CAN YOU SEE THROUGH THIS?

An effort is being made to launch a new industry in our midst. It seems that many old timers find it difficult to fill in the waning hours of the evening now that the advent of cottages has eliminated the sport of shadow hunting. This pastime has certainly gone into a slump. There was a time when you could find little ever-growing groups silently watching a shadow-graph performance on almost every street. Now that is over, but it furnished the inspiration for a new invention.

Then again, a difficulty, an unpleasantness which we have suffered for years, will be removed if the promoters of the syndicate are successful. Fancy being able to acquire a beautiful tan at any given location without risk of sunburn.

Many people would enjoy bathing more if they could go swimming without getting wet, and others object to the cold water. Well, this syndicate plan to eliminate these age-old inconveniences completely.

All this is to be accomplished by one simple, yet brilliant, idea. Mr. Wallace Findlay is heading up the syndicate, which should give the ordinary investor confidence in soundness of the project and in the integrity of its management.

A production cost low enough to readily permit a handsome profit at an attractive retail price has been worked out and checked. It is sufficient to take care of satisfactory percentages for the wholesaler, the jobber and other customary merchandising channels.

A quiet yet thorough survey has given the promoters every reason to expect a ready if not an eager market.

Our extensive advertising campaign has been planned, opening with a monster parade and fashion show at all the prominent resorts, including Ward's.

It is but fair to say that one slight difficulty is in the way of immediate production. But it will readily be overcome. The directors and designers have been unable to decide on the method of fastening their garment, whether by paste, domes, hook and eye, or zipper. We understand that the syndicate units are divided into even denominations of ten dollars each, and up to and including the first of April can be bought on reasonable terms at 99% discount.

Get in on the ground floor. Send your applications to Mr. Findlay, and make your cheques payable to "The Cellophane Bathing Suit Co."

BASEBALL

Last Saturday morning Bob McCuaig, the Dingbats catcher, was rushed to Western Hospital for an abdominal operation. The boys are pulling for you, Bob, old scout.

Next Wednesday evening (July 13th) Lena Blackburne, the new Leafs' manager, and Earl Cook, Toronto rookie hurler and a product of local sandlots, will be the officials when Bill Corman's engineering nine visit Ward's. There'll be a noise that night according to the dope sheet.

Don't be shy about paying that dollar, boys. Step up to your captain and get a receipt. We have a lot of dollars already. Remember, July 15th is tag day.

Art Rogers, Otazel pitcher, turned in a nice effort against the smart Deacon team who play in the Northern City Senior League. Errors made the score altogether too one-sided.

This week the ball games have been getting under way around 8 o'clock. It's up to the captains to do some strong talking or it'll be just too bad by the first of August and the shorter evenings.

Pete, the fruit man, picks the Dingbats to win the championship. He reads the future through the hole in spaghetti.

Late drawings of players were as follows: H. Counter to Brownies, J. Filby to Otazel, B. Tasker to Dingbats, A. Lynn to Osoeze.

St. Clair United Church team will visit Ward's on Wednesday, July 20. Dave Horne, Brownies third baseman, is bringing over the churchmen.

One of two Wednesdays and Saturdays toward the end of July are still open for exhibition games, also early August. See your baseball chairman for dates.

While you are enjoying the games don't forget there are two or three willing chaps like Jack Wood and Charlie Leake who are always willing to umpire when called upon, even though it's a thankless job.

ART LYNN.

It is with deep regret we learn that Bob McCuaig underwent a very serious operation last Saturday. Here's hoping, old pal, you make a speedy recovery, as all Ward's Islanders are pulling for you. The boys on the ball field, and especially the Dingbats, are going to miss you. However, cheer up, "Big Bob"; "Little Bob" says the Dingbats will play all the harder.

MEN'S BOWLING

The opening of the schedule has again been postponed until Monday evening, through the inclement weather.

July 1st we were fortunate in being able to have our annual mixed tournament, as weather conditions were very bad in the early morning. However, a start was made at 4 p.m. 36 ladies and gentlemen participated. The winning rink turned out to be Art Saywall, who had with him Mrs. Sheppard, F. Atkins and M. J. Dedman. Second prize went to Harry Bains, skip, Mrs. Hillock, J. Hillock and F. Beard. Third prize was captured by Had Wright, skip, Miss Christman, Mr. Pike and E. Lye. Three games were played, and a very enjoyable time was spent by all.

Fees are coming in very well, and it looks as though I am not going to have any work to do this summer on the green.

The Inter-Island teams have been nearly completed. Several players who were invited to make the teams find they are not able to play. The selection includes several names who have never been in this competition before, but they should prove capable under fire. The committee overlooked my poor showing last season and have given me another chance.

Had Wright, the most consistent bowler on our island, could not be overlooked. He is a distinct asset to any rink.

Joe Minchin, last season's singles champion, earned his place on the team.

Art Saywell, a steady and heady player, has that necessary experience to include his selection. Plays his best against real players.

It is remarkable the difference in playing these games and the system used on our own green in ordinary games. We do not consider the building up of an end, which is absolutely necessary in the Inter-Island series. The play is much more systematized on a good green and can be carried out to greater advantage, but we have been handicapped by the poor condition of our green in past years. From now on, with improved conditions, we will be in a position to give more time to the finer points of the game.

The teams selected will do their best to bring that cup back to Ward's.

Charlie Downs is playing a real game at present, and it looks as though he is in for a good season.

The doubles will be in full swing next Saturday. This competition will not be allowed to drag along until Exhibition time.

There is little to report until the season is under way.

Our worthy president (Mr. Reade Davis) may find a few moments to spend on the green, and if he bowls the way he pitches horse-shoes (not to mention the way he serves up tennis) he is going to be a hard man to beat.

LADIES' BOWLING

The ladies got under way last week and had two good practice games. There was a good turnout on each occasion, and it was gratifying to see the interest displayed. There are several new members this year. Welcome!

Judging by the manner in which some of the fair sex played in the mixed tournament, July 1st, we have talent good enough to enter the Ontario Ladies' Tournament, and they would give any city rink a real battle.

Al Randall, your chairman, is showing lots of pep, and is determined to make this season a very enjoyable one for all. He was unable to participate in the tournament owing to the illness of his good wife. By the time this memo goes to press we all hope to see her in her place on the green.

There is nothing of real interest to report, but after the season has officially opened there will be much more to report.

HARRY BAINES.

MAE AND ETHYL

Dear Ethyl:

It never rains but it pours, as the saying goes. In the same mail I got your letter was one from Bertha and a premium notice for Tom's insurance. Things are getting into swing here with a vengeance. The girls are out to supervision and Junior is pretty lonely. I have to take him to the beach myself every afternoon, so I'm getting all tanned up and look like holidays, even if I haven't any.

Tom has started his fool bowling again, but, Ethyl, I put a good one over last night. Right after supper the girls skidoed and Tom got up from the table as usual and went over to the corner for a minute. That's his gag for getting out of the dishes. Well, Ethyl, I gave Junior a candy to keep him quiet for the minute, grabbed my badminton racket, and ran for the court. When Tom came back, of course, he found himself elected by acclamation, and Junior needed some attention, too.

But Ethyl, I'll have to give him credit. He never said a word about it. When I came back at dusk everything was cleaned up, Junior in bed, and he was playing bridge with three other men in the front room, so I got them some refreshments later on.

I suppose Joe has told you that he dropped in to Tom's office while he was waiting for train connections last week. Tom says he's not a bad egg at all. Quite different when he's away from his wife, imagine, Ethyl. I wonder how they spent the afternoon. Maybe you can find out, Ethyl. It looks as though they would bear watching.

Mother was over for the holiday and week-end. She just came unannounced as a surprise. I was awfully glad, because Tom spent all his time either bowling or on the beach.

There isn't so many people with maids here this year, Ethyl. Hard times, I guess. Or maybe they think it's Lent and they've got to do without something. That's what Tom says. Oh, well, Ethyl, no help for me, they're more trouble than they are worth, and Tom thinks so too.

Oh, Ethyl, I must tell you this one on Tom, it's good. Last week I had some ladies over for a picnic from the church. Tom came home early to see what was doing, I suppose. After bowing and scraping around he went into our side of the tent to change into his white clothes. One of the ladies announced she was going in to get her handkerchief and I suddenly thought of Tom and jumped in ahead of her. Sure enough there was Tom in his underwear just coming out from under the bed.

When I went out and told the girls they nearly died laughing, and Tom sneaked out the back door. Well, Ethyl, there's the boat whistling; I'd better go over and meet Tom and get something for supper at the store.

Yours till the ice breaks up,
MAE.

Some advance news as to the events on the senior field day must have leaked out. Mrs. McClure has been practicing the wheel-barrow race. Tom wouldn't help as the barrow because Mrs. Mc. had no license. If it hadn't been for the timely aid of a neighbor, well the story would be longer.

Bill Stewart wishes us to state that the big party last week was not at his tent (not this time).

COMING EVENTS

And now for a few announcements. The executive are to be congratulated on the entertainment they have secured for us already this season. We should elect them again.

Friday, July 8th—Right at the close of the ball game there will be a picture show with samples for the kids. A sleight-of-hand artist will also be on hand. Remember, seats reserved for the kids. We mean kids in years. No fooling—there will be ushers.

On Monday, July 11, at the same hour a general meeting of the Association.

On Thursday, July 14th, the Y. M. C. A. are providing an entertainment on the boxing platform. Do you remember the fun we had at this affair last year? Oscar Pearson promises it will be better still. They are good friends of ours, these Central Y. M. C. A. people.

We forgot to say that the picture show originated through Sunfish Camp.

The church service on July 24th will be a boys' service. They will have full charge of the service, and the Sunfish boys will be on hand as usual.

Once more the need of an official notice board is brought to our attention. A few more notices on the doors and the passage will be blocked. Besides, Al Randall ought to post his own notices.

All those with cups belonging to the Association kindly turn them in soon to avoid the annual rush at the close of the season.

EDITORIAL

What to write and how to write it? That is the question. We sit down to fill up this column, which many admit would be better left empty, and still our mind is blank.

The first item for discussion seems to be the special general meeting of the Association called for Monday, July 11th, at 9 p.m. The purposes of this meeting are many. It has been felt that criticisms and suggestions should be received early in the season, rather than at the end. This meeting will give ALL MEMBERS a chance to offer any helpful hints in time for them to be acted upon. Then our Constitution (good old Constitution), and the way in which it has been interpreted in the past, has led your executive into some impossible situations as regards qualifications for membership of, shall we say, semi-residents. It should be cleared up definitely at this meeting. The neat point involved seems to be whether a membership is a continual one, being renewed yearly, and thus accumulating arrears if not paid. Or is it a new membership each year, with no relationship to the past year? The point is not specifically covered in so many words, and the ruling of the executives in the past have been that if a person once qualified, became a member, and continued to pay his dues every year, he was still eligible to retain his membership, even though he was off the island for a season or so. Well, so far so good. Now, if a member doesn't keep his dues paid up, but misses a year, then he must apply for admission again the same as a newcomer to the island and, of course, must qualify under the constitution at the time of application, that is, be a bona fide resident on the island within a specified area. All that is quite clear. But some cases have been brought to the attention of your executive on which they are quite willing to act according to their best judgment, but on the principle involved they feel the opinion of the membership should be obtained.

So that you may understand the purpose of the amendment being proposed, let us set up a hypothetical case as an example of several now before your executive. Let us say a young lady boarded on the island last summer. She played tennis all season and paid her tennis fees but never paid her Association membership fee. (This might so happen, and does happen, if the chairman of the sport is not hard boiled enough to put the individuals out of the activity till they do pay.) Now then, this year she is on the island all day almost every day visiting friends and working, but she doesn't live here. She wants the privilege of playing tennis and tenders her current membership fee and tennis fee. The secretary looks up his list for last year and she wasn't a member, so he tells her she will have to apply on the regular form. She does, and her application comes up for consideration. She isn't a bona fide resident now, so her application is refused. Then she offers to pay her membership fee for last year as well as current fees. On what basis, if any, is she to be admitted?

Another amendment is being proposed to try and eliminate last minute applications. Some people do not pay their fees till the last minute before an event takes place in which they want to enter. If they can't find the secretary there is trouble. If they win a prize and their fees are not paid, it cannot be awarded. Then there is trouble, and it is all quite unnecessary. The proposed amendment requires any participant in an Association event to be a member in good standing at least two weeks before the event.

We understand also that the ladies' fees for membership and bowling are to be discussed. At the time of writing we do not know whether it will be in the form of a constitutional amendment or not. The thought is that the two fees should be reversed, that is the membership fee made $1.00 and the bowling fee 50 cents.

These are matters of obvious interest to the general membership. They should be thoroughly and intelligently discussed so that the will of the majority may govern. Think them over, get your membership card, bring it with you to the meeting so that you may both talk and vote.

Someone was peeking in the club house on Tuesday night. We got a letter in the box wanting to know why the rest of us didn't bring our knitting too. The letter reads like a dirty dig, but the fact is if the members of the executive stuck to their knitting as well as Mrs. Mullinger we would all be home earlier.

The horseshoes and quoits will be locked up in their box during the day time. Any member of that section may secure the key from Mr. Perryman, the boys' supervisor, otherwise known as "The Chief." Juniors are not allowed to use these except under supervision of "The Chief."

It has been the ambition of our honorary president to see the club house equipped with ash trays. Many times he has thrown out the hint with no results. Last week he made it a motion, and would you believe it, the motion carried. Fred Clinkett, who used to drag a cigarette, but now sucks a pipe, suggested they be tuned. Imagine tuned ash trays. So if you hear any chimes next Tuesday night you will know it is just the executive knocking out the ashes.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT Senior Field Day, Saturday, July 16

This will be the event of the season, and we don't mean maybe either. There will be races for the runners, and races for those who can't run, too. There will be an event for absolutely every senior member—whose fees are not in arrears. There will be an event also for the arm chair brigade. In fact, from a look at the programme, we don't know who is going to have the most fun, the contestants or the spectators.

Special races for the children up to 6 years of age.

Now listen, everybody out for fun from 4 to 60 or over, and bring your skates.

SOCIAL STUFF

Since there are so many summer residences being erected on "Beautiful Ward's Island," it will naturally follow that there will be a number of "house warmings," or would "house coolings," be more appropriate for a summer house.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mohun, 2 Second Street, were most pleasantly surprised on Monday evening, June 20th, when their mother, brothers, sisters, accompanying in-laws, prospective in-law and friends quietly walked in and immediately began to make everything look alive. It was the twenty-first anniversary of their wedding. The "house warming" and "house cooling" followed. If you wish to know how it was done, ask Jack Mohun.

The bride of twenty-one years was graciously remembered by the bestowing of beautiful gifts.

After partaking of a daintily prepared lunch, the company hied themselves to one of the Transportation "Expresses" and departed. It was a very enjoyable evening for all.

CHURCH NOTICE

Last Sunday, July 3rd, Dr. J. M. Waters gave us an interesting address on his experiences as a medical missionary in India, which was enjoyed by all present. Mrs. West was unable to be with us, as was announced, but may be with us at a later date.

Next Sunday, July 10th, Rev. S. T. Bartlett will preach for us. Come along and renew acquaintance with our friend who rendered such excellent service for us in years past.

Mrs. Ross, a friend of Mrs. Downs, has promised to come and sing for us.

Who said there was any depression? There are lots of people doing big business (in small potatoes)!

BADMINTON

The weather conditions, which have prevailed to date, have limited the playing of badminton to a few sets. However, now that the rain has passed away and the high winds died down, we shall expect to see the courts occupied many hours each day.

For the modest fee of 50 cents any adult member may enjoy this sport all summer.

There is a possibility of obtaining a second court should the membership attain to a sufficiently large number to warrant the purchase of extra equipment, so pay your fees now.

From time to time round robin tournaments will be held, and these will undoubtedly provide a good afternoon or evening's fun. "New birds" always add zest to the game and if you need to replenish your stock Mrs. Tasket has a small supply which you may purchase at 35c. each.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

There is a strong feeling on the part of many that this paper should be self supporting. There is only one way, and that is to make it pay to advertise in "The Weekly." If you can show a prospect that he will get results from using our paper he will advertise. Well, we do know of one man who inserted his name and business in the directory last year, and the morning after the paper came out he got six jobs to do. You can't beat that. True enough a large number of people are loyal to our advertisers. To them we say, thank you. But how about the rest of us. Almost every trade, business, profession or calling is represented on the island. Patronize those who patronize our paper. It's the same principle as the high tariff.

HORSESHOES AND QUILTS

The horseshoe and quilt courts are now in first class condition and the new floodlights were turned on for the first time Monday evening. The teams have been drawn for the doubles and play is under way. The team captained by Had Wright had the honor of winning the first game in a smartly played contest which was well punctuated by ringers.

Players are requested to refer to the notice board, where the schedules are posted, and team captains can help greatly by getting in touch with the committee when games cannot be played on the date scheduled.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Lapp wish to convey to the members of the Association their sincere appreciation for the flowers sent to their home during Mr. Lapp's illness.

TENNIS NOTES

Dominion Day Sweepstakes

When a welcome July sun emerged from the thunder clouds on July 1st, sixteen tennis players appeared on our courts in a small but exclusive sweepstakes event. Of the sixteen, five were members of the famed Sanderson family. Three of the family survived to the final round, where Doug Sanderson and Dot Wright defeated brothers Ted and Jack to win the laurels and some pocket money.

Incidentally, the winners are champions of the men's and ladies' sections, respectively, and by their early season form show that they are both going as well as ever. Nothing on the Island gives more fun for a quarter than the sweeps, so watch out for the next one.

Eddie Tolley has asked the present writer to help out with tennis notes for the Weekly, and it is not mere formality that prompts us to pay a tribute, at the start, to the way Eddie has handled the job of tennis chairman. The courts were laid out and in good shape very early this year, thanks to Eddie's hustling and ability to get the boys working. Keep up the good work, Eddie, and congratulations.

While we realize that it isn't tennis etiquette to broadcast on the courts, we do get lonely sometimes when we recall the shouts of Bill Corman and Vernie Forbes. There were no dull moments when these lads were on the courts, and very few quiet ones, either. Here's hoping they visit us sometimes this season.

Speaking of conversational tennis, we have with us George Colby and Bill Sewell. Both are fluent, and perchance one or both of them may become the official tennis broadcasters for the current season.

Reade Davis and Jack Sanderson will oppose Harold Saywell and Eddie Tolley in the final match of the men's doubles in the near future. These two teams survived after a series of matches in a large field of entries. All four played good tennis, and Reade Davis flashed some of the old time form that once marked him as a leading player in the city. In spite of threatening weather last Saturday a good brand of tennis was played in the annual doubles event, which furnished a good afternoon of sport to all contenders.

The Inter-Island series will be played as usual this season, and Ward's will not dominate the events as easily as in the past. After winning the championship shield for three years, we lost out to the Island Aquatic last season. Our friends from Centre are particularly strong this year, but if we muster our best players, should have more than an even chance of bringing the silverware back to Reade Davis' clubhouse.

The past success of our club in Inter-Island tennis has been due in no small measure to the play of our ladies. We need them more than ever this year, not only for our competitive games, but to furnish the decorative touch at the nets and on the sidelines. If any of the girls feel that their game is not fast enough, come out anyways; you are all welcome, and Ted Sanderson has volunteered to teach any young lady his bullet service, or, for that matter, anything she would like to learn—about tennis, of course.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Oscar Pearson and his "gang" of athletes from Central "Y" will be with us again on Thursday evening, July 14th. Some of Toronto's best amateur wrestlers, boxers, tumblers and high bar men will be seen in action. Phil Lawson, Central's 135-lb. Ontario champion, is lining up a strong wrestling card, including Jim Allen, former 158-lb. Canadian champion, and Johnnie Murray, 158-lb. city champion. Charlie Murray, boxing coach at Central, has promised three rattling good fights, while the high bar exhibition will be in charge of Bob Bonney, a former British Olympic champion. "Pep" Perryment, our own boys' work director, will have the Munday Brothers in a high class tumbling act, as well as some of our own lads.

All of the performers are giving their services free, and it is hoped that a substantial sum will again be realized for charity. Reserved seats will be on sale early next week at 50 cents per seat. See George Counter. The proceeds are to be divided equally between the Star Fresh Air Fund, the Telegram Tubercular Veterans' Fund, and Bolton Camp.

On Saturday, July 9th, there will be held a small bazaar in the park in aid of the Star Fresh Air Fund. It will be opened at 12.30 p.m. It will be in charge of Dorothy Jean Carmichael, Ruth Thompson and Peggy Knox.

(Ed. Note—We found the above in our box, and we were also waited upon by a deputation of three fine little girls. We cannot add anything to their appeal except to urge you to get out and patronize them. We saw some of their wares, and our advice is to get out early.)
