THE HISTORY OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

This small but flourishing colony received its present name in 1798, in honor of Prince Edward, Duke of Kent, father of Queen Victoria. Its ancient name was Isle St. Jean, or St.

John's Island. It was discovered by John and Sebastian Cabot in 1497. The Indians that resorted to the island at that date were of the Abenaki and Micmac tribes. For two centuries after its discovery the island was covered with dense forests to the water's edge, and remained unoccupied save by Indians, being considered of too little importance to justify the establishment of a permanent settlement. It was included with Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Cape Breton, under the general name Acadie. Fortunately it escaped many of the disasters and conflicts that harassed other parts of Acadie and Canada, and there are few stirring or momentous events in its history to chronicle.

In 1663 a French naval captain named Doublet, received from the government of Canada a grant of this island, together with the Magdalen Islands, for the purpose of establishing a fishery. At this time stages and huts were erected near the best fishing grounds, but no permanent settlement was formed. The persons employed by Doublet came in the spring and left in the fall, abandoning the island during the winter to its original inhabitants.

In the beginning of the eighteenth century a few solitary families, attracted by reports of the beautiful scenery and fertile soil of the island, began to settle on some of the most accessible parts of the southern coast. After Acadie had been ceded to Britain by the Treaty of Utrecht in 1713, many of the younger Acadians left their fathers' homes in Nova Scotia, and commenced to form the first permanent settlements in Isle St. Jean, which was still retained by France. The number of settlers slowly increased from year to year as the fertility of the island became better known. In 1728, about thirteen years after the settlements began, there were only sixty families on the island. In 1745, there were about 150 families, numbering 800 souls.

It has been supposed that Isle St. Jean fell into the hands of the New Englanders in 1754, after they had captured Louisbourg. Whether this was the case does not clearly appear; but if so, the island was restored to the French by the Treaty of Aix-La-Chapelle in 1748. "At this time," says Sutherland, (Civil History of Prince Edward Island) "the island was intrusted to the control of two leading officers, the one civil and the other military. The military officer was subordinate to the Governor of Louisbourg; his colleague was a sub-delegate of the intendant of Canada. They had a garrison of about sixty men, with some few pieces of cannon. A small battery was constructed by them at the mouth of the harbor of Charlottetown, on the west side, where they resided, and a small redoubt at a narrow part of the East River, still called the French fort, intended to guard the access by water towards St. Peter's and Tracadie."

In 1752, the population was estimated by a French officer who visited the settlement that year, at 1354, but this number was doubled in the course of a few years by the influx of expatriated Acadians.

In 1758, when Louisbourg was compelled to surrender to British forces, one of the articles of capitulation provided for the surrender of Isle St. Jean. Gen. Amherst immediately despatched Lieut. Col. Rollo to take possession, and thus the island passed out of the hands of the French. By the Treaty of 1763, Isle St. Jean, together with Canada and Cape Breton, was formally ceded to Great Britain. It was then placed under the government of Nova Scotia. At this time the inhabitants numbered 4,100, but many of the French inhabitants left the island when it came under English rule.

In 1764 and the following years, the island was surveyed by Captain Holland by order of the British Government. Having been divided into townships of about 20,000 acres each, these townships were, in August, 1767, distributed by lot amongst about one hundred army and navy officers and others who had claims on government, upon certain conditions of settlement, and the payment of certain quit rents. Lot 66, about 6,000 acres, was reserved as demesne lands for the king.

The list of original grantees, as contained in the minutes of the Council at London, is as follows:—

A town lot and royalty, says Sutherland, were reserved in each county. Each township was to furnish a glebe lot of 100 acres for a minister, and a lot of 30 acres for a school master. For the prosecution of a free fishery, 500 feet from the shore were reserved on all the townships which abut on the coast.

There were three rates of quit rents, six, four, and two shillings, annually, per hundred acres. No quit rents were to be demanded for the first five years after the grant; after that, for the next five years, half the amount of the quit rents would be demanded; after ten years, the whole amount.

The grantees were to settle on each lot one person for every 200 acres, within ten years from the date of the grant. If one-third of the land, in that proportion, was not settled in four years from the date of the grant, the land was to be forfeited to the king. The settlers were to be Protestants, from the parts of Europe not belonging to Great Britain, or such persons as had resided in the American colonies at least two years before the grant was given.

It was found difficult, however, to obtain foreign Protestant settlers, and very few of the grantees attempted to fulfil the conditions on which the lands had been allotted to them.

In 1768, the inhabitants of Prince Edward Island petitioned for a separate government, and offered to pay half their quit rents the next year to meet the expenses. The request was complied with, and in 1770 Walter Patterson, to whom part of lot 19 had fallen, came out as the first Governor. At this time only five proprietors, and not more than 150 families, were resident on the island. Many of the grantees, finding the quit rents too burdensome, sold their lands, and the original conditions of the grants were almost totally disregarded. Instead of having one person for every 200 acres within ten years from the date of the grant, no attempt had been made to settle 48 out of the 67 townships when the ten years had elapsed.

The first House of Assembly, consisting of eighteen members elected for seven years, met in July, 1773. The House took up the land question which has agitated the colony for nearly a century, and passed a measure for the effectual recovery of quit rents, but the act was not carried out. The next year a new Assembly was convened, which sat till 1779.

During the American revolutionary war, Charlottetown was plundered by two American vessels, but the prisoners and plunder were given up by order of Gen. Washington.

In 1780, Gov. Patterson, who had been in England for several years, returned to the island, and instituted proceedings in the Supreme Court for the recovery of arrears of quit rents. Nine whole and five half townships were brought to sale in 1781. The proprietors, who were all, or nearly all, non-residents, complained to the English Government, and a Bill was sent out, making these sales voidable. Gov. Patterson availed himself of some errors in the preamble as a pretext for not laying the Bill before the Legislature, and he exerted himself to prevent the validity of the sales from being disturbed. The House was dissolved in 1784, and the new Assembly, which met the same year, not supporting the views of the Governor, was also dissolved. Another House, called together in 1785, approved of the Governor's proceedings, and next year a bill was introduced to ratify the sales of 1781. This was disallowed by the Crown. Gov. Patterson was recalled by the Home authorities in 1787; but eventually, after a protracted contest, the sales of 1781 were allowed to stand.

In 1794, two provincial companies of militia, three companies of horse, and one of light infantry, were raised for the protection of the island.

An investigation made in 1797, by the House of Assembly, to ascertain the proportion of settled and unsettled lands in the colony, showed that twenty-three lots, embracing 458,580 acres, had not one settler; that twelve lots, containing 120,000 acres, had only forty-eight families; and that the whole population of the island was only 4,500. The inhabitants represented the state of affairs to the Home Government, and prayed that those proprietors who had failed to carry out the terms of the grants should be compelled to fulfil their obligations. No action was taken on the petition at the time, but the British Parliament made an annual grant to defray the expenses of the Local Government.

In the last years of the century, Prince Edward, the father of the Queen, being Commander-in-Chief of the Forces in B.N.A., caused fortifications to be erected for the protection of Charlottetown. In 1798, the House of Assembly, as a mark of respect to the Prince, gave the Province the name of Prince Edward Island, the change to take effect in 1800.

At the beginning of the 19th century, the House of Assembly again pressed upon the attention of the Home Government the matters contained in their petition of 1797. The arrears of quit rents now amounted to the enormous sum of nearly £60,000 stg. The amount due by many of the grantees was greater than the lands would realize if brought to sale. The matter was attentively considered, and in 1802 liberal terms of settlement were offered to proprietors in arrear. The lots were divided into five classes. The first class, or those which had the full number of settlers, were to pay only four years' quit rent for all arrears to 1801. The second class, or those which had only half the stipulated number, were to pay five years' arrears. Third, those which had less than one-half and more than one-fourth, were to pay nine years' arrears. Fourth, those which had less than one-fourth were to pay twelve years' arrears; and, lastly, the proprietors of townships wholly unoccupied were required to pay fifteen years' arrears. This settlement greatly facilitated the sale of land in the colony. Many of the proprietors were now able to dispose of their property, and in the course of a few years nearly one-third of the lots changed hands. Active steps were taken by the new land owners to encourage immigration. In 1803, the Earl of Selkirk brought out nearly eight hundred persons from the Highlands of Scotland.

In 1805, Gov. Fanning, who had been in office for nineteen years, was succeeded by Col. Desbarres, a military officer of fair abilities, who had been present at the taking of Quebec in 1759. Up to this time the progress of the colony had been very slow, and the war which a few years later broke out between Britain and the United States again retarded for a time the influx of settlers. In 1813, a brother of Sir Sidney Smith came out as Governor. Mr. Smith called the Assembly together on the 15th of November, but about two months afterward, thinking the session had lasted long enough for all they had to do, he arbitrarily dismissed the House, and for nearly four years did not summon another Assembly. The differences between the Governor and the new houses successively elected continued, till finally, in 1820, the Assembly framed an address expressing dissatisfaction with the Governor's conduct. This address was forwarded to England through the Earl of Dalhousie, then Governor General. The agitation in the colony increased. In 1823, John Stewart, one of the most influential men in the island, was deputed to take home a petition. The Governor endeavoured to arrest him, but Stewart made good his escape, and reached England in December. The Governor was recalled the following spring (1824).

The new Governor, Colonel Ready, was fortunate enough to secure the confidence of the inhabitants. A new House of Assembly was summoned in 1825, and a large amount of general business transacted.

In 1827, a regular census was taken, and this showed that the population of the colony had increased to 23,266. The population of Charlottetown was 1649. Public improvements were pushed forward, roads widened, bridges constructed, and agriculture encouraged.

In 1830, an act was passed freeing Roman Catholics from all civil and political disabilities.

The quit rents now began to cause fresh agitation. By a proclamation issued in August, 1828, the governor announced that he had received orders to enforce the arrears of quit rents from 1st January, 1823. The arrears now amounted to £10,000 stg. The House of Assembly, and the inhabitants generally, petitioned the King to relinquish the arrears, and grant the accruing quit rents to be applied to internal improvements. The answer to these representations was that His Majesty would accept the annual sum of £1000 stg. in lieu of the accruing rents, and that this sum would be appropriated to meet the expenses of the civil establishment of the colony. The House did not accept this liberal proposal, and the matter rested there for the time.

A considerable number of emigrants now came out every year from various parts of England, Scotland and Ireland, and when the census was again taken, in 1833, the population numbered 32,292, an increase of nearly 40 per cent. in six years.

In 1834, an agitation commenced in favor of Responsible Government. The House of Assembly voted an address for an Executive Council distinct from the Legislative. An effort was also made to have an elective Legislative Council. The separation of the Executive and Legislative Councils was effected in 1839. The Executive Council was not to exceed nine in number. The Legislative Council was to be composed of twelve members. The revenue of this year exceeded that of the previous year by £5,000. The years that followed were marked by satisfactory progress. A geological exploration of the island was made by Dr. Abraham Gessner in 1846. Public opinion in favor of Responsible Government was now gaining strength. In 1847, the House passed an address to the Queen praying for the introduction of Responsible Government, and the Governor expressed himself strongly in favour of it.

In 1848, an act received the Royal assent, which provided for a further assessment of land, if the Queen relinquished the quit rents during its continuance. The census was again taken this year, and the population was found to have increased to 62,634. The following spring the House again petitioned the Queen in favor of admitting Responsible Government, to the extent of giving the country four seats in the Executive Council. The Home authorities did not consider the colony in a proper condition for Responsible Government; but offered to surrender the quit rents, the revenue from Crown lands and general revenue, on condition that the colony paid for the civil establishment. A general election took place in February, 1850; the Legislature met on the 5th of March, and a large majority was in favor of Responsible Government. Governor Campbell offered the majority three seats in the Executive Council. They declined to accept them; refused to co-operate with the Executive Council as then constituted, and refused also to grant the supplies. An address to the Queen was prepared and the House was prorogued on the 26th of March. In October following, the governor, Sir Donald Campbell, whose administration had been highly popular, died, and Sir Alexander Bannerman was sent out to assume the government.

The Legislature having been convened on the 25th of March, 1851, the governor informed the Assembly that he had been empowered to introduce Responsible Government on condition that some compensation be allowed to certain retiring officers. This condition was complied with, and the Executive resigned on the 23rd of April. On the 25th of April, the new administration, having the support and confidence of the majority of the House of Assembly, was gazetted. During this session was passed a measure establishing a uniform letter postage rate of two-pence, to any part of the island, and three-pence to any part of British North America. The following session an important act, known as the Free Education Act, became law; and next year (1853) was passed an act which conferred universal suffrage under certain restrictions.

By the census taken in 1855, the population was ascertained to be 71,496. There were 252 school-houses and 127 places of public worship.

An agitation commenced in 1857 with the object of introducing the Bible into schools as a book for daily use. The proposal met with much opposition; but finally in the year 1860, an act was passed by the Legislature declaring the introduction of the Bible into all public schools to be legally authorized. During the session of 1860, the extensive estates of the Earl of Selkirk, embracing 62,059 acres, were acquired by government for the sum of £6,586 stg. In the same year a land commission was appointed to enquire into the subjects of dispute relating to the tenure of lands, with the object of converting on equitable terms the leaseholds of the whole island into freeholds. Three commissioners were appointed, the Hon. J. H. Gray as the representative of the Crown, the Hon. Joseph Howe as the representative of the tenants, and Mr. Matthew Ritchie on behalf of the proprietors. The commission collected a great deal of evidence, and in August, 1861, made a report of which the principal points are as follows:—1. Lennox island, a valuable island in Richmond Bay, was to be ceded to the Indians, about a hundred of whom reside around the northern shores of the bay. 2nd. The claims of the Acadians, or French, were to be totally over-ruled. 3rd. The claims of descendants of U. E. loyalists to certain lands were recommended to the special consideration of the government. 4th. Escheat of the lands of proprietors was declared by the commissioners to be wholly impracticable. 5th. As to quit rents, no arrears to be recoverable, and no accruing quit rent to be claimed as long as the land tax was imposed. 6th. The fishery reservations were abolished, and the lands merged into the adjoining properties.

As to the mode of changing the leaseholds to freeholds, the commissioners recommended a loan of £100,000 stg., for the purpose of enabling the government to purchase the estates, and then sell to the tenants. Or, if this loan could not be obtained, it was suggested that the proprietors should be compelled to sell direct to the tenants at rates either based on the rental or assessed by arbitrators.

The government are now acquiring many of the proprietary estates in the island. In 1869, a Bill was passed empowering the government to expend the further sum of £30,000 in the purchase of lands. The local Executive Council last year again suggested the introduction of a measure to compel proprietors of lands to sell to the Government; but Lord Granville deferred the consideration of the subject in view of the probability that the colony might soon unite itself to the Dominion.

In September, 1864, a conference was held at Charlottetown to consider the practicability of a legislative union of the Provinces. At first delegates were to be sent only from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island; but the coalition government of Canada, pledged to the introduction of a federal system, having come into office, the Canadian government asked permission to send delegates, which was granted, and Canada joined in the conference. It was resolved that a further conference be held at Quebec, to consider the expediency of a federal union. Prince Edward Island sent delegates to the conference; but the Legislature subsequently repudiated the action of its delegates, and was opposed to the plan of Confederation agreed upon at the conference. The cause of Confederation has since made slight progress in the island, but it is expected that at no distant day satisfactory terms of union will be agreed upon.

DESCRIPTION OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

In form, the island resembles a crescent, the concave side being towards the gulf. Length, 130 miles, breadth about 34 miles, area 2,131 square miles, or 1,365,400 acres. The surface is slightly undulating, the chain of hills that extends across the country nowhere rising to a considerable height. The indentations along the coast are numerous. The principal harbors are Charlottetown, Georgetown, Bedeque, Cascumpee, Malpeque, New London, and Murray harbors. There are also numerous ponds or lagoons. The climate is mild and healthful, and the soil remarkably fertile. The whole island was formerly covered with a magnificent growth of forest trees; birch, beech, maple, elm, ash, pine, spruce, hemlock, fir, juniper, cedar, willow and poplar were the chief varieties. Ship-building is still carried on to a considerable extent.

RAILROAD AND STEAMBOAT ROUTES IN THE PROVINCE OF NEW BRUNSWICK

This Province claims the honor of being among the first in the field of Railway enterprise. In 1844, only fourteen years after the opening of the Liverpool and Manchester Railway,—the first grand achievement in this rapid means of travel—and eight years after the building of a road from Laprairie to St. Johns, in the Province of Quebec, was commenced the construction of the New Brunswick and Canada Railway, from St. Andrews to Woodstock, a distance of 94 miles. The progress of this road, however, was slow, only 25 miles having been completed in 1855, and the whole line opened in 1862. It was the only Railway undertaken in New Brunswick until within the past ten years, but the Province now possesses five different lines, two of which are owned by the Dominion Government. They are of a total length of 375 miles, and run through the most thickly settled counties on the eastern and southern shores. Good means of communication are, however, still needed to many of its villages and settlements. The building of the Intercolonial is destined to supply a great want, in this respect, to the counties on the North shore, and the continuation of the road from Woodstock to River du Loup, to the western sections, but the heart of the Province will still be almost isolated. In the following Table of Routes, it has been endeavored to make the journey of the general traveller as little irksome as possible by pointing out to him the most convenient point to his destination after leaving the City of St. John. On arriving there, he need experience no difficulty in procuring a conveyance. First-class stages run through all the chief districts of the Province, connecting at leading stations along the several lines of railway. Where no stages run, private vehicles are almost at all times easily procurable.

New Brunswick has a number of navigable streams, chief among which is the noble river St. John, which takes its source in the State of Maine, 450 miles from the sea. The City of Fredericton is situated on the banks of this river, 84 miles from its mouth, and between it and St. John large steamers ply daily during season of navigation. Above Fredericton, small steamers can proceed, at high water, to Woodstock, Tobique and Grand Falls, a distance of 220 miles, and even 40 miles further up to the Madawaska. Steamers also run on Grand Lake and Salmon River, 95 miles from the City, and 45 miles from the river St. John; up the Washademoak 20 miles; and up the Kennebecass is 25 miles. Vessels of large tonnage can proceed a good distance up the Miramichi, the Restigouche, and the Richibucto, and smaller vessels up the Oromocto, Petitcodiac, Memramcook, Cocagne, Buctouche and other rivers. Steamers and large vessels also run up the St. Croix, a distance of thirty miles from Eastport to Calais and St. Stephens, touching at St. Andrews.

It is to be observed that a large majority of the places in the Province of New Brunswick are chiefly known as "Settlements."

Railway Routes are designated by letters; Steamboat Routes by numbers.

Cars are expected to be running through from St. John to these points in the fall of 1871. The distance from St. John to Montreal, via Danville Junction, Me., and the Grand Trunk Railway, will then be 580 miles, but the projected building of a road from Lincoln, Me., to Lake Megantic, and of the St. Francis and Lake Megantic International Railway from thence to Lennoxville, Que., will reduce the distance to 430 miles. It is believed that the construction of the short link (only 170 miles) required to give the Maritime Provinces such easy and direct communication with the commercial metropolis of the Dominion will be commenced early in the spring of 1871.

LOVELL'S PROVINCE OF NEW BRUNSWICK DIRECTORY.

For 1871.

ABBREVIATIONS USED IN THE ALPHABETICAL DIRECTORIES OF CITIES, TOWNS, &c.:—ab above; av avenue; bls boards; bet between; ch church; cor corner; h house; J. P. Justice of the Peace; n near; opp opposite; r rear; R. catholic Roman catholic; sq square; wid widow

The names in CAPITALS are those of Advertisers and Subscribers.

In Cities and Towns, where av., lane, or sq does not follow the residence, street is to be understood; for example, Lovell John, 23 St Nicholas, means 23 St Nicholas street.

As several places are known by more than one name, and as great pains have been taken to ascertain and give these, a reference to the GENERAL INDEX is specially recommended. This will prevent the least delay in finding any place in the work

ANDOVER—A village and port of entry in the parish of Andover, county of Victoria, pleasantly situated on the banks of the River St John, and at the mouth of the Tobique river. This river is one of the largest tributaries of the St John, and affords unbounded facilities for lumbering operations, which are yearly carried on to a great extent. Andover is thus made a source of supply to the lumbering camps which are every winter established on this river and in the surrounding neighborhood. The prospects of the place are very promising. Opposite Andover is an Indian village, occupied by a tribe of Mic-macs, numbering about 150, and seven miles back is Fort Fairfield, a village in the state of Maine. Distant from St John 180 miles, from Woodstock, a station of the New Brunswick and Canada railway, 50 miles, from Grand Falls 24 miles, from the American frontier 5 miles. Steamers running between Grand Falls and St John call here. A daily stage passes through to Woodstock and Rivière du Loup, fare from Woodstock $3. Mail daily. Population about 400.

FREDERICTON — A small but beautiful city in the county of York. It is the capital of the Province, and the shire town of the county, and is pleasantly situated on a level plain, on the left bank of the River St John, 84 miles from the Bay of Fundy. The city is well and regularly laid out; its streets are wide and airy, crossing each other at right angles. Queen is the chief business street, and on it are situated most of the public departments, law offices, banks, hotels, &c. At the east end is the Province building, a large wooden structure, in which the Provincial legislature holds its sittings; the Supreme court also meets there. There is a fine library in the building, and in close proximity are the various public offices. At the west end is the Government house, a fine stone structure, with no pretensions to architectural beauty, yet possessing ample accommodation as the residence of the lieutenant governor. On the north side of Queen street is the Court house and City hall, two large brick buildings, and the barracks, a stone structure capable of accommodating a regiment of infantry. On York street is situated the depot of the Fredericton railway, and the skating rink, and on Westmoreland street is the Exhibition building, a handsome wooden structure, covering nearly an acre of ground. In rear of the city, on a hill, stands the University, a large substantial stone building. It is well endowed, has a good staff of professors, and as a seat of learning is in high standing in the Province. There are eight churches in the city, Episcopal, Roman catholic, church of Scotland, Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist and Free-will baptist. Christ Church cathedral is a fine stone edifice, and a good specimen of church architecture. It was built after designs by the late Mr. Wills, and is an exact model of his last work, Christ Church cathedral at Montreal. The See house of the Lord Bishop of Fredericton is situated almost opposite. The scenery around Fredericton is very pleasing; a fine view may be obtained from the University building of the river and adjacent country. The St John river is navigable from St John to this city for large steamers and other vessels, and during high water steamers can proceed to Woodstock, Tobique and Grand Falls. Opposite the city is a pretty village called St Mary's, with which there is constant communication by ferry steamer, and lower down is the river Nashwaak. There is an extensive lumbering establishment a few miles from the mouth of this river; there are also several large saw mills adjacent to the city. Fredericton is an incorporated city, and its affairs are managed by a mayor and council. It is lighted with gas, has four weekly newspapers, one bank, a reading room, an office of the Western Union Telegraph Co., and is the head office of the Fredericton railway. Distant from Fredericton Junction, the junction of the European and North American and Fredericton railways, 22 miles, fare 70c.; from St John by rail 64 miles, fare $1.50; by water 84 miles, fare $1; from Woodstock by rail 113 miles, fare $2.85, by stage 65 miles, fare $2.50; from Chatham 104 miles, fare $5; from St Stephen 97 miles, fare $3; from Halifax 253 miles fare $5.50; from Riviere du Loup 245 miles, from Quebec 371 miles, from Montreal 543 miles, from Ottawa 609 miles, from Toronto 846 miles. Stages leave semi-weekly for the Miramichi, and tri-weekly for Woodstock. Mail daily. Population about 6000.

* MADAM JUNCTION—The junction of the European and North American and New Brunswick and Canada railways, situated in the parish of Prince William, county of York. Connections are made here for Fredericton, St. John, St. Andrews, St. Stephen, Woodstock, Houlton, Me, and, as soon as the European road is completed to Mattawamkeag, all points in the United States and Canada. The uncompleted section of the European and North American road lying between St. Croix and Mattawamkeag, a distance of about 50 miles, is being rapidly pushed forward, and expected to be open for traffic in the fall of 1871. This will give St. John direct rail communication with the chief cities in the Dominion and the United States. The proposed extension of the New Brunswick railway to Rivière du Loup if undertaken, will render this an important station and add much to the prosperity not only of the two companies, but to the rich sections of country through which it will pass. Western Union Telegraph Co. has an office here. Distant from St. John 81 miles, fare $2.45; from Fredericton 60 miles, fare $1.85; from St. Andrews 43 miles, fare $1.25; from St. Stephen 35 miles, fare $1.25; from Woodstock 51 miles, from Rivière du Loup 231 miles. Mail tri-weekly. Population about 400.

MILLTOWN—A most enterprising village in the parish of St Stephen, county of Charlotte, beautifully situated on the Schoodiac or St Croix river, in the state of Maine, is another village of the same name. They are distinguished by being called, one Milltown, St Stephen, the other Milltown, Calais. Both are connected together by bridges, being but a very short distance apart. In both villages an immense lumbering trade is done. The mills are chiefly owned by the same parties, some members of the firm residing on the Canadian and others on the American side. On the Canadian side alone there are eighteen gang mills, employing some 500 or 600 men, almost constantly in operation, and large quantities of lumber are shipped direct to all parts of the world. In 1869 one firm loaded one hundred and fifteen vessels. There is here also an edge tool manufactory, employing 35 men, and various other works. Milltown possesses several schools, Protestant and Catholic, and three churches, one academy, one circulating library. Distant from the town of St Stephen 2 miles, from St John 87 miles, fare $4.50. Mail daily. Population about 2000. The population of the parish of St Stephen, and of Calais and Milltown, Maine, is estimated at 14,000.

PORTLAND—A fine town adjoining but not incorporated with the city of St John. It is the second place in importance, as regards population, in the province, having a far greater number of inhabitants than the city of Fredericton. It is under parish government and maintains a separate police force. Its streets, though somewhat irregular, are well built upon. Main street, which has a good many stores, and oftentimes presents as busy an appearance as any of the streets in the city, is the principal thoroughfare. Along the east shore, facing the harbor, and the west shore, facing the river St John, are a number of large steam saw mills, which give employment to a numerous body of men. Ship building is also carried on to some extent. On the road leading to Fairville and on the range of hills in the eastern part of the parish, the wealthy men of St John have erected most handsome residences. From Fort Howe, a high hill on which a battery was at one time erected, a fine view is to be had of the harbor and surrounding country. Sulphate of barytes has been found near this port, and a rich plumbago mine is worked near the falls. Between Indiantown—a thriving district at the extreme end of the parish—and the city, there is constant communication by means of the City Passenger railway. Indiantown, a part of Portland, is the starting point for steamers to Fredericton and all points on the River St John. Portland is lighted with gas, and has good water supply. A handsome suspension bridge connects this parish with Lancaster. The European and North American railway (western extension) when continued from Fairville to the eastern station in St John, will pass directly through the town. Distant from St John post office one mile, from Fairville 2 miles. Mail daily. Population about 13,000.

SACKVILLE—A rising village in the parish of the same name, county of Westmorland. It is pleasantly situated at the head of the Bay of Fundy, possesses a good harbor and excellent facilities for ship building, a number of pretty buildings, eight churches, two hotels, a steam tannery, several mills, and a foundry turning out 3000 stoves per annum. The Mount Allison Wesleyan college and academies are situated here. These are under the control of a board of trustees and governors appointed by the Wesleyan Conference of Eastern British America, but are conducted on entirely non-sectarian principles. The male academy was founded by Mr. Charles F. Allison, of Sackville, who has also aided in the subsequently erected institutions by generous gifts and devises. Sackville will be the outlet of the proposed Baie Verte canal. It is a repeating station of the Montreal and Western Union Telegraph Cos., and the last station in New Brunswick of the Intercolonial railway. Distant from Amherst, N. S., the present terminus of the Intercolonial railway, 9 miles, from Moncton 39 miles, from St John 128¾ miles, fare $3.40. Mail daily. Population of village, which is somewhat scattered over a distance of five miles, about 1500.

ST ANDREWS—A prettily situated town at the mouth of the St Croix river, parish of St Andrews, county of Charlotte. It is the shiretown of the county, is a port of entry, has a good harbor, and from the healthfulness of its situation, and the beauty of its scenery, offers many attractions to the tourist and pleasure seeker. The prospects of the town were at one time highly encouraging, the harbor being almost always covered with shipping, and a very large trade done, but of late years it has lost considerable by the withdrawal of the Reciprocity treaty and the energy of its rival St Stephen. The continuation of the New Brunswick and Canada railway, the first line built in the Province, and the head offices of which are located here, to River du Loup, would be of great benefit to this town, and make it one of the principal ports in the Maritime Province. Steamers ply daily between St Andrews, St Stephen, Calais, Me., and Eastport, Me., (connecting at the latter place with the International line of steamers to and from St John and

- Portland); tri-weekly to St Stephen, St George, and St John, and weekly to Deer Island, Campo Bello and Grand Manan. Western Union Telegraph Co., has an office here. Distant from St Stephen 21 miles, are 50c.; from Woodstock 94 miles, fare $2; from St John, by stage, 66 miles, fare $4; by boat 82 miles, fare $1.50; by rail 124 miles, fare $2.75; from River du Loup 279 miles. Mail daily. Population about 1800.

ST CROIX—A small village situated on the borders of New Brunswick and Maine, county of York. It has only been established since 1868, and derives most of its importance from being near a large tannery in Vanceboro, Me. A large number of men work there and board here. This is at present the terminus of the New Brunswick division of the European and North American railway. In the fall of 1871, the portion of this road, now building between here and Mattawankeag, is expected to be open for traffic, and will give this place communication with all parts of the United States and Canada. Distant from McAdam, the junction of the European and North American and New Brunswick and Canada railways, 6 miles, fare 18c.; from St John 88 miles, fare $2.60. Mail tri-weekly. ST JOHN—The commercial metropolis of the Province, and fourth largest city in the Dominion, is situated at the mouth of the noble River St John, 500 miles from its source, parish and county of St John. It occupies a very commanding position, and when approached from the Bay of Fundy presents an imposing appearance. The whole of the elevated portion of the city consists of solid rock, which for the purpose of forming tolerable streets has had to be cut down at an incredible expense. St John was first discovered by Champlain in 1604, and in 1785, when New Brunswick was separated from Nova Scotia, it was established as a town by Royal Charter. Its progress since that period has been steady and prosperous, and it now stands the leading city in the Maritime Provinces. The position of its harbor, and its entire freedom from obstruction by ice, owing to the tide falls of the Bay of Fundy, which vary between 21 and 25 feet, gives it great advantages over all other ports in the Dominion, and tends largely to its commercial importance. Its facilities for ship building are very extensive. A large trade is carried on in this important branch; also in its principal article of export—lumber. The latter includes the shipment of deals to England, pine timber to the United States, and shooks to the West Indies. Numerous mills and manufactories surround the harbor, which is almost at all times covered with shipping. The streets of St John are wide and chiefly laid out at right angles. King and Prince William streets are the principal thoroughfares. On the western side of the harbor is Carleton, a thickly settled district and part of the city, and joined to the city, but not incorporated thereto, is the populous suburb of Portland. The city is lighted with gas, and has an excellent fire brigade, and unsurpassed water supply. The water is brought from Little River, distant four miles, by means of two large iron pipes, having a capacity of five and a half millions of gallons every twenty-four hours. St John boasts of numerous handsome public buildings, stores, and private residences. Among the former may be noticed the churches, especially the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Banks, Dominion building, Court house, Gaol, City hospital, Marine hospital, Alms house, Lunatic asylum, Skating rink, Wiggin's Orphan institution, &c. The penitentiary, a large granite building, is located about a mile, and the Rural Cemetery, covering 110 acres of ground, one and a half miles from the city. There are three banks in the city, Bank of Montreal, Bank of New Brunswick, and Bank of British North America; also a savings bank. Three daily, one tri-weekly, and eight weekly newspapers are published, besides several monthly magazines. The fire alarm telegraph and street railway systems are in successful operation. Two railway lines branch out of the city, one to Shediac, on the Gulf of St Lawrence, and the other to St Croix, the boundary line of New Brunswick and Maine. Branch railways connect these roads with Amherst, N. S., Fredericton, St Andrews, St Stephens, Woodstock, and Houlton, Maine; and, in the fall of 1871, there will be direct rail communication by the European and North American railway (western extension) to all parts of the Dominion and the United States. At present constant communication is maintained by first-class steamers with Annapolis, connecting with Windsor and Annapolis, and Nova Scotia railways, to Halifax, and with Portland, connecting with the Grand Trunk railway to the chief cities in the Dominion. The head office of the Western Union Telegraph Co. for the Lower Provinces is located in St John. Near the city, spanning the rocky gorge through which the waters of the St John are forced, and uniting the east and west banks of the river, is a magnificent suspension bridge. It is a monument of mechanical skill, cost $80,000, and is 640 feet in length, 182 feet shorter than the bridge at Niagara. A fine view of portions of the city and surrounding district is to be had from the bridge, as also of the rushing waters immediately beneath it, which at times present a splendid scene. Another bridge is to be built alongside this one, for the European and North American railway. Looking at the many natural advantages which St John possesses, especially its free open harbor at all seasons of the year, and its unsurpassed facilities for manufacturing purposes, it bids fair to become, on the completion of the great Intercolonial railway, the chief seaport city in the Dominion. Value of imports 1869-70, $5,406,311; and of exports, $3,541,107; duties collected, $764,426.06; value of assessed real estate for 1870-71, east side harbor, $7,865,400; west side (Carleton), $617,150 = $8,482,550; value of assessed personal property 1870-71, east side harbor, $7,871,200; west side (Carleton), $132,200 = $8,003,400; income tax 1870-71; east side harbor, $1,479,780; west side (Carleton), $151,190 = $1,630,970; total value of assessments, $18,116,920. The city returns one member to the House of Commons, and four to the Provincial Legislature. The county of St John also returns one to the House of Commons, and four to the Provincial Legislature. Distant from Fredericton 64 miles, from Shediac, 104 miles, from Halifax 189 miles, from Montreal, via European, and North American and Grand Trunk railways, 580 miles, via Woodstock and Riviere du Loup 609 miles, from Ottawa 746 miles, from Toronto 913 miles, from Hamilton 952 miles, from London 1033 miles, from Sarnia 1081 miles. Mail daily. Population including Portland, about 45,000

WOODSTOCK — An incorporated town in the parish of Woodstock, county of Carleton, pleasantly situated on the banks of the beautiful river St John, in the centre of a fertile and thriving agricultural district. It is the shire town of the county and the northern terminus of the Woodstock branch of the New Brunswick and Canada railway. A movement is on foot to extend this railway to connect with the Grand Trunk at River du Loup. If successful, it will, besides opening up most valuable country, give a shorter and better communication with the principal cities in the Dominion, and tend greatly to enhance the prosperity of this town. The completion of the European and North American railway has given it daily communication with Fredericton and St John. Considerable lumbering operations are yearly carried on in Woodstock, and an iron mine discovered a few years ago has been worked most successfully. The quality of iron produced from this mine is said for hardness and durability to be unsurpassed. It is now used in England in the plating of heavy armored ships. Tri-weekly stages run between here and Fredericton, and stages leave daily for Grand Falls and River du Loup. During season of navigation, when the water is at a moderate height, steamers run to and from St John and up to Grand Falls. Western Union Telegraph Co. has an office here. Distant from St John 130 miles, fare $4; from Fredericton 63 miles, fare $2.85; from St Stephen 86 miles, fare $2; from St Andrews 94 miles, fare $2; from Rivière du Loup, 200 miles, fare $9.50, from the American frontier 11 miles. Mail daily. Population about 2000.

POSTAL REGULATIONS.

Mails are conveyed twice each way every day, except Sunday, over the principal lines of railway in Canada. Over the less important lines of railway they are carried only once each way every day, except Sunday.

Mails are also conveyed once each way every day, except Sunday, over the principal lines of common road; and once, twice, or three times per week over the less important lines of common road.

The postal communication between Ontario and Quebec and the Lower Provinces is six times per week each way via Quebec, Rivière du Loup and Edmundston, and once per week each way by Steamers from Quebec to Pictou. Also three times per week each way in summer by steamers between Portland and St. John, N. B., and daily by way of Bangor, Maine and Calais to St. John, twice per week by Steamer between Portland and Halifax.

The most speedy and direct postal route from Canada to almost every portion of the globe (with the exception of the Continent of North America, the Isthmus of Panama, and the West India Islands,) is by way of England, whence mails for the several British Colonies and Foreign Countries are regularly dispatched.

The most speedy and direct postal route from Canada to all parts of the Continent of North America, the West Indies, Central and South America, is via New York.

Mails for England are despatched as follows: By Mail Steam Packets sailing from Quebec in summer and Portland in winter every Saturday; and from Halifax, Nova Scotia, every alternate Friday. By Steamer from New York every Thursday.

The following post offices in the Dominion of Canada make up mails direct for certain post offices in the United Kingdom, viz.:

Hamilton,	Fredericton,
Toronto,	Sackville,
Kingston,	St. John,
Ottawa,	St. Stephens,
Montreal,	Chatham,
Quebec,	Dalhousie,
Halifax,	Newcastle.

Mails are exchanged daily with the United States post offices at all the principal frontier points, and closed mails are exchanged daily between the principal cities of the Dominion and New York and Boston.

Montreal exchanges Mails direct with the following American Offices:—Boston, Buffalo, Burlington, New York, Plattsburg, Portland, Rouse's Point, Rutland and Whitehall. Mails for Bermuda and Newfoundland are made up at Halifax, Nova Scotia, whence steamers sail once a month to Bermuda and St. Thomas, and once a fortnight to Newfoundland.

Rates of Postage on Letters.—The rate of postage on pre-paid Letters between any one place in Canada and any other place in Canada, is regulated by weight, irrespective of distance, and is as follows:

On a letter not more than $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.,	3 cts.
" more than $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. but not ex. 1 oz.,	6 cts.
" " 1 oz.,	9 cts.
" " 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.,	12 cts.
" " 2 oz.,	15 cts.

And so on, 3 cents being charged for every additional $\frac{1}{2}$ oz., or fraction of half ounce.

If the weight be exceeded to the smallest extent, even though the balance be merely turned, the letter becomes liable to an additional rate.

Letters posted in and addressed to any place within the Dominion of Canada, if sent unpaid, are liable to a charge of 5 cents per $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.

In applying the 5 cent unpaid rate to letters passing within the Province posted unpaid or not fully pre-paid—it should be observed that a letter passes either as pre-paid at 3 cents per $\frac{1}{2}$ oz., on condition that the whole postage due be fully pre-paid—or at 5 cents per $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. if posted unpaid, or only partly pre-paid—in the latter case the full rate at 5 cents per $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. will be marked, and a deduction made therefrom of the amount which may have been paid—thus on an ounce letter pre-paid 3 cents only—the rate will be 10 cents and crediting the 3 cents paid—7 cents will remain to be charged, and collected on delivery.

The object of the 5 cent unpaid rate is to induce pre-payment, and thereby relieve the Post Office from costs and trouble of account and collection, but this object is equally defeated whether the letter be wholly unpaid, or but partially pre-paid—and therefore the 5 cent rate applies to the whole charge upon the letter in both cases.

The charge on local or drop letters, viz., letters posted at an office in Canada for delivery from that office is one cent for each letter, which must be pre-paid, or the letter will be sent to the dead letter office for return to the writer.

The charge on letters delivered by letter-carriers in Canada, is two cents for each letter in addition to the ordinary postage.

The rate of postage on letters to Prince Edward Island is 3 cents per $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. if pre-paid, and 5 cents if not pre-paid.

The rate of postage on letters to Newfoundland is 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents per $\frac{1}{2}$ oz., which must be pre-paid.

The rate of postage on letters to British Columbia and Vancouver Island is 10 cents per $\frac{1}{2}$ oz., which must be pre-paid. This rate covers the letter to San Francisco only; there will be an additional charge on delivery.

The rate of postage on letters to Red River, via the United States, is 6 cents per $\frac{1}{2}$ oz., which must be pre-paid by postage stamp.

The rate of postage on letters between any place in Canada and any place in the United States, is 6 cents per $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. if pre-paid, and 10 cents per $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. if not pre-paid.

Upon a letter or packet, of any weight, addressed to the United States, the whole postage or none at all should be pre-paid. If anything less than the whole is pre-paid no account is taken of it, and it is entirely lost to the sender.

The scale of weight under which the above letters are charged is the same as the scale under which letters, passing between places in Canada, are rated.

The single rate of postage on letters between any place in Canada and any place in the United Kingdom, is as follows:

By Canadian Steamer, sailing every Saturday from Quebec in Summer, and from Portland in Winter, and from Halifax fortnightly, 6 cents per $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce.

By Steamer, sailing from New-York every Wednesday, 8 cents.

Letters addressed to the United Kingdom, and forwarded by either of the above routes, will be charged according to the following scale:

Letters not over $\frac{1}{2}$ an oz., 1 rate.

Letters more than $\frac{1}{2}$ oz., and not ex. 1 oz. 2 rates
 " " 1 oz., " 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. 3 rates.

And so on, adding one rate for every additional half ounce or fraction of a half ounce.

The postage on all letters posted in Canada for the United Kingdom, and in the United Kingdom for Canada, should be pre-paid.

If sent unpaid 3d. sterling will be charged on each letter, on delivery, in addition to the ordinary postage rate.

Letters posted in the United Kingdom, for Canada, unless specially addressed "By Canadian Steamer," or "By Cunard Steamer," are despatched in the first mail that is made up—whether for Canadian or Cunard line—after the letter is posted, so that letters intended for the Canadian Packets must either be posted on the proper days for the Canadian Packet Mails, or bear the words "By Canadian Mail Steamer," on the address. In like manner letters posted in Canada for the United Kingdom should be addressed "By Canadian Packet" or "via New York." If for the latter route the additional postage 2 cents per half oz. should be added to the ordinary rate of 6 cents.

Three cents will be charged on the delivery of letters which have been forwarded as above by Cunard Steamer, but on which 3d. sterling or 6 cents only per $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. have been pre-paid.

The charge on dead letters, returned to the writers, is five cents on each letter in addition to the postage.

Soldier's and Seamen's Letters—non-commissioned officers embodied pensioners, seamen and soldiers, and army schoolmasters of all but first class, while they are employed in Her Majesty's Service, can send and receive letters at the rate of 2 cents each, under the following regulations:

1. The two cents must be paid by postage stamp at the time the letter is posted.
2. The name of the soldier or sailor, his class or description, and the name of his ship, corps, or detachment to which he belongs, must be specified in the direction of the letter; and in the case of letters sent by soldiers or seamen, the officer in command must sign his name and specify his rank, and the name of the ship or regiment, corps or detachment, which he commands.
3. The letter must not exceed half an ounce in weight.
4. The letter must refer solely to the private affairs of the soldier or seaman.

All the foregoing descriptions must be fully written in the address in the following form, the initials of the name of any ships or regiments being insufficient:

SEAMAN.	SOLDIERS.
From A. B.—Seaman of H. M. S. _____ (Insert direction of Letter.)	From A. B.—Sergeant. _____ Regt. _____ (Insert direction of Letter.)
C. D., Captain or other commanding officer. H. M. S. _____	C. D.—Colonel, or other commanding officer. _____ Regt. _____
To A. B.—Seaman, H. M. S. _____ (Direction to be finished.)	To A. B.—Private, Sergt. or Corp'l. _____ Regt. _____ (Direction to be finished.)

Letters for soldiers or seamen may be forwarded at the above rate to or through any country requiring the payment of any foreign or transit rate, but subject to the payment of such foreign or transit rate as may be chargeable thereon.

Soldiers' and seamen's letters are not liable to any additional rate on re-direction.

All soldiers' and seamen's letters are conveyed between Canada and the United Kingdom by the Canadian line of steamers.

Letters sent by commissioned or warrant officers, midshipmen or masters' mates, engineers, gunners, boatswains or carpenters in the navy, captains, clerks, or first class schoolmasters, or commissioned or warrant officers in the army, are not included in the privilege attached to letters of soldiers and seamen, but are chargeable with the same rates as ordinary letters.

Soldiers' and seamen's letters posted in Canada without compliance with the above regulations are liable to full postage.

ago. If posted in accordance with the above regulations, but without pre-payment of 2 cents, they are liable to a charge of 2d. sterling on delivery in the United Kingdom.

Soldiers' letters; and those of non-commissioned officers and privates of the Volunteer Militia of Canada when on active service posted and addressed to places in Canada, pass under the above regulations at the reduced rate of 2 cents.

Rules of Postage on Newspapers—The law declares that for post office purposes a newspaper shall be held to mean a periodical published not less frequently than once in each week, and containing notices of passing events, that is to say, general news.

Although provision is made for forwarding newspapers through the post, it is not compulsory on any one to employ this mode of transmission; everything except letters may be sent in any other way.

A newspaper to pass at the undermentioned rates is subject to the following restrictions:

1. It must have no cover, or a cover open at both ends.
2. It must not contain any enclosure.
3. It must have no writing or mark thereon but the name and address of the person to whom it is sent, nor anything on the cover except such name and address.

Newspapers which are not posted in accordance with these regulations are not forwarded but are sent to the Dead Letter office and destroyed.

An extra newspaper, or a supplement to a newspaper, is deemed a distinct newspaper, and charged accordingly.

Newspapers published in the Dominion may be sent by post from the office of publication to any place in Canada at the following rates, if paid quarterly in advance, either by the publisher at the post office where the papers are posted, or by the subscriber at the post office where the papers are delivered.

A paper published 6 times per week,	30	cts.	per	quarter
"	3	"	15	"
"	2	"	10	"
"	1	"	5	"

When the above rates are not paid in advance by either the publisher or subscriber, the papers are charged 1 cent each on delivery.

It is not necessary that the commuted rate on newspapers should be paid absolutely on the first day of each quarter. The regulation is intended to be carried out with all due consideration for the convenience of the public, and it will be sufficient if the person desiring to pay the commuted rate declares his intention and offers the payment when first calling at the office within a reasonable time after the commencement of the quarter; but after having made his option to pre-pay the commuted charge, or to pay for his papers as received at 1 cent each, as the case may be, postmasters are not expected to alter their newspaper accounts to allow of a change until the commencement of the next quarter.

The commuted rate of payment cannot be accepted from new subscribers during a quarter for any unexpired period of the quarter.

Newspapers published in Canada, which are not posted from the office of publication, must be pre-paid 2 cents each by postage stamp, otherwise they will not be forwarded, but be sent to the Dead Letter office and destroyed. Papers of this class are termed "Transient Newspapers."

Publishers of newspapers in Canada are allowed to enclose in copies of their papers sent to subscribers, subscription accounts and receipts for the same without rendering them liable to any additional postage.

Packets of unbound newspapers published in Canada may be returned by a subscriber to the office of publication at the rate of 2 cents per 8 oz. or fraction of 8 oz., which must be pre-paid.

Transient newspapers addressed to the United States must be pre-paid 2 cents each newspaper by postage stamp, otherwise they will not be forwarded, but be sent to the Dead Letter office and destroyed.

Transient newspapers posted in the United States and addressed to Canada, are liable to 2 cents each on delivery. The stamp paid on these papers indicates that the United States postage only has been re-paid, the Canadian rate of 2 cents remaining to be collected.

American newspapers posted or re-posted in Canada except by news agents to regular subscribers must be pre-paid 2 cents each, by stamp, otherwise they will not be forwarded.

The option of paying the commuted rate on newspapers does not apply to papers published in the United States; papers addressed to regular subscribers must be paid for at the full rate of 1 cent each.

Canadian news agents and booksellers may post American newspapers unpaid, when addressed to regular subscribers in the Province; but such newspapers are chargeable, on delivery, with 1 cent each.

Newspapers posted in Canada and addressed to the United Kingdom must be pre-paid by stamp, 2 cents each newspaper.

It is forbidden by the regulations of the British Post Office to send through the post, at newspaper rate, any newspaper bearing more than one address. Persons sending newspapers to the United Kingdom from Canada should be careful to cut off the ordinary printed address pasted upon newspapers sent to subscribers in Canada from the office of publication, as any paper having thereon such printed address in addition to that of the party for whom it is intended will be sent to the English Dead Letter office.

When two or more newspapers are enclosed under one cover, postage must be pre-paid by stamp at the rate of 2 cents for each news, sheet, or the package will be detained and sent to the Dead Letter office.

Newspapers forwarded by Canadian Steamer are delivered in the United Kingdom without additional charge.

Newspapers forwarded by Steamer from New York are liable, on delivery, in the United Kingdom, to one penny each, being the American transit rate.

Newspapers posted in the United Kingdom for Canada should, if forwarded by Canadian Steamer, be pre-paid one penny each, by stamp. They are subject, on delivery, to no additional charge.

If to be forwarded by Canadian Steamer they should be pre-paid two pence each, or they will be kept for the Canadian Packet.

British newspapers re-posted in Canada must be pre-paid 2 cents each by stamp.

British newspapers distributed to regular subscribers by Canadian booksellers or agents, pass free in the same way as if received by the Canadian Steamers.

Canadian newspapers addressed from the office of publication to subscribers in the United States, the United Kingdom, Lower Provinces, &c., may be forwarded on pre-payment of the commuted rate applicable to subscribers within the Province; but they cannot be forwarded if unpaid. Care should be taken to see that such newspapers are properly stamped at the Post Office where posted "Prepaid by Publisher," as they are in the absence of such stamp liable to be mistaken for unpaid papers, and to be detained accordingly.

Exchange papers passing between publishers in Canada and between publishers in Canada and publishers in the United States, are carried free through the post.

No newspaper, properly so called (except exchanges), whether devoted to education, temperance, medicine, or to any branch of science, is entitled to exemption from charge.

Newspapers addressed to Newfoundland and must be pre-paid 2 cents each, by stamp.

No United States newspapers of any kind or description (with the exception of exchange papers) are on any ground entitled to pass through the Canadian mails free of postage.

In cities and towns where newspapers are published, the printers and publishers should send them to the post office put up in a manner to admit of their being readily counted, and, if necessary, withdrawn from their covers for examination. The newspapers for each office also should be made up in strong paper in a separate parcel, which should be plainly addressed to.

When the numbers of a newspaper published in Canada, or in any of the other British North American Provinces, or in the United States, and issued daily, shall have remained in a post office in Canada uncalled for during two weeks; or of a newspaper issued semi-weekly, or tri-weekly, during three weeks; or of a newspaper issued weekly, during one month; and of a monthly periodical during two months, or when such newspapers and periodicals have been refused to be taken by the party to whom addressed, the postmaster is instructed to notify the respective publishers in the proper form, which is to pass free of postage. If the newspaper or periodical continue to arrive after the notice has been sent, the postmaster is instructed to notify the publisher in the same way a second time, specially calling his attention to the first notice.

To enclose a letter, or any writing, or to make any written marks to serve the purposes of a letter, or to enclose any other thing (except publishers' accounts and receipts, as before mentioned) in a newspaper posted to pass as a news-place in the United Kingdom, are liable to a rate of 2 cents each, which must be pre-paid by stamp, when sent singly; when, however, sent in packages to one address, they pass at book rates.

Priees current enclosed in envelopes sealed or unsealed are by the regulations of the Imperial post office liable to letter postage.

Lithographed letters and circulars are allowed to pass through the Post at the same rate as printed circulars.

Printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament and Colonial Legislatures pass to and from the United Kingdom at the ordinary book post charge.

Parcel Post.—Parcels closed at the ends and sides, and not exceeding 3 lbs. in weight, may be posted at any post office in the Dominion, addressed to any other post office in Canada, at the following rates:

For each parcel weighing not more than 8 oz. 12½ cents.
 Exceeding 8 oz. and not exceeding 1 lb. 25 “
 Exceeding 1 lb. and not exceeding 1½ lb. 37½ “ and so on up to the limit of 3 lbs.

The following conditions must be carefully observed:

1. No letter or letters shall be enclosed.
 2. The parcel shall not contain any explosive substance, glass, liquids or other matter likely to injure the ordinary contents of the mail.

3. The weight of the parcel shall not exceed 3 lbs., nor the size exceed one foot in length or breadth, or six inches in thickness.

4. The postage must be pre-paid by stamps.

5. The parcel should have the words “By Parcel Post” plainly written on the address. It should be well and strongly put up, and be legibly addressed to the post office address of the intended receiver, the name of the County in which the said office is situated being added.

If the name and address of the sender be written on the parcel, it will, if delivery should fail from any cause, be returned from the Dead Letter office unopened to the sender on payment of an additional rate for the return conveyance.

If the number of stamps affixed to a parcel be insufficient to pre-pay the proper rate, the amount deficient will be rated unpaid, with a fine of 12½ cents in addition.

Parcels may be registered, on pre-payment, by stamps, of five cents in addition to the postage. When registered, the postmaster should give a receipt to the party posting the parcel.

Parcels sent by post may contain books, daguerreotypes, photographs, printers' proofs and copy, military returns, statements and rolls, containing written figures and signatures; returns, deeds, legal papers, and all transmissions of a like character not being strictly letters.

To enclose a letter or letters, or any writing intended to serve the purpose of a letter, in a parcel intended for the Parcel Post, is a misdemeanor.

Should it be ascertained that a packet posted for the Parcel Post contains a letter or letters, the stamps it may bear will be cancelled, and the parcel rated as a letter with full unpaid rates.

Parcels cannot be transmitted by post at the above rates to any place beyond the limits of the Dominion of Canada.

The following is an example of the address recommended:

By Parcel Post.
 Mr. Thomas Jones,
 Paisley,
 County of Bruce.

Sent by William Smith, Toronto.

Franking and Free Letters.—The following matter is exempt from Canadian Postage.

All letters and other mailable matter addressed to or sent by the Governor General of Canada.

All letters or other mailable matter addressed to or sent by any department of the Government at the seat of Government at Ottawa, under such regulations as may from time to time be made by the Governor General in Council.

All letters and other mailable matter addressed to or sent by the Speaker or Chief Clerk of the Senate or of the House of Commons, or to or by any member of either House at the seat of Government, during any Session of the Parliament; or addressed to any of the members or officers in this section mentioned, at the seat of Government as aforesaid, during the ten days next before the meeting of Parliament.

All public documents and printed papers sent by the Speaker or Chief Clerk of the Senate or of the House of Commons, to any member of either House, during the recess of Parliament.

All papers printed by order of either House, sent by members of either House, during the recess of Parliament.

Petitions and addresses to either of the Provincial Legislatures of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, or to any branch thereof, and votes, proceedings and other papers printed by any such Legislature, or any branch thereof, during any session thereof, provided such petitions and addresses, votes, proceedings and other papers, are sent without covers or in covers open at the ends or sides, and contain no letter or written communication to serve the purpose of a letter.

Letters and other mailable matter (except that provided for as above) addressed to or sent by the Provincial Governments or Legislatures of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia will be liable to the ordinary rates of postage.

Public documents and printed papers sent under the foregoing clauses, should bear, as part of the address, the bona fide superscription of the Speaker, Chief Clerk, or officer specially deputed for this purpose, to act for those functionaries, or of the member sending the same.

All letters and other mailable matter to and from the Postmaster General and the Deputy Postmaster General; and all official communications to and from the Post Office Department, and to and from the Post Office Inspectors, are to pass free of Canada postage.

Abating and Refunding Postage.—Postmasters in Canada are allowed to refund postage in the following cases, only:—

Letters originating and for delivery in Canada, charged as weighing more than the actual weight.

Postage incorrectly charged on editors' notices addressed to publishers and editors, and exchange papers, which should legally pass without charge.

All other claims for the return and abatement of postage must be specially referred to the Postmaster General for his decision, with the letter or packet on which the return is claimed.

Undelivered and Dead Letters.—All letters remaining undelivered in the post office on the first of each month, excepting drop letters and such letters as are daily called for, are advertised in a list posted at the office door for the information of the public.

If a newspaper is published in the neighborhood, the Postmaster is, at the discretion of the Postmaster General, directed to insert this list therein, provided the proprietor will give it insertion at the authorized rate.

Parties applying at an office for advertised letters should always ask for them as such.

Letters and papers after remaining undelivered in an office for two months are sent to the Dead Letter office, as also are all letters refused by the person to whom they are addressed, or letters addressed to persons deceased.

Letters are opened in the Dead Letter office in order that they may, when necessary, be returned to the writers; but no Postmaster is at liberty to return a letter to the writer direct. All undelivered correspondence must be sent to the Dead Letter office.

Registration.—By the pre-payment of the following fee, in addition to the ordinary postage, letters and parcels can be registered at the office at which posted:

On letters addressed to any place in Canada or the other British North American Provinces	2 cents.
On letters addressed to any place in the United States	5 “
On letters addressed to any place in the United Kingdom	8 “
On books addressed to any place in the United Kingdom	8 “
On parcels to any part of the Dominion	5 “

The registration fees on letters to British colonies and foreign countries will be found in the tables.

Every letter or parcel containing value should be marked for registration and presented to the Postmaster or his clerk, and a receipt obtained therefor. On no account should it be dropped into a letter box.

When letters are registered, both the postage and the registration fee must in all cases be pre-paid.

Books, periodicals, newspapers, circulars, and other printed matter cannot be registered (except books addressed to the United Kingdom) unless pre-paid the full letter rates, in addition to the ordinary registration fee.

Registered letters and packets can only be delivered to the parties to whom they are addressed or to their order; and a receipt must be given on the delivery of each registered letter in a book kept by every Postmaster for that purpose.

It should be clearly understood that the post office is not responsible for the safe delivery of a registered letter or parcel. The registration simply makes its transmission more secure, by rendering it practicable to trace it, when passing from one place to another in Canada, from its receipt to its delivery; and when addressed from any place in Canada to any place in the United States, the United Kingdom, or parts abroad, if not to its delivery, at least to the frontier or port of despatch.

Postage Stamps.—Every Postmaster is required to have on hand a sufficient stock of postage stamps, and to sell them to the public at $\frac{1}{2}$ cent, 1 cent, 3 cents, 6 cents, and 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents, each.

The Department has discontinued the supply of stamped envelopes.

Under the authority of the Postmaster General, postage stamps are sold to certain dealers in the principal cities to retail again to the public, but no person other than a Postmaster, can sell postage stamps unless duly licensed to do so by the Postmaster General under a penalty of $40 for each offence.

Pre-payment of letters should, in all cases where practicable, be made by postage stamps.

A mutilated stamp, or a stamp cut in half, is not recognised in pre-payment of postage.

A medallion stamp cannot be accepted in pre-payment of postage separate from the envelope of which it may have formed a part.

No British stamps, or stamps of a foreign country, can be received in pre-payment of postage in Canada.

In affixing the stamp to the letter, wet slightly the corner of the envelope and the gummed side of the stamp, and gently press the stamp until it is firmly fixed. Stamps should be placed on the front or address side of the letter, and on the right hand upper corner.

Letters cannot be pre-paid partly in stamps and partly in money; the postage must be pre-paid either wholly in stamps or wholly in money.

If the stamps affixed to a letter addressed to any place in British North America be not adequate to the proper postage, the letter is rated with an amount equal to the deficiency; the whole postage being calculated at the unpaid rate, e. g. a single letter pre-paid 1 cent would be rated 4 cents additional; a double letter pre-paid 5 cents only would be rated 5 cents additional.

Letters addressed to the United States, on which stamps are affixed representing less than the amount of postage to which the letters are liable, are rated with full unpaid postage.

Postage stamps are received at all post offices in payment of postage on unpaid letters delivered therefrom.

Postage Rates on certain Miscellaneous Matter passing within the Province of Canada, or to and from the United States.

1. Packages of seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, and scions, or grafts, may be posted in Canada for delivery within the Province or to an address within the United States, on pre-payment by postage stamps of a rate of 1 cent per ounce; and when received from the United States to any place in Canada, such packages may be delivered on payment by the person addressed, of a like rate.

2. The limit of weight for such packages will be one pound. No communication, whether written or printed, must be enclosed in them; and they must be so put up as to be easy of examination, for the purpose of verifying the alleged contents. If put up in bags bag must be simply tied at the neck, so as to admit of inspection; and in the case of such package, mailed in Canada, the nature of the contents, such as "seeds," "roots," &c., as the case may be, must be marked on the package by the sender, as a statement of the same to pass at the reduced rate above mentioned.

3. Book manuscript, and printers' proof sheets (whether corrected or not) maps, prints, drawings, engravings, photographs, when not on glass, or in cases containing glass, and sheet music (whether printed or written), may pass in covers open at the end or sides, and provided that no letter or other communication intended to serve the purpose of a letter, be enclosed therein, on pre-payment, when posted in Canada, by postage stamp of the ordinary printed matter rate of 1 cent per ounce; or upon payment of that rate on delivery of such matter when received in the mails from the United States.

Transmission of Patterns of Merchandise and Samples between Canada and the United Kingdom, and certain other countries.

4. Patterns of merchandise and samples may be forwarded between Canada and the United Kingdom, and Denmark, France, Italy, Belgium, and the German States by the Canadian packet mails, at book-post rates, and subject to the following conditions:

A. The patterns or samples must not be of any intrinsic value; and this rule excludes all articles of a saleable nature, and whatever may have a value of its own, apart from its mere use as a pattern; nor must the quantity of any material or article sent as a pattern or sample be so great that it could have on this ground an intrinsic value.

On this point an explanation in a subsequent Department Order, appears as follows:

B. It has hitherto formed part of the Imperial post office regulations that "samples or patterns must not be of intrinsic value," but in consequence of the difficulty that has been experienced in determining what is, and what is not, a pattern or sample of merchandise of intrinsic value, this prohibition has been removed.

The modification is a verbal one, and will not alter nor enlarge in any way, the character of the transmission permitted to pass by pattern post.

The special prohibition as to intrinsic value has, it is understood, been withdrawn, not because the question of value will not still influence a decision as to whether an article offered for transmission by pattern post is a genuine commercial sample (or pattern) or not, but because as a general proviso it could not well be enforced; inasmuch as every article, whether properly a pattern or sample or not, has necessarily more or less of an intrinsic value, and might be held to be amenable to a strict construction of this prohibitory clause in the regulation.

C. The patterns, &c., must be sent in covers open at the ends, so as to be easy of examination. Samples, however, of seeds, drugs, and such like, which cannot be sent in open covers, may be enclosed in bags of linen or other material, simply tied at the neck; or, provided that bags be transparent, they may be entirely closed, if they are for delivery within the United Kingdom. Bags, however, entirely closed, even though they be transparent, must not be used for the transmission of seeds to foreign parts.

D. The rule which prohibited the transmission through the post, as patterns, of articles of cutlery, &c., has been rescinded; and scissors, knives, razors, forks, steel pens, nails, keys, watch machinery, metal tubing, pieces of metal or ore, and such like articles, are now allowed to be forwarded by the post as samples, provided they be packed and guarded in so secure a manner as to afford complete protection to the contents of the mail bags, and to the persons of the officers of the post office. Such articles, however, must be so packed that they may be easily examined; and it is made a rule that any packet containing such articles, which may be found to be insufficiently guarded, shall not be forwarded through the post.

The limits of weight are as follows:

If for Canada.....	24 oz.
" United Kingdom.....	24 "
" France.....	36 "
" Germany.....	8 "
" Kingdom of Italy.....	36 "
" Belgium.....	8 "
" Netherlands.....	16 "
" Portugal, Azores, and Madeira.....	16 "
" Denmark.....	48 "
" Switzerland.....	48 "

A packet of patterns or samples sent to France or Portugal must not exceed 18 inches in length, 12 inches in width or depth; a packet to any other place abroad must not exceed 24 inches in length or 12 inches in breadth or depth.

None of the articles named in the rule D. may be sent as patterns or samples to any place abroad, except Germany,

Belgium, and the British colonies, and not to these places when addressed "via France."

There must be no writing or printing other than the address of the person for whom the packet is intended, the manufacturers or trade mark and number, and the price of the article.

Any infringement of the above regulations will render the packet liable to be treated and charged as a letter.

MONEY ORDERS.

Post offices in Canada at which money orders are issued and paid, are distinguished in the list of Post Offices by being printed in italics.

Every money order office in Canada issues money orders on every other money order office in Canada as well as on every money order office in the United Kingdom. Every money order office in the United Kingdom also issues money orders on every money order office in Canada.

MONEY ORDERS IN ONTARIO AND QUEBEC.

All the money order Post Offices in Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick are authorized to draw money orders on each other for any sum up to $100, and for as many orders of $100 each, as the applicant may require, upon the following terms, viz., in Ontario and Quebec:

On Orders up to $10.....	5 cents.
" over $10 and up to $20.....	10 "
" over $20 " $40.....	20 "
" over $40 " $60.....	30 "
" over $60 " $80.....	40 "
" over $80 " $100.....	50 "

MONEY ORDERS ON THE UNITED KINGDOM.

The money order offices throughout the Dominion also draw upon all the money order offices in England, Ireland and Scotland, and the Channel Islands, for any sum up to £10 sterling, and grant as many orders for £10 sterling each, as may be needed to make up the amount to be remitted. The terms are as under:

On Orders up to £2.....	25 cents.
" over £2 and up to £5.....	50 "
" over £5 " £7.....	75 "
" over £7 " £10.....	$1.00.

MONEY ORDERS ON THE LOWER PROVINCES.

The money order offices in Ontario, Quebec, and New Brunswick draw also upon all money order offices in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, and Newfoundland. The orders, like those of the United Kingdom, are made payable in sterling money, and for sums up to £10 sterling. The terms are:

For orders on Nova Scotia the same rates of commission as upon money orders drawn by Ontario or Quebec upon offices within those provinces.

For money orders on the other provinces the terms are:
For orders up to £5, 25 cents.

" over £5 and up to £10, 50 cents.

No half cents can be introduced into orders.

No money order exceeding $100 in amount can be granted on any office in Canada; but Postmasters are at liberty to grant two or more orders for $100 or for any lesser sum.—They cannot, however, grant two or more orders for sums of or under $30 on the same day to the same applicant in favor of the same payee.

Tables showing the amount of Provincial currency required for money orders issued in Canada upon the United Kingdom, in addition to the commission, and for money orders issued in the United Kingdom upon Canada will be found subjoined.

Applicants for money orders should always use the printed application forms, in which they should fill up the particulars of the order required. These forms are supplied gratuitously at all money order offices.

The Christian and surnames in full, and residences, both of the remitter and payee, should be furnished to the issuing postmaster. When a married woman is either the remitter or payee, her own Christian name should be given, and not that of her husband, thus—

"Mrs. Mary Smith," not "Mrs. John Smith."

If the remitter or payee be a Peer or a Bishop, his ordinary title is sufficient. If a firm, the usual designation of such firm will suffice, such as "Baring Bros.," "Smith & Son," "Jones & Co."

Parties procuring money orders should examine them carefully to see that they are properly filled up and stamped. This caution will appear the more necessary when it is understood that any important defect in these respects will throw difficulties in the way of payment.

Money orders, which, in consequence of misapprehension of the name of the remitter or place of payment, have been erroneously made out, can be returned to the postmaster and a correct order given in exchange; a new commission, however, will be charged on the corrected order.

Parties obtaining money orders on Canadian offices, can procure re-payment thereof on presentation of the order at the office at which it was issued, signing the receipt at the foot. No order, however, can be re-paid without the authority of the superintendent, unless presented for re-payment on the day on which it is issued. Neither can orders on the United Kingdom be re-paid without his special authority.

When a remitter desires an order on the United Kingdom to be paid through a bank, it is left to his option to give or withhold the name of the payee, or to substitute for the name of the payee any other designation or modification, such as "the Cashier of the bank of England," or the chief Clerk of the Foreign Office." Such orders must, however, be crossed by the issuing postmaster with the name of the bank through which the order is to be paid.

The issue of money orders on credit, or for cheques not marked "good" by the bank drawn upon, is strictly prohibited.

If a payee is unable to write, he must sign the receipt at the foot of the order, in the presence of the paying postmaster, by making his mark, to be witnessed in writing; as for example

His
Witness—John Kenny, Joseph J. Allen.
Queen Street, Toronto. Mark.

In cases of money orders issued in Canada, postmasters are at liberty to accept the written order of the payee on the order itself in favor of a second person, if through illness or insuperable difficulty the payee is prevented from presenting the order in person.

When a Canadian money order has been lost, either by the remitter or payee, the circumstance must be made known to the superintendent, who, under certain precautions, will issue a duplicate.

Duplicates of sterling orders can only be granted by the paying country. Thus the British post office issues duplicates of orders drawn in Canada on the United Kingdom, and the Canadian Head Money Office grants duplicates of orders drawn in the United Kingdom on Canada.

Money orders which are not presented until one full year after their date are considered as lapsed orders, and cannot be paid without the special permission of the superintendent. In all such cases satisfactory reasons should be given explanatory of the delay in the presentation of the order.

The Deputy Postmasters General of Malta and Gibraltar are authorized to issue money orders on the several money order offices in Canada. Money order offices in Canada do not, however, grant money orders on Malta and Gibraltar.

Amount in Currency to be paid in Canada for Money Orders drawn in Canada on the United Kingdom, and for Money Orders drawn in the United Kingdom on Canada, from 1d. Sterling to 5s. Sterling.

cents; exceeding £2 and not exceeding £5, 50 cents; exceeding £5 and not exceeding £7, 75 cents; exceeding £7, and not exceeding £10, $1.00.

N. B.—The Currency amount to be added for any broken sum between the pounds Sterling, viz., from £1 to £5, will of course be taken from the scale above. Thus for an Order of £3 18s. 11. Sterling; £3 is $14.60; and, for 18s. 11d., $4.60, which will give the full value of the Order, viz., $19.20.

POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANKS.

The Postmaster-General will receive at any of the Post Office Savings Banks, deposits paid to the postmasters by persons wishing to place their money in the Government Savings Banks.

2. The direct security of the Dominion is given by the Statute for all deposits made.

3. At each Post Office Savings Bank, the Savings Bank regulations may be read by the public, giving full information with respect to the mode of depositing and withdrawing money, and these regulations are printed on the cover of the pass-book supplied to each depositor.

4. Any person may have a deposit account, and deposits will be received daily, during the ordinary hours of post office business, of any number of dollars, from $1 up to $300, the total amount which can be received from a depositor in any one year, except in cases to be specially authorized by the Postmaster-General.

5. The postmasters of the offices named will act as agents for the receipt of the money deposited for transmission to the Postmaster-General, and for the payment by the Postmaster-General of money withdrawn by depositors.

6. Each depositor will be supplied with a pass-book, and the sums paid in, or withdrawn, will be entered therein by the postmaster receiving or paying the same. In addition, a direct receipt for each amount paid in will be sent to the depositor from the Postmaster-General, and the Postmaster-General will issue a cheque payable at any Post Office Savings Bank desired, for any sum withdrawn.

7. Every depositor's account will thus be kept with the Postmaster-General, and a depositor may pay into his or her account with the Post Office Savings Bank, at any of the Savings Bank Post Offices which at the time may best suit his convenience, and may exercise the same choice in drawing out money, subject only to the obligation of producing the pass-book, in proof of identity—whenever paying in or drawing out money.

8. Interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum will be allowed on deposits lying in the ordinary deposit accounts, but when a depositor has $100 deposited he or she may request the Postmaster-General to transfer this sum to a special account, and will then receive certificate of such special $100 deposit bearing interest at 5 per cent. per annum.

9. Postmasters are forbidden by law to disclose the name of any depositor, or the amount of any sum deposited or withdrawn.

10. No charge will be made to depositors on paying in or drawing out money, nor for postage on communication with the Postmaster-General in relation thereto.

11. The Postmaster-General will be always ready to receive and attend to all applications, complaints, or other communications addressed to him by depositors or others, relative to Post Office Savings Bank matters.

12. A List of the Post Office Savings Banks in Canada, may be seen by the public at any Post Office in Canada.

BILL STAMPS.

Bill stamps—Are distributed for sale very generally throughout the Post Offices in the Province: these stamps are of various values from 1 cent upwards. Bill Stamps cannot be used in pre-payment of postage.

Law Stamps—Are also for sale at the principal Post Offices in Lower Canada.

General regulations—Postmasters and certain other officers of the department are exempt from serving on juries or inquests. This exemption applies to mail carriers, but not to assistants appointed and paid by postmasters.

Postmasters are not authorized to give credit for postage, if they do so it is entirely at their own risk.

A letter once posted becomes the property of the person to whom it is addressed, and must be forwarded according to its direction. On no application, however urgent, can it be delivered back to the writer, or to any other person.

A letter addressed to a firm may be delivered to any member of the firm. If addressed to several persons, it may be delivered to any one of them.

A letter delivered to the wrong person in consequence of his name being the same as that of the person for whom the letter is really intended, should be at once returned to the postmaster from whom received, the party writing on the cover "opened by me through mistake," and signing his name thereto.

Letters posted without any direction, or addressed so imperfectly that they cannot be forwarded to their intended destinations, and also unpaid or insufficiently paid letters addressed to countries to which letters cannot be sent without the postage is pre-paid, are returned to the writers through the Dead Letter office.

No information can be given respecting letters which pass through a post office except to the person to whom they are addressed.

Parties desiring their letters and papers to be re-directed should send an intimation to that effect, in writing, to the postmaster of the office from which letters and papers are to be re-directed.

Postmasters are allowed to re-direct letters to the known places of residence of the parties to whom they are addressed, after allowing a reasonable time to elapse without their being called for.

Letters and papers are not subject to any additional charge when re-directed from one post office in Canada to another post office in Canada.

Postmasters are instructed not to receive any letter or packet which there is good reason to believe contains glass or anything likely to injure the contents of the mail bag or the person of any officer of the post office.

The transmission of indecent photographs or prints, and immoral books, papers or publications through the Post is strictly prohibited, and all packets containing such articles should be stopped and sent to the Postmaster-General.

A postmaster is not legally bound to furnish change; but may require that the exact amount of postage on any letter or packet be tendered to him in current coin, or in Canada postage stamps.

Postmasters and their assistants, in the above matter, as well as in all their official intercourse with the public, are expected to afford every accommodation, and to treat every person having business at their offices with the utmost courtesy.

Letters cannot be delivered at any intermediate office en route, but must be conveyed to the office to which they are addressed.

TRADE.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

The trade and navigation returns of the Dominion for the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1869, were laid before Parliament, in March, 1870.

The comparative statement given below shows a falling off in the value of goods entered for consumption to the amount of $4,583,136, the figures being as follows:

In 1867-8.....	$71,985,306
1868-9.....	67,402,170

This amount is made up as follows:

Deficiency in Dutiable Goods.....	$2,586,354
Free Goods.....	1,346,991
Coin and Bullion.....	647,918
Foreign Reprints of British Copy-rights.....	1,873
Value.....	$4,583,136

The articles subject to ad valorem duties upon which the largest amounts of deficiency are observable as regards the value of importations, are the following, viz:

Woolens—imported in 1868-9—less than in 1867-8.....	$944,779
Manufactures of leather.....	160,702
Hides.....	87,208
Saddlery.....	87,612
Sole and upper leather.....	86,218
Small wares.....	80,773
Paper and paper hangings.....	33,025
Silks, velvets, &c.....	32,230
Unenumerated articles.....	74,218

Representing duties to the amount of $244,910.15. The importations of tea, sugar, cane, juice, and wines in 1869-9, also fell short of the importations of the preceding year, as follows:

	Value.	Duty.
Tea....Decrease in 1868-69.....	$202,458	$26,934
Sugar... " " ".....	238,375	Increase, 58,549
Wine... " " ".....	161,859	17,134

The returns show a falling off also in the importation of spirits of all kinds and manufactured tobacco, the former to the extent of 94 per cent, the latter to about 27 per cent.

1867-8.....	$1,135,732.	$105,814
1868-9.....	812,882.	78,078

Spirits of all kinds	Tobacco and Snuff
Loss in 1869.....	Duty. $27,139
	Duty. $32,899

The general decrease in revenue is also in part accounted for by the exemption of Indian corn from duty under an Order of Council of 24th January, 1868, and the repeal of the duties on flour and meal in the same year.

In 1867-8—Duty collected on Indian corn.....	$97,940
Flour and meal....	39,775

1868-9 " " ".....	137,679
Indian corn.	2,241

Loss by change in the law..... $136,438

Add to this—Deficiencies referred to above, viz:

On spirits.....	$22,899
On tobacco.....	27,136
On woolens and the other articles hereinbefore mentioned.....	244,910

Showing an aggregate falling off on the goods named, $730,383. As a set off against the decrease here shown, an aggregate increase of revenue amounting to $225,319 is found to have taken place on the importation in 1868-9 over 1867-8, of the following articles, viz:

Cottons, malt, meats, ale and beer, fancy goods, stained window glass, hats, caps, and bonnets, locomotive engines and railroads, manufactures of caoutchouc and India rubber, manufactures of fur, machinery, rectified oils, printed books, and iron.

The statement appended giving a comparative view of the Dominion as represented by the value of its Imports and Exports, shows an increase in the Exports of upwards of $2,906,888, the exact figures being for:—

1868-9.....	$60,474,781
1867-8.....	57,567,888
Increase in 1868-9.....	2,906,893

This increase is found in the Export of articles under the following general heads:

1. Produce of the mine.
2. " the forest.
3. Animals and their produce.
4. Manufactures and ships built at Quebec.

The Exports of the produce of the fisheries and of agricultural products, show a small decrease. The whole trade in Imports and Exports presents an aggregate amount of $127,876,951. In this computation taken the value of the goods entered for consumption, and not the value as shown by the column of general Imports, which there is reason to believe gives an exaggerated figure, owing to the fact that importations removed from a first port of entry to be warehoused at another, have in some instances been erroneously treated as importations at the latter port, after having been entered as such at the former.

Grand Total of Exports.....	57,568,888	60,474,781

MONTREAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY.

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

CAPITAL, - - - - $1,000,000.

HUGH ALLAN, PRESIDENT; SIR W. E. LOGAN, GEORGE W. CAMPBELL, M.D., PETER REDPATH AND ANDREW ALLAN, DIRECTORS; JAMES DAKERS, Secretary.

THIS COMPANY was organized in January 1847, with a capital of $60,000. The line extended from Toronto to Quebec, a distance of 540 miles; nine offices were opened and thirty-five persons employed. The number of messages transmitted during the first year was 33,000.

Since then the Company has, year by year, continued to extend its lines, not only in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, where nearly every village of any importance has been afforded ample telegraphic facilities, but also through the Province of New Brunswick, and in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York and Michigan, in which 110 offices are owned by this Company.

The statistics up to 30th November, 1870, shew that the Company possesses 7,800 miles of poles, 12,147 miles of wire, 640 offices, and 996 employees. Number of commercial messages sent over the lines during the year 1870, was 1,060,000. Number of words transmitted over Atlantic cable 153,092. Number of words furnished to the press upwards of 8,000,000. To give an idea of the facilities that the Company has at its command it is only necessary to mention that during the last Parliamentary Session it was customary to transmit night after night, from its office at Ottawa 20,000 to 50,000 words to the press, and on the night of 17th February, as many as 67,251 words were transmitted.

The lines of the Company begin at Sackville, N. B., and extend to Sarnia, at the outflow of Lake Huron.

They also run from the United States border to the Georgian Bay and the most northern towns of Canada.

The Company has wires along all the Railways in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, and as soon as the Intercolonial Railway is built their wires will be extended over the whole of that road.

In transmitting cable despatches they are sent direct to Sackville, N. B., the present terminus of the Company's lines, over a circuit of 750 miles.

The Company has likewise branches from Montreal working direct through its connections to the following cities in the United States:

PORTLAND, Maine,.....	300 miles.	OSWEGO, N. Y.,.....	300 miles.
BOSTON, Mass.,.....	350 "	BUFFALO, N. Y.,.....	450 "
NEW YORK, N. Y.,.....	450 "	DETROIT, Mich.,.....	550 "

During the year 1870, the Company erected 821 miles of poles, strung up 1920 miles of wire, and opened 86 new stations. In 1871 they will string an additional wire of 450 miles from Montreal to Buffalo, and have agreed to build lines through the remote districts of Bonaventure and Gaspé, which will be of great service to the fishing interest in that neighbourhood, as well as to the shipping entering the St. Lawrence.

TARIFF—25 cents for 10 words and 1 cent for additional words.

THE FOLLOWING
OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

Are a sample of the remarks with which our exchanges from one end of the Dominion to the other greet our weekly issues.

Its artistic excellence places it alongside of the standard illustrated weeklies of the world.—Montreal Daily Witness.

An excellent family paper, free from all objectionable matter.—True Witness, Montreal.

We have great pleasure in calling attention to the great improvement in the illustrations of the Canadian Illustrated News. Mr. Desbarats deserves to be assisted by the Canadian public in his costly enterprise.—The Globe, Toronto.

Such a publication should receive the hearty support of every true Canadian.—Evening Herald and Prototype, London, Ont.

No Canadian gentleman's library will be complete without this valuable paper.—Hamilton Evening Times.

The paper is so well got up that it should be supported and be in every Canadian house.—Hamilton Evening Journal.

Its engravings are very fine and its literary department complete.—Cayuga Sentinel.

It should command the support of all Canadians.—The Paris Transcript.

An illustrated paper fully equal to those of London, Paris, Berlin, or New York.—The News, St. John's and Nelsonville.

No Canadian family should be without it.—Stanstead Journal.

One of the most beautiful illustrated papers on this Continent.—Halifax Citizen.

Compares favourably both in literary and artistic excellence with any of the leading illustrated periodicals of the day.—Globe, St. John, N. B.

The merits of this admirable publication ought to, and doubtless will, ere long, secure for it a place in every family of intelligence throughout the Dominion.—Yarmouth Tribune.

Considerable ability is displayed both in the literary and artistic portions of the paper.—The Court Journal, London, Eng.

The Canadian Illustrated News is undoubtedly one of the best artistical papers published in the Colonies which we have received up to this date, and the tout ensemble does great credit both to editor and artist, on whom the task of success of so attractive a weekly depends.—European Mail, London, Eng.

This excellent weekly periodical now comes to us greatly improved in its style of illustrations. The credit of establishing a weekly newspaper, profusely and regularly illustrated by photographic plates, belongs to Canada. There is no other paper like it in the world that we know of.—Scientific American, New York.
