CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Assembled from All Over the World

IT'S new and thrilling every year—the thought of choosing Christmas gifts. Probably you are already making enthusiastic plans for gift-giving . . . jotting down names on your long, long list . . . wondering what each would like best . . . asking diplomatic questions about secret wishes.

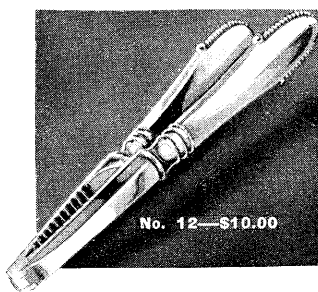

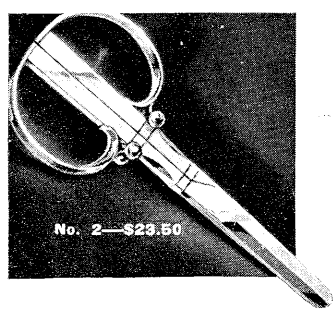

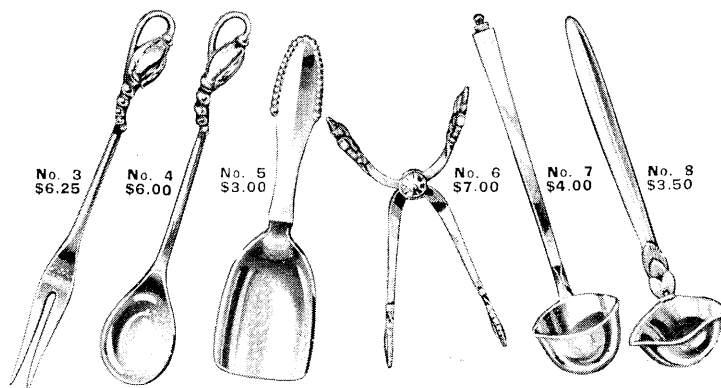

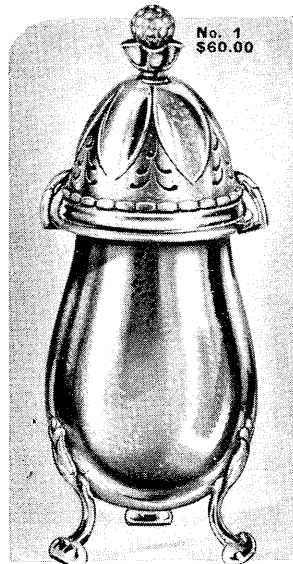

Hoping to help and likewise share in your "treasure hunt," we bring you this small Christmas book, crowded to its slim margins with gifts. . . And, ah, but there's a world of romance in this same little book! . . . Doesn't it enthrall you to know that four continents and some dozen countries have had a share in producing the lovely things it pictures? Staunch old England, gay France, clever Germany, artistic Italy. . . Belgium making glass for you, Japan sending cultured pearls, Denmark bequeathing Jensen silver, South Africa contributing gorgeous diamonds, China sending things of brass, the States adding costume jewellery, and Canada making everything from books to fine jewellery.

With this small booklet by your side through the Christmas season, you might easily do your shopping by telephone, or mail. . . To simplify such shopping, remember, when ordering, to mention the number of any article desired and the page on which it appears.

Mail Orders should be addressed to Eaton's Shopping Service.
